

Had Marijuana In Glen Cemetery

Five young people appeared before Judge M. J. Cloney, on Monday, charged in connection with drugs at Glen Williams Cemetery.

Three pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana. The charges against the other two were dismissed.

A check by two OPP officers of two cars parked in the cemetery turned up three bags of plant-like substance and three home-made cigarettes.

MARIJUANA

Analysis showed the bag and cigarettes to contain a total of 24.6 grams of marijuana.

Pleading guilty were truck drivers from Glen Williams and Georgetown and an unemployed secretary living in Stouartown.

RCMP Cpl. Wilbert Hilland who took over the case from North Halton OPP told the court he handles all drug cases in this area.

He said the marijuana would be valued at $34 on the market.

Judge Cloney fined the two men $300 each and the girl $150.

Guest Speaker Paints Demonstrates

A meeting of Beta Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, was held at the home of Dorothy Currie, on November 17.

Plans were made for the chapter's rummage sale, which was held November 21, 1970, at the arena. With Christmas approaching, tentative arrangements were made for the preparation of a Christmas basket.

The girls' annual Christmas dinner will be held on Dec. 10.

The cultural program for the evening was Drama, given by Mrs. J. Ellis, Mrs. R. Lewis, and Mrs. H. MacLaughlin. A guest speaker, Mr. Frank Black, well known Georgetown artist, demonstrated his talents by doing a full painting from a sketch he had made at a farm in the Georgetown area. Mr. Black discussed the different techniques used by artists and he answered many questions from his attentive listeners.

Refreshments were served, rounding out a most interesting and enjoyable evening.
