JANINE PROUSE REAPS POSTER AWARDS

Top prize winners in Halton County Fire Prevention Bureau's 14th annual poster competition were Frank Pecora of Oakville and Janine Prouse of Georgetown's Howard Wrigglesworth Public School. Frank and Janine were guests of honor at a bureau banquet held in Milton last week when desk pen sets, certificates and large school trophies were presented. Here they show off the awards to Ontario Fire Marshal Martin S. Hurst, who was banquet speaker.

JUMP, PANTSUITS DOMINATE AT SORORITY FASHION SHOW

by Catherine Ford
A black crepe jumpsuit stole the show Friday night as it slithered and slinked across the room. One moment elegant, looking like an evening gown, the next move sexy, it was the hit attraction at the Beta Sigma Phi Zeta Phi Chapter's fashion show held at Holy Cross Church auditorium.

The sleeveless jumpsuit, with a scoop neckline was accented with a crepe and pearl-fringed bolero jacket. Only slightly behind in popularity was a black velvet mid-dress trimmed with white vinyl accented with a white vinyl belt featuring a huge buckle. The round necked, long sleeved dress zipped up the front in one of this year's most popular looks.

Pantsuits predominated the show and one evening outfit was truly elegant, in a blue and silver beige-flecked brocade. The maxi coat closed with a silver frog at the empire waist, fell to the floor revealing beige crepe evening pants.

Only one mini skirt was shown amid a wealth of below event. The knee fashions, including the latest rypsy look.

Even the children's fashions were predominately the pant and tunic or jumpsuit look. The fashion show attended by at least 140 people, followed dinner, and was the first public event sponsored by the sorority chapter, organized only this September.

SORORITY COLOURS
The church auditorium was decorated in the sorority colours, black and gold, yellow roses, the chapter's flower and yellow candles decorated the tables.

A group of Canadian manufacturers, organized under the name of Luncheon of Canada, produced a sumptuous dinner, featuring Canadian products. After dinner, the guests were treated to samples of the featured products, and others produced by the companies.

Mrs. Dorothy McCarthy, chapter vice president, said grace and Mrs. Pauline Hughes, as the official chapter hostess welcomed the guests. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Lois Rogers were organizers of the event.

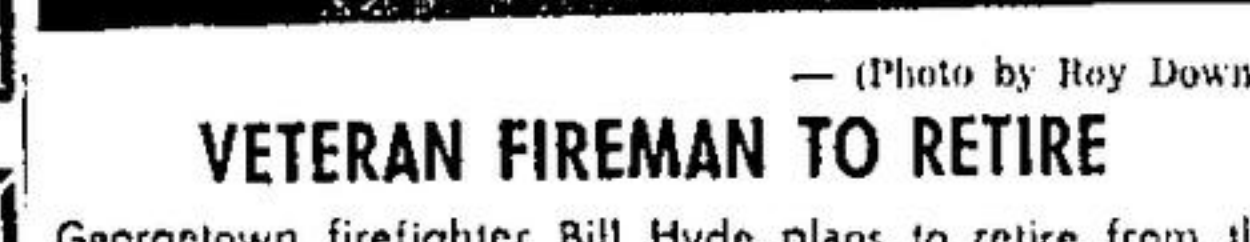

The professional commentary for the fashion show was done
