NORTH HALTON CURLING NEWS

Many Seasonal Winners Take Home Curling Prizes

The ladies' section Wednesday afternoons have been curling the first draw just to get into shape for things to come.

Last week's ladies curled for their Christmas cheer. The winning rink included: Ev Wingrove, Jean Mackenzie, Audrey Maki and Noreen Mielch. Second prize: table wine, was won by Shirley Crichton, Joy Noble, L. Moorefield, and Lois Makovnyk.

This Saturday, there was an open turkey bonspiel. Don't forget that you're welcome at the club any Saturday night to an informal social evening.

Last Sunday, the Legion curlers played three zone finals at the rink.

Last Saturday our turkey bonspiel was oversubscribed, so rather than disappoint the six North Halton rinks, the bonspiel committee made another draw.

One game was played late Saturday night, the other two Sunday morning. In the Saturday bonspiel, first prize went to the Mayotte rink from Dixie, 2nd prize to Jeff Duck and his rink of Don Humberstone, Paul Barber, and Peter Mann of North Halton. Third prize went to the Hoshal rink of Lesaside. This was on the nine o'clock draw. Eleven o'clock draw winners were all from out of town.

In our late draw Saturday night and Sunday the winners were: Doug Ellis first, Roger Levesque second and Lee Synnnes third. All these winners won't have to worry about Christmas dinner with the size of turkey we saw them carting home.

Moving to the ladies' section, all the draws of last week played their last game for Christmas cheer. Following is a list of all the winners throughout the week.

This coming Saturday is our annual wine and cheese party. This is our first big dress up affair before our New Year's Eve party. Come on out. For just $2 per person there's dancing and drink of all the wine and cheese you can sample throughout the evening. Paul Skinner and his crew put on a real spread so don't disappoint him. See you there, O.K.?

One thing! Have you made reservations for New Year's yet? If not, join us at the Club.

LACK LIGHTS, CHANGE ROOM BASEBALL CLUB WILL FOLD

Georgetown Baseball Association won't fund an intermediate baseball team next season.

The decision was made at a meeting of the re-organized Association, December 8. This year the Intermediate Giants who represent Georgetown in the Halton Intermediate Baseball League, lost money and finished at the bottom of the heap.

NO LIGHTS
Lack of a field illumination system and change rooms are two big voids here. Without lights, the local games started while most potential fans were still eating dinner. Teams coming from out of town had to use cars for changing into uniform.

"When we have facilities in the park we hope again to field a team to represent Georgetown in the Halton County Baseball Association," new president George C. Townsend commented.

THREE BECOME ONE
The new Georgetown Baseball Association is an amalgamation of the former three local baseball clubs.

The executive thanked Sid Gray, former president of house league baseball who has stepped down. The house league grew from 10 teams in 1969 to 17 teams in 1970.

Bill Richmond, who stepped down as president of the Georgetown Baseball Association is staying on as executive member and will coach a team in 1971.

Defer Decision On Trailer Park

A proposed tent and trailer park off highway 7 near Cedar Springs Motel, was opposed by Esqueusing council, until the Planning Act and Zoning bylaw goes into effect.

Owners Bela and Maria Hegedus had approached the Department of Tourism and Information, who in turn, wrote council saying the plans met with their regulations, and they would be compelled to issue a permit unless there was a municipal by-law prohibiting it.

Deputy Reeve Tom Hill said the Planning Board did not want to make a decision until the official plan is approved.

BAGS WESTERN GOOSE QUOTA IN TWO DAYS

Christmas is near once again, it's a happy time for some and a sad one for others. Some people, especially children receive so much and others so little. Christmas is a time to give more than to receive.

The above brings back to my memory a song my mother played on the organ years ago. It was a sad song about a boy who delivered papers.

On the outside cover of the sheet of music was a picture of a young boy with a bag full of papers over his shoulder, tears were in his eyes. He was standing in front of a large window that was all lit up with Christmas decorations; a huge tree could be seen inside. He could see children holding hockey sticks and different other gifts.

The name of the sheet of music is faint in my memory. Some of the words were "If I only had a home sweet home and a mommy and daddy like other children have."

So at Christmas if we can make a boy or girl happy, especially like the one on that sheet of music we will be doing something worthwhile.

Perhaps the above is out of place in an outdoor column. But how many readers will disagree.

WESTERN GOOSE SHOOT
Joe Oranobuk of R. R. 4, Brampton, decided to hunt geese in Saskatchewan this year with his cousin Ted Hnatuk who is an expert guide and lives in Saskatchewan.

The goose shooting took place 100 miles southwest of Saskatoon.

Joe and Ted did their shooting from pits. They shot the safe way sitting or standing back to back from the pit.

They managed to bag their limit of Canada geese. One monster weighed 14 lbs. It was probably one of the giant Canada's that the Dept. of Lands and Forests is trying to bring back in quantity.

Normally it requires 4 or 5 days to bag one's limit. Joe and Ted shot their count in two days. Other species of geese that were seen were, white fronts or speckled bellies and lesser snow geese.

To quote Joe "It was a good year for geese. Thousands were seen by Joe and Ted"

Joe and Ted also accounted for several prairie chicken and sharp tail grouse.

Joe flew from Malton to Saskatoon. He is an electronics technician at Abitibi Provincial Paper in Georgetown.

NO TURKEY FOR BILL
Bill Hatch of R. R. 2, Georgetown is flying to Halifax for Christmas to visit his parents.

Bill, like me is a lover of sea food. He informed me in a teasing way that the freezer his parents have is loaded with fresh salmon, lobster, and venison. So — I can picture what Bill will have for his Christmas dinner.
