

PLAN COMPETITION DESIGN FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD CREST

Halt County board of education will hold a contest for a design of a board crest. The suggestion was made at a board meeting by trustee William Priestner as one of the board's aims and objectives for 1971.

However board members agreed that a crest should be designed this year and that a contest was a good method of getting one.

DISASTROUS

He was referring to the question of regional government for this area. There is a possibility that Halton County might be broken into a regional government setup. This could mean Burlington would join a metro Hamilton region, while Halton joined a Halton - Peel region.

In briefs to the provincial government (which has delayed a decision on regional government for this area) the board has said that splitting the newly-formed Halton education area would be disastrous.

COULD BE EXCITING
Trustee Fred Arnitage agreed with Priestner's suggestion and said the board should hold a competition for its arts students to design a crest. "It could be very exciting," he said.
