

Nine Raiders Surrender 9-6 To Dunnville Sunday Night

Before Georgetown Raiders start whipping the teams they have to beat to win a playoff berth with any consistency they're going to have to whip a problem that threatens to keep them anchored in the OHA Intermediate A league cellar.

Absenteeism is eating away at the club like a corrosion.

Sunday night, Raiders could have bettered themselves at the expense of a not overpowering Dunnville club but had to deliver a 9-6 victory to the visitors because the extra bodies on their bench totalled three.

Since the campaign started Raiders have had some players pack it in including R. Lane, L. Doucette, Jack Davidson among others so even a full complement of players would result in a shorter bench than most. Missing Sunday were George Workman, Don Currie, Doug Selby, Don Norton and Terry Holmes.

Raiders made a determined effort to catch Dunnville in the 3rd period with a three goal explosion in less than three minutes but the rally was shut off with two minutes left.

Georgetown scored the game's first goal, but the lead disappeared six minutes later and was never regained.

The clubs were knotted 2-2 at the end of the first period which Georgetown dominated. Dunnville scored the only second period goal, and at one point in the third had a 9-3 cushion.

AL STITT

Junior Tibbetts, the best of the Raider crop Sunday night, scored twice, as did Steve Blundy. Doug Lucas' persistence paid off with a goal and Al Blair continued to show his value to the team adding a goal.

Al Stitt helped four goals take shape, Blair had two assists, Blake Inglis two, and Lucas and big Neil Cotton one each.

Dunnville spread their scoring points around Tom Schofield was the only three goal man while Bill Reynolds, Pete Verweergart, Bill Vaughn, Dave Green, Glen Cryder and Fred Murphy contributed single goals.

Both teams played it gentle. Just five minor penalty calls were split Dunnville three and Raiders two.

Midget Crown to Barrie Fleming Trophy Winner

Barrie won the Grand Championship and Chinguacousy took the consolation title at Georgetown Minor Hockey Support Group's fifth annual Midget Hockey Tournament which climaxed Sunday.

COUNT SHOTS

Clarkson gained the Grand Championship final by squeaking over Acton who failed to show for the first round game.

Earlier they edged Etobicoke 2-1, after gaining a win by default over Acton who failed to show for the first round game.

The fans also saw goaltending in the consolation showdown where Chinguacousy's goalie employed heroes to lead his club to a 3-1 triumph over Brampton.

Barrie had just too much punch for Clarkson who baffled three other entries with superlative netminding to gain the final. The outcome was Barrie 4 Clarkson 1.

Barrie had ended Georgetown's hopes in the semi final Saturday 5-2, and bounced Burlington 4-1 and Brampton 2-1 in the first two rounds.

Barrie captain Brian Kinsella displays the Centennial Midget Hockey Tournament Trophy his club won Sunday with the tournament grand championship. Kinsella was named the tourney's Most Valuable Player.

consu in the consolation semi-Chinguacousy gained a default win over Acton Saturday morning, and entered the consolation round by having to Etobicoke 7-6 Tuesday.

Brampton's road to the final was paved with a 3-1 win over Drifflin in the semi-final, a default win over Waterloo, and an opening round 2-1 loss to the eventual grand champions, Barrie.

GAINED SHUTOUT

Georgetown, one of the favourites to win the title and Centennial trophy, started in great fashion beating Toronto Huskies 7-0, Friday. They handled Guelph 4-1, Saturday morning before bumping into Barrie.

A Georgetown player, Craig Fleming, was awarded the trophy for best combining sportsmanship and ability.

The tournament MVP trophy went to Barrie's captain Brian Kinsella.

Bad travelling weather hampered things. However, despite the Tuesday night blizzard Clarkson, Chinguacousy, and Etobicoke showed up and Acton was the only club unable to make it.

FILLED IN

Acton also defaulted Saturday morning, and Waterloo didn't show up Saturday.

Ajax had to pull out because of their playoff schedule, but Dundas leaped at a chance to get off the waiting list and filled in.

Timekeepers were also faced with operating without a clock after Tuesday night when the arena's illuminated timer went on strike.

MVP and sportsmanlike awards were handled by selection committees of the Minor Hockey Support Group and referees respectively. Bob McMenemy was also on the MVP judging group.

FIVE DAYS

This is the first year that the Midget tournament has stretched over a five day schedule. Games were played Tuesday night, Thursday night, Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

Since Centennial Year the tournament has operated annually under a committee of the Georgetown Minor Hockey Support Group under Earl Neil.

Senior High School Cagers Reap Three Wins in New Loop

Georgetown and Milton traded victories in a Midget-Junior basketball double header here Friday.

In the Midget contest, Georgetown were a little late getting on the scoreboard, but once they found the range came on strong. Unfortunately for them Milton Mustangs were just too hot and claimed a 53-29 win.

The junior game was a different story. Milton appeared over confident and were surprised when the Georgetown live settled down to play some serious ball to soundly defeat the visitors 41-23.

Top scorer for the Junior Rebs was Peter Lauderdale with 18 points.

TWO OF THREE

Seniors, Juniors and Midgets were in action January 22 in Junior teams manufactured Oakville-Trafalgar and came away with two wins.

Midgets, winless in three starts to this point, put it all together and came up with their first victory 34-26. Sam it as Mustangs surged to a Waldrum paced Rebs scores 42-19 triumph.

with 14 points.

Though they got the short end of the score Georgetown Juniors played one of their best games in losing 82-40. Oakville-Trafalgar's 6' 7" centre played a big part in the locals' frustration. Doug Getty, at centre, turned in one of his best games but the height difference kept him from being more effective.

PROVE POINT

Georgetown Seniors were out to prove to Oakville-Trafalgar that it was just a fluke that Blakelock beat them and succeeded with a 64-45 win.

Top scorer for the Senior Rebs was Gig Hillcock with 12 points. It was the Seniors' 3rd win against one loss.

Milton Mustang Midget and Junior teams manufactured wins over Georgetown in Milton, January 20.

SAME PATTERN
The Junior game followed the same pattern with Georgetown ahead 20-16 at the half. They held Milton to just two points in the third quarter but miscues in the fourth led to a Milton 57-37 win.

Rebel teams were at White Oaks last night, and play in Blakelock High Friday. The next home games are February 10 when Oakville-Trafalgar visits. NORTH HALTON CURLING NEWS

by Tracey Barrager and June Magnuson

Fun and Family Day Was a Curling First

Last Saturday's Fun and Family Day is now history. It was another first for the curling section of North Halton and hopefully will be an annual event.

There was some confusion but mainly it was a well run day. The weatherman cooperated in supplying a clear, cold day — but that wind was something else.

There were a lot of new faces around the old clubhouse, and this in itself is a good sign. Approximately 130 people came back for the supper, curling and dancing. The music was supplied by the club's tape cassette.

One suggestion is that we begin to build a good library of tapes to maintain a good selection of dance music.

Friday, February 5 sees the Ladies' Seven Year Filly Open Bunspliel at North Halton, and on Saturday, February 6th the men's steak and mushrooms open spiel.

Glen's Rally Late to Salvage Playoff Tie

North Halton scored the last three goals in the game to rob Norval of an upset win in the first game of their Georgetown Industrial Hockey League semi-final series, Sunday.

Norval scored twice in the third to build a 6-5 lead only to have Gudzeon, Hay and Lane turn it around and make an 8-6 final.

North Halton outscored Norval 3-2 in the first period. The teams added two goals each in the second.

SEE-SAW

In the see-saw struggle North Halton led 5-2 at one point and allowed four straight goals to fall behind 6-5.

Hay scored three, Gudzeon and Lane two, and Lavell one for the winners.

Norval also had a three goal center in Bennett, Bradley, Graham and Grady notched the others.

COME BACK

Mac's Milk blanked Glen Williams in the third period and scored three times to salvage a 3-0 tie with the Glen in the opening game of their set.

The Glen had produced one goal in the first period, and two more in the second to take a 3-0 edge into the third.

Allenson, Hills and Cooper were the Glen's snipers. Boyce, Engleby and Goddard pulled the milkmen even.

BLISS BANTS DROP FIRST IN OVERTIME

Georgetown's E. W. Bliss Bantams dropped the first game of their playoff final with Chinguacousy 5-4 in Chinguacousy, Sunday. At stake is the Tri-County Bantam A division championship.

The tight game was decided in overtime after the teams finished regulation time deadlocked 4-4.

Dean Popiel scored two goals and Gary McFadyen and Tom Fugley one each for Georgetown. Tom Fendley, Blake Shortall and Bill Kirby assisted.

THIRTY-THREE ACCIDENTS

Thirty three accidents involving damage over $200 were investigated by Georgetown police during December.
