In addition a session on sensitivity training and group dynamics was conducted by Susan Butcher, a member of the Clairmont Experiment.

An art workshop was in session and all the machine shops were open for use by anyone under the supervision of a teacher.

Jim Forbes showed how "Found Art" the assembling of welded sculpture from pieces of scrap is carried out.

Jam sessions rent the air of the cafeteria most of the day and films were shown continuously.

Thirteen films, covering poetry to pollution were entitled, The Dove; The Railroad; The Rise and Fall of the Great Lakes; Bethune; Imperial Sunset; Thursday's Children; Popen; Carousal; The Half Mast Schooner; Le Chien Analo; The City and the Future; The City as Man's Home; and The City-Cars or People.

All day the gyms were in use with basketball, trampoline, gymnastics and badminton.
