

Should be no 'Nothing To Do' Complaints Now

The young people should not complain about having nothing to do this summer, since the Recreation Committee has opened up the high school for an eight week program starting June 28 and finishing August 20.

Lew Martin, high school physical education teacher, and coach of the prize winning wrestling team will supervise the program with two other adult supervisors.

ALL TASTES

The gym, the cafeteria, and the art rooms will each have events going to cater to all tastes, not just the athletically minded. There will be sports, of course, but in addition there will be discussion groups, cultural interests perhaps a drama club, and program patterned on 'Under Attack.'

The cafeteria will be the games room, with cards, games, and if someone will donate an old pool table and ping-pong table, they will also be available.

SOME UNSCHEDULED

Friday nights a dance will be held one week and the next week a show is planned. From 1 p.m. till 5 p.m. the school is open to anyone 12 years of age and over, and in the evening from 7 till 10:30 p.m. it is open to anyone 15 and over.

60% of the program will be scheduled activities, and the remainder will be unscheduled.

The Halton County Board of Education is enthusiastic about having the schools used as community centres, but any damage or vandalism could result in their being closed, so warns Recreation Director Doug Collison.

121 Convictions Registered in Friday's Traffic Court

Two convictions were registered and $185 in fines imposed in Georgetown criminal court Tuesday. The convictions were registered under the Criminal Code and Liquor Control Act. The fines were $150 and $35 respectively.

Eighteen persons were charged and 43 charges were on the docket, put two charges were withdrawn or dismissed and 44 charges were remanded to a future court.

Judge James Black was on the bench and F. Leitch was acting Crown Attorney.

121 CONVICTIONS

In a traffic court here Friday, 121 persons were convicted and fines totalled $2,940. Most of it was under the Highways Traffic Act but $74 of it was for by-law infractions.

Ten of the convictions were under by-law, and 102 traffic. In all there were 138 traffic charges and 19 by-law, but 28 charges were withdrawn or dismissed and six cases remanded.

HEAVY DOCKETS

Since Georgetown court started here April 6 there have been 41 convictions registered in Criminal Court and 178 in Traffic Court. Fines have totalled $6,543.

There have been as many as 185 charges on a single Traffic Court docket. Largest docket in Criminal Court to date has been 48 charges.

Antique Weapons Interesting Draw 2500 to Show

Lee Magloughlin of Georgetown, president of the Halton Antique Arms Collectors, is enthusiastic about the way interest in old weapons collections is swelling.

"It's catching on like a house afire," Magloughlin commented at the club's anniversary show in Acton arena, Sunday. "We have about 300 displays here today. Almost all the rink space is in use."

About 2,500 people visited the show, biggest and most successful since the collectors opened shop one year ago.

"Certainly, our most successful show yet, secretary Rupert chimed in. And we're a year old, almost to the day. There are people here from as far away as British Columbia."

The Vancouverites, Bill and Mrs. McCallum beamed behind a gun display near the rink in behind-goal position (hockey season set-up).

Don Galloway, Scarborough, scored with his special display of Winchester, Harold Sleeths, Yorkshire husband and Canadian wife team were back again from Brantford.

The saxophone got its name from its inventor, Adolphe Sax.

MOVE OUT DAY FOR DISCARDS

Mark Osborne and Herman Vieira of the town works staff get set to give the heave-ho to a washer set out for pickup during Saturday's bulky junk day, which concluded the town's week-long Green Up. Washers, bathtubs, barbecues, lawnmowers, and all kinds of furniture were carried to the dump in a steady procession of town vehicles, private trucks and station wagons.

... BUT SOME LITTER SURVIVES "GREEN-UP"

This is not a "before" picture. It was taken near the corner of Delrex and Mountainview after the town wide cleanup and litter chase was over, which just goes to prove the best way to make the town attractive is to not throw the litter in the first place.

Nursery for Retarded Handicapped Okayed

The North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded received the go-ahead from Esqueping council, Monday night to hold a nursery school for retarded and handicapped children in the recreation room of the addition to the A.R.C. Industries building in the old Hornby school.

They were not so lucky with the request for a grant of 20% of maintenance costs, council decided they would have to know the exact costs before coming to any decision.

Mrs. Jennie Kuiken told council the ages would vary from 18 months to five years, with a few older children who had never been reached before being trained before attending Sunshine School.

"They should be home with their mother at that age," Cr. Wilfrid Leslie remarked.

Mrs. Kuiken explained that the earlier a retarded or handicapped child is trained the better success. "It is almost impossible for the mother at home to do this, especially if she has other children," replied Mrs. Kuiken.

The reeve said they would look into the grant structure, but they could not stop them going ahead on their own, since there was no change in the land use.

Operated Home Farm Warwick Coupland Dies

Edgar Warwick Coupland, second son of the late Charles and Jane Coupland, died suddenly at his home at Norval on Thursday, May 13. He was in his 58th year, born of July 28, 1912, on a farm on the town line north of the village on what is now Upper Canada College property.

He attended school at Norval and farmed all his life on the home farm. His main interest in life was being a good neighbour. He was a member of the first committee to form Scouts and Guides in the village. He was an Anglican.

He is survived by two brothers and one sister, the Rev. Robert Coupland of Kingsville, Mary (Mrs. James E. Maxwell) and Roy Coupland, both of Hornby.

The funeral was held on Saturday, May 15 at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home, Georgetown. The service was conducted by his brother-in-law, Canon James E. Maxwell of St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Hornby, assisted by his brother the Rev. Robert Coupland of Kingsville.

Fallbearers were Walter Woolston, Orval Shea, Herbert Roshier, Gordon Sharpe, Bruce Miller and Phillip Wilson. Interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery, Norval.
