

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

BY BILL COATS

When you are in an impossible contract you might as well grasp at straws as sit there and go down quietly. Here is a hand where two declarers got to slam missing two aces. I know they should not get there but one at least could have made his contract. Here are the cards.

West dealt with both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
S-Q J
H-A Q 9
D-K J 9
C-A 8 7 3 2

EAST
S-A 3
H-8 4 3
D-10 8 5 4
C-K J 6 4

SOUTH
S-K 10 9 8 7 6 5
H-K 10 7 6
D-Q 2
C-Void

The bidding:
WEST NORTH SOUTH EAST
Pass 1NT Pass 4S
Pass 6S All Pass

Opening lead - 4 of spades
I certainly cannot agree with the bidding but North is almost right. If South had a diamond void instead of a club void it would help. North should respect South's jump to game and should not bid on. North has described his hand with his opening bid. If anyone bids slam it should be South.

PASSIVE DEFENSE
West should have led his diamond ace but realizing that

Georgetown Student Among First Trinity Christian Graduates

Miss Lucy Adema, a resident of Georgetown, was a member of the first graduating class of Trinity Christian College. Miss Adema graduated with a major in Sociology. The commencement exercises were held on May 15, in the Palos Heights Christian Reformed Church.

The graduating class of one hundred and one students received bachelor of arts degrees in a variety of areas, including the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences. Dr. Joel Noderhood, radio minister of the Chicago-based Back to God Hour, delivered the commencement address. He called attention to the fact that it takes a mature Christian community to support an institution of Christian higher education. The liturgy included in the graduation ceremony also linked Trinity's growth with its loyal Christian supporters.

South had a distributional hand, he decided to use a passive defense, and led a trump. East is also afraid to guess which suit to lead, so he won the trick and returned a trump.

At this point, declarer can make his contract. His only hope is to establish the club suit. In order to do this, the opponents' club must be split four-four (as they are). Declarer must ruff three clubs and get to dummy to cash the last two clubs. In order to do this he must find four entries to dummy.

WILL GRAB ACE
The spade suit has one, and the hearts have two entries. He cannot lead diamonds for the defense will grab their ace. The only other possible entry is heart nine and declarer must play for the jack on side.

At trick three a club is ruffed. A heart to the ace is followed by another club ruff. A heart to the nine wins and declarer is in dummy for the third club ruff. Now dummy's heart queen get declarer to dummy for the fourth time.

PARKING SPACE
The club ace clears the suit while declarer discards a diamond, and dummy's last club is the parking space for the other diamond. A finesse of the heart jack may sound rather desperate but if it's the only way to make the contract it must be taken.

Winners last week at Acton bridge club: 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Syd Heller; 2nd (tie), Mrs. Betty Ashley and Mrs. Kay Campbell, Harry Arbic and Bill Coats.
