

Jacob-Baxter Wedding Is a Family Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Joseph Jacob and wedding party.

Married in St. Andrew's United Church on May 22, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Joseph Jacob left for New Brunswick last week. They will be making their home in Slemogue, where Mr. Jacob is starting up his own carpentry and boat building business.

Rev. Kelvin Johnston officiated at the marriage and the church was decorated with standards of white daisies and pink gladioli.

The bride wore a long gown of deep flamingo pink peau de sole, with deep pink and silver lace sleeves, collar and trim. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white daisies, lily-of-the-valley and pink sweet peas.

Her matron of honour, Mrs. Maureen Sewell, was in floor length ice green peau de sole and carried a nosegay of spring flowers, pink daisies, lily-of-the-valley, sweet peas and purple violets.

The bride, Carol Elizabeth (McDonald) Baxter of 80 Duncan Drive, is the widow of F.O. E. D. Baxter, killed in an Air Canada DC-8 crash at Ste. Therese, Quebec in 1963.

The wedding was a 'family affair.'

Catherine and Nora Baxter, daughters of the bride, and Monique Jacob, who is the groom's daughter were junior bridesmaids. They were similarly gowned to the matron of honour - long gowns of ice green peau de sole with sleeves of matching green flowered embossed lace. They carried baskets of spring flowers.

Rejean Benoit was groomsmen.

The bride was given in marriage by her eldest son David; sons Paul and Michael were ushers; and youngest son Desmond was ring bearer.

A reception was held in Sacre Coeur parish hall, catered by Mrs. Emilie Lachance. Wedding guests included several friends from the Toronto Single Parents Association, where the couple met two years ago.

Can't Find Answers by Dropping Out

8 Lewis Street.

Mr. Editor:

"There is a place for you to stand

As time passes us by and as we are influenced and changed by the changing times, and as we see our fellow men fall as a result of the pressures of life, we can't help but wonder where we fit in. More specifically, where do I fit in?

What will I be when I grow up? I hope it is something good. Don't we all?

Life's answers, of course are not always available; but, there is one thing for sure: if we don't look for them we shall never find them.

We don't find them by dropping out - that's for sure!

There are many different ways a person can go about finding answers - some try to find them in a bottle, some through drugs, some by professional guidance, and others by simply talking to a friend. Many of these people do find the answers to their problems; but, some do not and probably never will, unless they are willing to go to the proper source.

I am not one of those people who pretend to be without problems. Nor do I profess to have all the answers; but, one thing I do know - and that is how to go about finding them. I have an idea, that you may be thinking that I am some sort of religious fanatic. No, I am not a religious fanatic - but I am a person who believes in following up success.

A number of years ago, I found myself doing a lot of soul searching. I looked in many different directions for answers, without success. Then finally, I made my way to a place they call church.

There, I found a new lease on life. After a while, regular church attendance made me realize, that there really was something to be found there. If you are facing similar problems, or if you feel the need to go to church to find God, don't be bashful. He will welcome your presence, and as you become better acquainted, life will, I am sure, take on a new meaning and you shall find your place to stand in this great land of ours.

Yours truly,
Harvey N. Handy

Wisconsin Trip

For 4-H Member

Lola McNabb enjoyed a trip last week to Kenosha County, Wisconsin, made possible through the 4-H exchange program.

The good old summer time is here again - hot, muggy days, mostly - coolish nights, and altogether a very enjoyable time of year.

We hope everyone is enjoying pleasant holidays, lying in the sun and getting a glorious, golden tan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wilson of town motored on a recent week-end to Ottawa for the wedding reception of their niece, Linda Wilson and Barry Featherston. They also visited with the Frank Wilson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Reeve and little sons Brent and Blair at Manotick.

Monday morning, July 12, Mrs. R.J. Graham and her niece Irene Hufferman of Milton left by plane for Fredericton, N.B. to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. George Bird and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Rigg were guests at the wedding of their niece, Norma Jean Ball and Terry Curran in Bethel United Church July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Marne Taylor and Cathy have motored to Vancouver, B.C. to visit her sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Ball of Embro visited on Sunday recently with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pickett.

50 too Much Set 35 Limit

The speed limit on No. 7 highway from Main Street North to the westerly town limits was set at 35 miles an hour Thursday night, when council passed a by-law authorizing that speed. This was the limit suggested by the Department of Transportation and Communications Speed Study.

Earlier in the evening a petition with 25 signatures was received asking for a 30 mile an hour limit in the area.

The letter, written by John T. Martin, 81 Joyceelyn Cres., pointed out that the present 50 mile an hour limit, makes entrance or exit from Hyland Avenue very hazardous.

Elley Grum was a Scotch immigrant known as the "Queen of the Comstock." She made a fortune on the Comstock Lode. Benjamin Disraeli helped to "engineer" the building of the Suez Canal while Ferdinand de Lesseps actually engineered it.

NO FATAL ACCIDENT

Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communications Charles MacNaughton presents an award of merit to Mayor W.R. Smith of Georgetown at the Ontario Safety League luncheon in Toronto. Mayor Smith accepted the award on behalf of the Town of Georgetown. The award was presented to Georgetown by the Canada Safety Council for completing 1970 without one fatal accident. Mr. MacNaughton told the luncheon guests from across Ontario that fatal accidents declined eight percent in 1970. This year statistics indicate a six percent decrease in fatal accidents. The minister said injuries are up ten percent and this is an area that requires further study.

Candystripers at Ontario Place

Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital Candystripers visited Ontario Place recently.

Karen Friskney, asked to submit a report on the visit had this to say:

"Ontario Place can be divided into a number of areas of interest or non-interest, depending on your taste. But the best impression is offered by the Place as a whole.

The architecture is fantastic and there is lots of green grass and hills to sit on or just wander about on.

If green grass and hills isn't your thing, you can visit the exhibits, the cinsphere, and a multitude of restaurants. If you want both go to the Forum which has a continuous supply of music and performers all day. It is surrounded by hills so you can sit and listen to the performers while at the same time having a large view of the rest of the site.

At the time we attended there did not seem to be much to attract younger children, but a playground is supposed to open this month. The aim of Ontario Place is to have something for

Should be Resident Say Officer Seeker

A recommendation by the Ontario Municipal Association that any qualified voter anywhere in Ontario could run for office in any Ontario municipality, found no favour with Georgetown council Thursday night.

All agreed a candidate for office should be a resident of the municipality.

Another recommendation from the Select Committee of the same body, met with similar response.

everyone and it looks like the designers will probably succeed. At least they're giving it a good try.

Mrs. Goudeketting and Mrs. Holloway organized the trip, and Mrs. Nieuwhof wrote a song especially for the Candystripers.

Should be Resident Say Officer Seeker

This recommendation advocated that non-payment of taxes or any monies owed to the municipality, should not prevent a candidate running for office. At present outstanding taxes do ban a citizen from this.

Council petitioned the Department of Municipal Affairs not to endorse the Ontario Municipal Association's proposal, and circulated the petition through Halton for the approval of all councils.
