

Pat Murray County's New Dairy Queen

Pat Murray, 16, is Halton's dairy princess this year and will try for Ontario honours at the Canadian National Exhibition. She'll be 17 on August 31. Pat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Murray, R.R.1. Acton and grand-daughter of Mrs. J.C. Murray, Stewarttown, has just finished Grade 10 at Acton high school. She lives on the family farm on Nassagaweya's 8th Line. She is slated for the second half of the preliminary competitions at the CNE which involves an interview, a short talk, and of course, milking a cow.

WAS BICYCLE ... NOT CAR

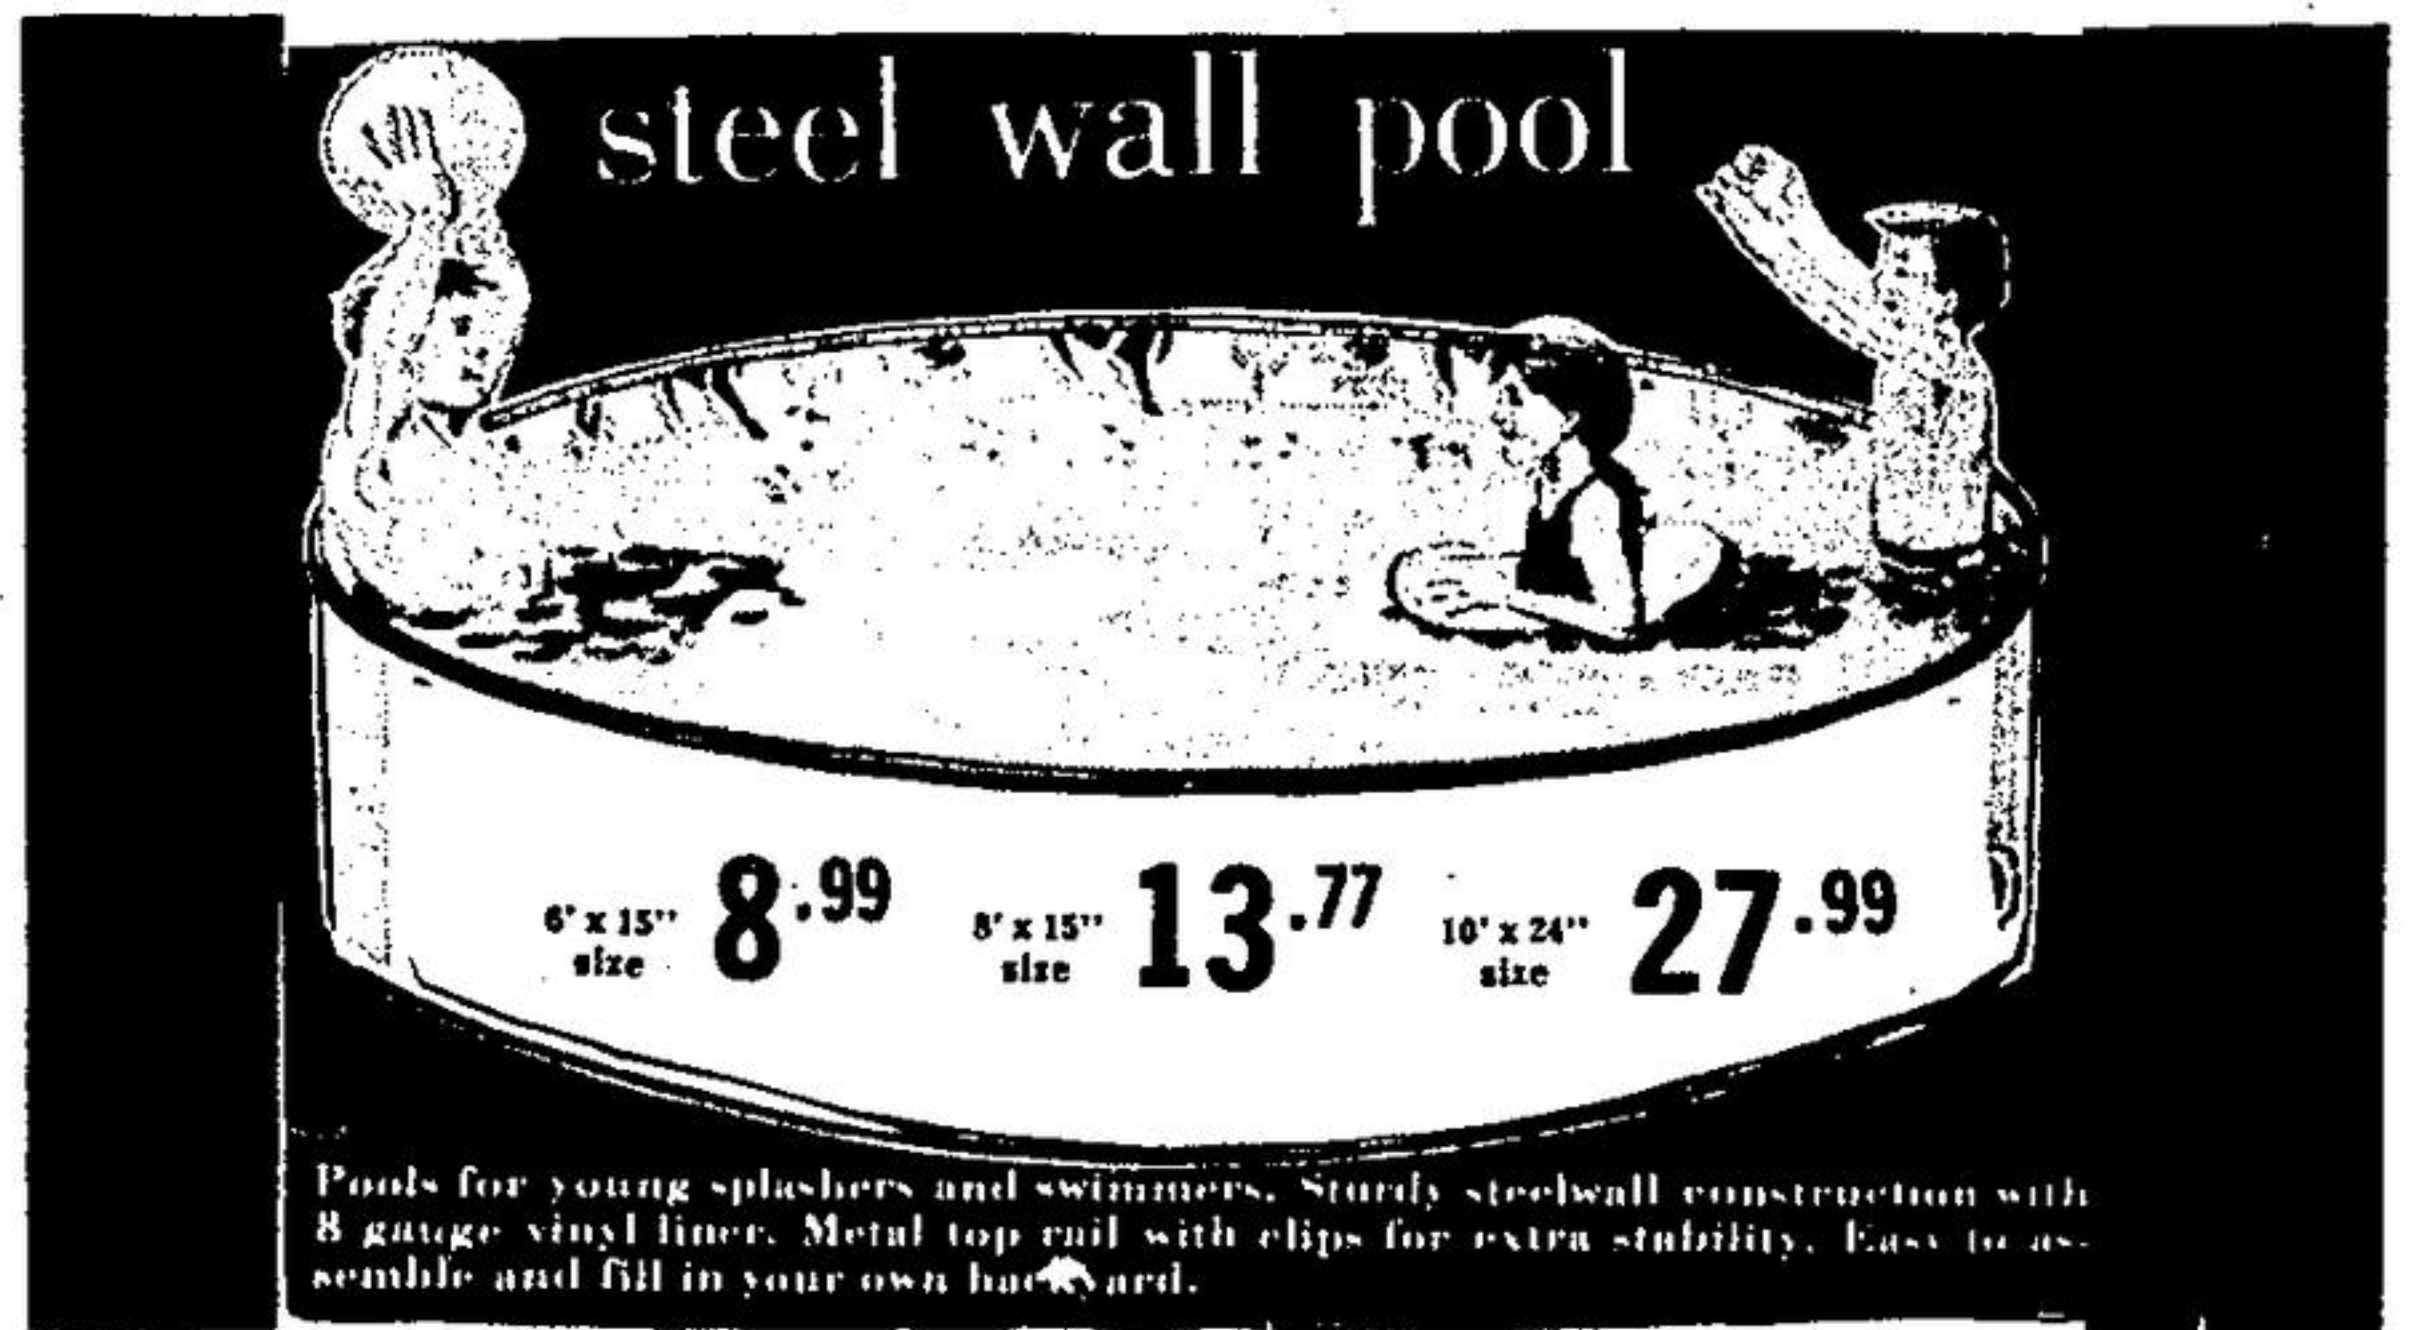

Perhaps caught up with the move to lower the voting age, but really just scanning a police accident report too fast, the Herald reporter made a big boob last week. The Herald reported that cars driven by Ronald White and Robert Barless were in collision at the Shelley-Windsor corner. Turned out that young Robert is much too young to be driving a car - age 9 - and he was riding a bicycle. Fortunately he received only minor scrapes and was otherwise uninjured.
