

Never Intended to Close Norval School

The Halton County Board of Education never intended to close the three-room Norval School despite some press reports to the contrary according to Emerson Lavender, assistant director of education.

There had been some confusion as to the board's intentions for the school. The confusion followed an investigation by the board of a number of small schools in the county to determine if they were viable propositions.

If some of the schools were found wanting in some of the areas studied, the alternative would be to close them.

But Lavender said that was not the case for the Norval School, even though some of the community's residents feared the school would be abandoned.

No intentions

"As far ahead as we can see, the Norval School will be open for grades one to six," he said.

Though the organization of the school is to be studied next spring, there are no intentions of closing it. The school will be affected only by changes in community population, and if there are no major changes, the school will remain the same.

Lavender said he is concerned with some press reports that implied that the school will remain open due to a reversal of a previous board decision. He said that was absolutely not true.

"There was never any decision to close the school," he said.

No Kindergarten

Though the school will remain open, the board has no intention of providing a kindergarten for Norval.

Despite a campaign by village residents to establish a kindergarten, the board ruled that the 12 kindergarten-aged children in the village will be bused elsewhere.

Lavender said there are two aspects to the ruling.

First, he said of the 12 children involved, seven would have to ride the bus anyway. The board decided the community's youngsters would be better served at Pineview, as they have been for the past two years. And he said it is also more economical.

Too Expensive

"If we establish a kindergarten, do we have to provide a room, too?" he asked. He said it would be impossible to justify the expense.

Secondly, he said some Norval residents wanted the school to be open for students from kindergarten through grade eight. He said that is contrary to board policy.

The number of students who would be affected was also an important factor in the board's refusal to establish a kindergarten.

"We cannot accept the proposition that we should run a kindergarten regardless of the number of children involved," he said.

Mrs. James MacMillan Was Cook at Hospital

A cook at Georgetown & District Memorial Hospital from 1961 to 1966, Mrs. James MacMillan died at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Toronto August 22nd. She was 59.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, she was the former Rachel Morton, daughter of Andrew and Rachel Flockhart Morton. During the war she was on the civilian staff of the R.A.F. Prestwick base in Scotland.

Married in Glasgow in 1935, Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan came to Canada in 1953, lived in Toronto for three years, then moved to Georgetown where they lived at 92 Main Street North. They moved to Port Credit five years ago and lived at 37 Hurontario Street there.

She was a member of Verdun Rebekah lodges when she lived here and was a life member of the Eastern Star, which she joined in Maybole, Scotland.

She leaves her husband, James, 7 children, M.I. Margaret Craig in California, Mrs. Catherine Malott, Mrs. Elizabeth McNaughton and Mrs. Mary Kouyoumjian of Brampton, Brian of Burlington and Janie and Jim at home. There are 10 grandchildren. One of a family of eleven, she also leaves seven brothers and three sisters.

NORTH HALTON REPORT

Ontario Provincial Police Officers of the Milton Detachment worked a total of 967 1/2 hours during the week ending August 21st and travelled 8,794 miles patrolling roads in their area. Traffic tickets were issued to 102 motorists for driving offences and an additional 46 motorists received warnings. Proceedings in Provincial Court Milton saw 29 convictions registered.

The 7 day reporting period saw officers involved in the investigation of 57 general occurrences. This number included: 3 thefts, 1 disturbance, 2 domestic complaints, 2 investigations under the Liquor Control Act which resulted in 2 persons being charged, 2 assaults, 1 building was found insecure, 2 vehicles were recovered for other Police Departments and one vehicle was stolen. The remaining occurrences were of a minor nature.

A total of 15 collisions were investigated. Five of these collisions caused injury to 8 people while the remaining 10 resulted in property damage only. Two of these collisions involved drivers that did not remain at the scene and they are still being sought. The property damage caused by these collisions was estimated to be $17,350.00. Six drivers involved in these collisions have been charged and charges are pending against others. The major cause for the collisions was careless driving.

Parents: Teach your children the traffic safety rules. Every parent knows how often a child must be told the same thing, over and over, before the lesson is learned. Don't forget how important this is in teaching your children the traffic safety rules. Make safety reminders a regular thing...and back them up with your own safe, legal behaviour. Remember, your good example can help establish a safe behaviour pattern in your children...and possibly save their lives...and yours.

Rused to School At $4,360 a Day

It will cost more than $4,360 a day to take 9,200 Halton County students to school by bus when classes begin next week.

Halton education officials said 6,100 public school students will travel 5,231 miles a day on 154 bus routes at a cost of $2,693.

More than 3,000 secondary students will cover 3,647 miles on 86 routes and run up a daily tab of $1,676 for Halton taxpayers.

Special taxis and buses will cost $346 a day to transport handicapped and orthopedic students to school.

There are 46,000 public and secondary students in Halton County.
