

Mior-Mills Wedding In St. John's Church

St. John's United Church, Georgetown, was the scene of a late summer wedding, at one o'clock, Saturday, August 21, when Linda Marie Mills became the bride of Angelo Oscar Mior. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Mills, 44 Delrex Blvd. N. and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mior of Guelph.

With Rev. Kelvin Johnston of St. Andrew's United Church officiating, the couple repeated their vows before the altar decorated with baskets of white and mauve gladioli and daisies. The wedding music, selections from Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and Verdi, was played by organist John Taylor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a self-made, A-line, floor-length gown of cream polyester crepe. The round neckline was trimmed with matching braid which extended to the front hemline. The long, full sleeves tapered to the wrists with braid-trimmed, four-buttoned cuffs. She wore a full-length veil of nylon net and carried red sweetheart roses and white daisies.

Attending her as matron of honour was Mrs. Leslie Kaye of Boston, and as senior bridesmaid, Mrs. Brenda Murphy of Kingston, both former school friends. Miss Lois Mills of Georgetown, was junior bridesmaid for her sister. All were similarly styled, crepe gowns of varying shades of mauve, with high bodices, and sashes of deep purple velvet ribbon. Bows of the same ribbon adorned their hair. They carried bouquets of pink daisies and sweetheart roses.

Best man was Donal Amichand, International Student Advisor, University of Guelph, and ushers were Dennis Mills, Guelph, brother of the bride and Renso Mior, Belleville, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at Someplace Else Inn, Huttonville, immediately following the ceremony. To receive the guests, the mother of the bride wore a pink knitted crepe dress with long sleeves and a matching corsage of roses. The groom's mother assisted, wearing a short-sleeved rose crimplene gown with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Leaving on a honeymoon for Eastern Canada, the bride and groom wore similar suits of Moroccan style, the bride wearing a corsage of red roses. The couple are living at 195 Grove St. Guelph. The bride is a graduate of the College of Family and Consumer Studies, University of Guelph.

Prior to her marriage, the bride received many gifts at a bridal shower given in her honour at Bervie Institute Hall by relatives. Hostesses for this occasion were aunts Mrs. Jack Bushell and Mrs. Eddie Collins and a cousin Miss Edith Collins of Kincardine.
