

Blood Clinic Contest

Georgetown Challenges Towns to Match Donations

Georgetown mayor Bill Smith has issued a challenge to other Halton communities which conduct blood donor clinics to match Georgetown in giving blood at the December clinic.

To date, Milton and Burlington have picked up the gauntlet.

The highest percentage of registered donors attending, and the number of first time donors will be basis for choosing a winner.

Georgetown's next clinic, conducted by the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross, will be December 6. At their last clinic a record was established when close to 500 donors offered blood.

The December clinic will be known as the Mayors' Challenge Clinic.

In the other competing communities teens are being urged to join the throng of donors, however, that's not the case here where the teens have a clinic of their own in February at the high school.

A Georgetown Red Cross branch spokesman said the challenge is a good way of insuring a good supply of blood at depots serving Halton for the winter and especially the holiday season.

North Halton OPP Advise Locking Car

Incredible as it may seem many Canadians take little precaution to protect their cars from theft. Few people, if any, would leave their wallet or valuables on the sidewalk. Yet many people think nothing of leaving a $4,000.00 automobile unattended, with keys in the ignition.

In larger cities in Canada an average of 20 stolen vehicles a day is not uncommon. The Canadian Automobile Theft Committee figures their claims, recovery and damage costs, for 1970 will come to at least $100 million.

The unfortunate aspect of many car thefts is the contribution made to crime in the teenage youth of society. An unattended car with the keys in the ignition is an open invitation, and a surefire formula for crime, to the joyrider. It does not stop with the first theft. If successful, it leads to another and another.

North Halton OPP says, "You can discourage many of these car thefts by simply adopting the attitude that you are not going to tempt anyone into a life of crime. Make it a habit to lock your car. By habit, we mean every time you leave your car unattended, lock it.

If you have clothing or valuables in your car, put them in the trunk out of sight of would be thieves. Don't encourage a criminal act by your negligence.

"If enough people locked their cars, they would contribute to a great extent in reducing the crime rate in our society", says North Halton OPP.

The reeve said it was the by-pass over the culverts placed in the river, to which the Credit Valley Conservation Authority objected.

Awarded Honour Ring

Karen Mintern, a former Georgetown District High School student, obtained an average of over 75 percent in Grade 13 at the Agincourt Collegiate Institute and was presented with an honour ring and the staff scholarship at the commencement exercises on Friday, October 29.

She is now enrolled in the home Economics course at the University of Guelph.

Critical of 10th Line Culverts

They own the river when the sun shines, but not when the weather changes and the river floods, commented Reeve Tom Hill, when a letter from the Credit Valley Conservation Authority criticized the method of building the new 10th line bridge.
