

RECEIVE HIGHEST SWIMMING AWARDS

Two Georgetown teens have been successful in obtaining the highest swimming award offered by the Royal Life Saving Society, Jacqueline Brown, 17, of R.R.4 Georgetown and Brian Markham, 19, of R.R.3

Georgetown have earned The Award of Distinction with 76 and 80 percent respectively in the skills test. Brian's mark also entitles him to a gold pin. Both are employed at the Mayfield swimming pool in Chinguacousy.

Says Extended Life Not Wishful Thinking

The three-day assembly of Jehovah's witnesses at Orangeville District Secondary School this week heard William Veenstra, District Supervisor of Toronto, tell the crowd of 1,067 persons that only the kingdom of God can offer mankind hope for survival.

In his address, "Can You Live Forever - Will You?", Mr. Veenstra said, "All our hopes and plans depend on life. For many of the things we would like to do, life seems too short. With extended life we could add to our accomplishments. Yet man, lives a shorter life than many plants and animals. Why?"

"The Bible shows man's original life-span was unlimited. Evidence that man's capacities and functions, even the process of cell renewal, points to a design that could last forever. Restoration to that original condition would again mean unlimited life."

"This would be anything but boring for the possible accomplishments would be unending, limitless. Our planet is capable of producing food for a vast population and proper control will assure proper distribution. This is not wishful thinking for the Bible tells us that this is God's purpose for the earth."

COLLAPSE
Alec Didur, Circuit Supervisor for this area, spoke to the witnesses regarding the imminent collapse of organized religion as a dangerous time for God-fearing persons and stressed the need for staying close together. The Christian principle of love for each other will be the greatest protection afforded Christians at that time.

Mr. Veenstra's concluding talk entitled, "Serving With a Complete Heart" was a plea for all to care for their heart and the attitudes that spring from that source. This, he said, can only be done by reading and studying the Word of God to the exclusion of all other sources of today's so-called "wisdom".

Reserves Judgement In Fatality

Judge William Sharp decided last Wednesday to reserve final judgement on a dangerous driving charge against Ontario Provincial Police constable involved in the two-car collision at the Highways 7 and 10 intersection September 22 which took the life of a Norval man.

After hearing all the evidence in provincial court, Judge Sharp said he would make his judgement November 24.

Evidence heard in court last week established that the police officer was reacting to an emergency blood run when involved in the crash in which L. R. De Grys, 34, of Norval was killed.

Raphael Santi painted the "Sistine Madonna".
