

MARRIED IN HOLY CROSS

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Giefert sign the register following their recent wedding in Holy Cross Church. The bride, the former Cheryl Jean Robertson, is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Robertson and Murray Robertson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Giefert, Terra Colla.

Day-Richardson Marriage Ceremony, Holy Cross

Holy Cross Church was the setting for the wedding on October 2, when Catherine Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richardson, 12 Durham Street, was united in marriage to Carmen Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Day of Nova Scotia. Father Wood officiated for the four o'clock double ring ceremony. Mr. J. Redmond was organist and played O Promise Me, Because, and O Perfect Love during the service.

The church was decorated with standards of white daisy mums and peach gladiolus. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white organza over peau de sole, trimmed with embroidered floral appliques. It was styled with high neckline and full sheer sleeves with deep pointed embroidered peau de sole cuff. The neck and hemline of the gown and the full on the floor veil, were trimmed with lace edging. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisy mums and peach sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Doreen Sheppard was the matron of honor, Mrs. Elaine Richardson, Miss Beth Richardson and Miss Vicki Cunningham were bridesmaids and Miss Sarah Lee Vugia was the flower girl. They were gowned alike in full length dresses of peach crepe, accented with moss green velvet and carried bouquets of white daisy mums. The little flower girl carried a basket of the same flowers. Lucien DeWinter was groomsmen, David Richardson twin brother of the bride, Rawlins Kent and Bruce Cook were ushers. Joe Richardson was ring bearer and carried the matched set of rings on a pillow of white satin. The male attendants and the father of the bride wore black tuxedos with white pleated shirts.

Approximately 150 guests attended the reception and wedding dance in Sacred Heart Parish Hall. The mother of the bride received, wearing a gown of powder blue peau de sole and was assisted by the sister of the groom, Mrs. Gail Vugia, who wore a gown of pink pleated satin. Their corsages were white cymbidium orchids.

The couple spent a few days at the family cottage and then continued their honeymoon trip back to their new home in Nova Scotia. The bride travelled in a burgundy crimplene dress trimmed with grey and black and grey accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

During her brief visit home prior to the wedding the bride was entertained at a surprise shower given by her bridesmaids and held at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richardson. Relatives and close friends of the bride and groom attended.

Following the rehearsal party at the bride's home, a stag party was arranged for the groom by his attendants and was held in the home of his brother-in-law Mr. Adrian Vugia.

Try an Old Fashioned Glazed Almond Treat

This is an Early-American favorite.
1 cup almonds
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
Heat water and sugar together until sugar is dissolved completely. Place nuts in mixture, not more than 12 at a time. Boil gently until tender. Remove with slotted spoon, one at a time. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle more sugar over nuts, coating all sides. Dry in cool oven. Keep in closely covered metal container.

Holly Cookie

Melt over low heat in top of double boiler one stick butter or margarine and 30 large marshmallows. When melted, add green food coloring and stir in four cups cornflakes. Stir over low heat until the flakes are coated. Then spoon onto waxed paper in holly shapes. Sprinkle immediately with "red hot" little red candies. Let cool until shapes hold.

Persepolis was an ancient Persian city.

Hope your holiday menu includes all the joys of the season! Best wishes for health, wealth, and happiness to all our good friends!

Herald Ad Reflects New Interest in Witchcraft

Double, double, toil and trouble, witches have come back into their own. Interest in the occult and witchcraft is becoming more widespread every day. There has even been a notice running in the Herald for the last three weeks seeking anyone interested in forming a coven. To the ordinary mortals this may need an explanation. A coven is a group of 13 people interested in witchcraft, extra-sensory perception, fortune telling, hand writing analysis, dreams and premonitions. After years of being hidden behind mysterious screens, seances too are now becoming popular and almost respectable. UPSURGE The women who put the notice in "Coming Events" are interested in all these phases of the unknown, and are hoping to find others to share their interest. Even the library has noticed the upsurge of interest in books dealing with these subjects. Box 67 Herald is the place to write, unless you would prefer to send a message by mental telepathy.

30 From Here Attend Recital

Over 30 Georgetown and district members of the Guelph Community Concerts Association enjoyed a recital at War Memorial Hall in Guelph on Wednesday December 8th. The guest artists were Ma Si-Hon, violinist, and his wife, Tung Kwong-Kwong, pianist. Their selection included works by Beethoven, Liszt, Saint-Saens and Schubert. The audience was favoured with three encores, one of which was composed by Ma Si-Hon's brother, Ma Si-Tung. Many of the members stayed to a reception afterwards where the artists were generous with their autographs.

Bridge Club

On December 11, there were 11 tables of duplicate bridge playing in the Legion Auditorium. North-South winners were Mrs. Jane Reynolds, Mrs. Fran Leonard; second, Mrs. Elizabeth McCrae and Cam Sinclair; third, Ron Reynolds and Del Wallace; fourth, Mrs. M. Taylor and Mrs. Alleen Bradley. East-West winners—first, Bart Fisher and Mrs. Flora Smith; second, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Barbour; third, Jim Sargent and Leo Kistemaker; fourth, Mrs. Gundi Kistemaker and Duke Wilson.
