DID YOU KNOW?

The first football cheer was based on a battle cry, the National Geographic Society says. At the Princeton-Rutgers game of 1869, some Princetonians roared out a lusty "Siss, boom, ah!" The shout derived from the rocket yell of New York's Seventh Regiment.

Credit Valley Park Will Thrive Again

Unveil Plans For "Eldorado"

Plans for the development of Eldorado Park, seven miles south east of Georgetown were unveiled at a special meeting of the Chinguacousy recreation committee Thursday.

Parks director Don Gordon said the project is a three to five year development and a provincial subsidy is available because the property has "a natural beach."

Because the property is in the flood plain line of the Credit River, he said it will not be developed to support a heavy amount of traffic, but instead will be a family picnic area.

Work on the development is already under way, and Gordon said no changes are being made that will destroy any of the natural life in the area.

EROSION
The park, he said, does have a lot of reptile and insect life: "It is one of the few areas where families can go and see them, and maybe get bitten by them."

Erosion of the river banks at the bends of the river are causing some concern, said the parks director. He outlined a plan to retard the erosion using stones.

He also told of a plan to recreate an island that had once existed on the west bank of the river.

He said that the island is still evident in spring with the high water, but a build-up of silt has prevented a normal water flow year around.

NATURE TRAIL
In creating the island, there will also be a children's fishing pond and a nature trail with observation posts and bird-feeding areas.

"A good place for ducks, eh" remarked Deputy-reeve Terry Miller.

The only access to the island will be by a foot bridge from the western portion of the park. There will be no development on the island except for a small picnic area.

At the main park area, a parking fee will be charged, said the parks director.

SHELTERS
Plans also call for construction of picnic shelters and toilet facilities.

A patio area will be added to the existing community building utilizing Cheltenham bricks and log tops. The Cheltenham bricks will also be used for construction of barbecues throughout the park.

Water will also be provided in the hall. "We are blessed with probably the best water in Chinguacousy," said Gordon.

WATER
He told the recreation committee that the water will be taken from wells in the park that had been drilled a number of years ago.

The provision of the water, he said, will eliminate a problem that was faced last year at the time of the Huttonville Farmers Market.

He said that in order to qualify for a liquor licence, the area has to have washing facilities. To overcome that problem at the farmers market, horse-troughs were set up with bars of soap beside them.

TREE-FOR-TREE
The recreation committee was also told that Huttonville Nurseries has agreed to match the township tree for tree for each one of the township plants.

The plans were endorsed by the committee and are to be forwarded to council and the conservation authority for approval.

Emmett Donovan expressed concern that the committee had no say in the financial aspect of the plan.

In voting against the proposal he said he would vote against the township "taking a free flower as a gift if we had to hire someone to take care of it."

HERALD READERS OVER A CENTURY

Can anyone equal the record of Mrs. Jessie (Allen) Watson of Toronto.

Mrs. Watson, in renewing her subscription, writes that the Herald has been read by her family since the very first issue.

Her great-grandparents settled in Georgetown in 1853, travelling by stage coach from Streetsville.

She enjoys the paper, particularly items regarding the 'old days', she says.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Saunders, 3 Durham Street, and Mrs. Joe Hurst of Acton, have returned from a memorable week's holiday on the Mediterranean island of Mallorca, Spain. While there, they toured the island, and also took a side-trip to Rome for a day of sight-seeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lawrence, 4 Shelley Street, vacationed for two months of the winter in Florida. They spent most of their time in the St. Petersburg area, and Treasure Island, as well as touring in the southern part of Florida.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Molozzi, and children Marek, Stefan, and Tanya, of Ottawa, have been recent visitors with Mrs. Molozzi's mother, Mrs. C. Sargent, 73 Charles St. While Dr. Molozzi was on business in Toronto, Mrs. Molozzi and the children spent the week in Georgetown.
