

Boy Writes Council

How About Some Fish For Creeks?

A footnote to a letter from 11 year old David Boughton, brought a ripple of laughter at the Quinquennial council, Monday night. He suggested the township should put some fish in the creeks, since he had been fishing all day and caught nothing. His main purpose in writing was to tell council of a stop sign knocked down on the Fourth line. He considered it dangerous since it was at a concealed intersection. Council instructed the clerk to thank him for his public spiritedness and in turn add a footnote asking if he knew any good fishing spots. "It's kids that age that know most of the fishing holes in the township," commented clerk Delmar French.

Investigate Break-Ins

Georgetown police are investigating break-ins Thursday night at North Halton Ford and Mino Millwork. Total value of the stolen goods was not disclosed.

Limehouse Daughter Marries, Father Officiates

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roughley were married on Saturday in Knox Presbyterian Church, Acton. The bride's father, Rev. A. H. McKenzie officiated, assisted by a former Limehouse minister, Rev. Norman Young, now of Duff's Presbyterian Church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roughley.

Rev. Peter Barrow conducted family day service in Limehouse Presbyterian Church Sunday. Several of the congregation took part, with A. W. Patterson opening the service, Teddy Brown leading responsive scripture and Beverley Appleyard reading the scripture lesson. Mrs. W. Kirkwood gave the long prayer and Mrs. Walter Linham told the children's story. Mrs. Jack Crichton and Mrs. Ingles received the offering, which was dedicated by Mrs. A. W. Benton. This brought most of the church departments into the service. Mr. Barrow preached the sermon. The choir, directed by Mrs. Bert Benton, with organist Mrs. Jack Roughley, sang an anthem and led the hymn singing.

Congratulations to the pupils taking part in last week's music festival, and their teachers. They won one of each award. —Mrs. A. W. Benton
