

AUTOMATED DUMPING

The driver of a truck hauling from the re-construction project on Charles Street got a shock when he went to return to his parked vehicle after leaving it for a few minutes. It wasn't where he had left it. The loaded dump truck rolled from its parking place at the corner of Charles and Young to a sunken lawn where it dumped its load the hard way. Despite the spill, the truck received little damage. The re-construction work on Charles is ahead of schedule and progressing well.

Mini-Bikes are Summer Annoyance Says Police

With the coming of the summer months Chingquacousy police have found themselves the victims of a plague, not of locusts, but something almost as pesky - a swarm of mini-bikes. "They're all over the place," said a police spokesman. "I guess we have twice as many around this year. We have twice as many complaints too". Police said the problem stems from the grouping of the bikes by local youths on private properties throughout the township. "They ride them on the streets of the row housing complexes and in school yards and factory parking lots," the spokesman said. "We even had some complaints of them riding around in a church yard".

CAN DO NOTHING

Since the bikes are on private property police can do nothing to curb the noise which is the usual basis for homeowners' complaints. Police have no recourse but to ask the parents to control the use of the bikes. "It's left to the discretion of the parents whether they can control the bikes," the spokesman concluded.
