Skydivers Will Thrill 10,000

Some curious looking aircraft will fill the air over the Brampton Flying Club's Victorla airstrip just west of Highway 10 Sunday after when the club presents its third annual air show.

In anticipation of a large flock of spectators due to the success of the first two shows, the club has prepared a field capable of accomodating some 4,000 cars. They are estimating a crowd of 10,000 will watch the all-Canadian show.

Club officials recommend people from the Georgetown vicinity planning to attend arrange to be there well before the 1 o'clock starting time. The list of show features has no weak spots. Radio controlled models will catch the attention of the early arrivers and when the show starts with flying antique aircraft dating back to 1914 the interest and excitement mounts. Skydivers. aerobatics, a flypast by experimental aircraft. World War 1 and World War 2 aircraft. armed forces hellcopters, the smallest plane in Canada. a glider, a low level pass by an Air Canada DC 8 plus many other air show highlights have been included in the program which is timed to the second so that there are no lengthly pauses in the action.

Someone in the crowd could even go home $2,000 richer. That's the prize in a raffle being conducted by the club members of which will be selling tickets prior to and during the show.
