At a dinner meeting of Jaycees and Jaycettes, Saturday night, at King Wah Restaurant, 10 members who had completed a nine week course in "Effective Speaking", had a chance to show their progress. The 10 students, six Jaycees and four Jaycettes, Glen Burns, Bev and Ted Daquano, Joan and Bill Jennings, Madeline and Fred Marks, Don Serace and Nancy Vanciel, spoke for five minutes on a subject of their choice, while their instructor John Banton listened proudly.

The dinner was a wind-up party for the course, which had no drop-outs. John Banton took the same course three years ago when it was offered by his employer, Air Canada. He used most of the same material to instruct the Jaycee-Jaycette class.

Each of the 10 speakers were presented with a diploma recognizing their accomplishment.

A new town resident, Captain Harold Wright, retired, guest speaker for the evening, outlined Canada's military role in Viet Nam and the Middle East over the last few years.

Centennial Vice-Principal Ted Pordage Promoted

Ted Pordage, vice-principal at Centennial Senior Public School, and Hazen Allen, principal of George Kennedy Junior Public School, are two of 13 men whose promotions and transfers were approved recently by the Halton County Board of Education.

Two Town Youths in Swim-a-Rama

Last Sunday two Georgetown youths swam in Brampton's Annual Swim-a-rama to raise funds to build a home for the mentally retarded in Brampton. Paul Carter and Cathy Masson both 13 years of age and members of the Chinguacousy swim team swam 50 lengths of the pool under the time limit of 15 minutes.

This week Paul and Cathy are out collecting from their sponsors. They were awarded trophies but will not receive them until their names have been engraved upon them. They swam on behalf of Centennial school in the swim-a-rama, and two youths from Brampton volunteered to swim for their team making it a four-some.
