

O'CONNOR'S OTTAWA

There seems to exist some confusion in the business community surrounding the now notorious tax cuts and fast write-offs promised by Mr. Turner in his May 1972 budget, but as yet not passed into law. It should be remembered that these benefits, if passed, will be available only to manufacturing and processing companies and not to all corporations. Manufacturers and processors comprise about 30 percent of the total of all businesses in Canada.

Not only do the balance of other types of corporations, about 70 percent of the total - which includes most small businesses, service industries, transportation firms etc - not get the tax cuts, but their rates were actually increased between 5 1/2 percent to 7 percent as of January 1, 1973.

WHY INCREASE?
Why do most company tax rates increase this year? Just over a year ago, on March 22, 1972 Parliament passed a bill reducing corporate income taxes by 7 percent for the last half of 1971 and all of 1972. This Bill gave effect to a budget proposal announced back on October 14, 1971 by Edgar Benson, then the Minister of Finance. The 7 percent reduction applied to all corporations but it was due to expire at the end of 1972. Thus the 1972 general federal corporate tax rate was 46 1/2 percent.

Mr. Turner's budget of May 8, 1972 announced the new politically controversial rate of 48 percent for manufacturers and processors reduced rates to be effective January 1, 1973. But the majority of companies - the 70 percent which are not manufacturers or processors - began January 1, 1973 paying the greater rate with no hope of enjoying the new reduced rate.

PAY GREATER RATE
The greater rate is 5 1/2 percent more for companies
