

Georgetown Novices, Midgets Capture 4-Town Championships

BY SMR

Georgetown Novices and Midgets came through with flying colours and captured the 4-Town Championships for their divisions. The Pee Wees and Bantams faltered at first, then won the Consolation Series. The tournament which was run in Orangeville's new sports complex saw some excellent hockey played during the day and evening. Brad Miller of the Bantams accepted a watch for young Knight of Superior Falls who sold the most 4-Town draw tickets in Georgetown.

Rally sponsor money started coming in last Saturday and another collection day will be held this Saturday. Collect the rest of your pledges and turn them into the executive member on duty in the equipment room. Let's get it all in this weekend, so everybody can concentrate on the upcoming playoffs.
