The Milton Girls Pipe Band who entertained for about half an hour were much enjoyed. The weather helped to make this year's barbecue one of the best yet.

The church service on Sunday was held in Mr. and Mrs. a clean-up morning after the barbecue. Rev. R. Walter Ridley showed slides on the theme 'Our Search for God' for meditation during the service. Following the service there was enough food left over from the barbecue for all to provide a lunch, except for dessert. The strawberry shortcake ran out near the end of the barbecue and the last few dinners were

Cubs Enjoy Weekend Campout

Thirty-six cubs of 1st Georgetown cub pack, St. John's United Church, took part in a weekend campout at Blue Springs United Church Campground. A nature like under the leadership of Dennis Wright was held, and the boys were delighted to find many trout in a stream, but returned to camp with only a crayfish.

Ed Arcuri was Cookie for the camp, and food disappeared fast as cubs came back for seconds and thirds. The Saturday supper was prepared by senior cubs who will be going up to scouts in the near future.

The cubs spent several hours in crafts, making animals from stones, aeroplanes, sculptures, rope masks and painting, wolf. hear and horse plaques. Ropemaking was demonstrated by Jack Layman while Ted Peck instructed the senior hoys in scouting skills. A campfire program was highlighted by songs and skits under the leadership of Mr. Wright. He told the story of Blowing Out the Candle. Paul Thompson had a flashing news report with John Hayes bringing in the reward announcement. To each winning camp, Cookie served mug up and moon pups.

On the Sunday morning, a Cubs Own Service was held under the leadership of Mr Peck, with David Strudwick reading the 23rd Psalm, cub Tim Peck relating the story of the spiritual Kum-By-Uh, cub Mark Savill read the story of Cubs Learn What They Live, and cub Scott Puck led the Lord's Prayer. Spiritual singing was led by Mr. Wright and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. Jean Layman,

A pot luck supper was served i at 1 p.m., when parents came to the lake to pick up their boys.

Cubs were calted into a circle by Mrs. Layman at closing time when a presentation was made [to David Strudwick who has recently moved to Oakville. Bob Collett, on behalf of the group committee, presented him with a silver tray. Ted Peck, on behalf of the cubs and leaders, presented him with an engraved desk pen and clock plaque. Farewells and best wishes were extended to Mr. Wright who will be based at Winnipeg and serving in the Arctic, following his wedding June 30, Scott Puck will be moving to the United States.

Others assisting at this camp were ranger Sandy Fendley. Karen Hauser, Martha Hogan, Gerry Jones, venturers Peter Boyle, Russell Hogan, John Hayes and Paul Thompson. Mrs. Layman thanked everyone who helped to make the camp a success. Cubs resume activities Sept. 13.
