DR. PHIL MEAD, and Tom Roberts of Georgetown, (above) check the condition of a radio-controlled model airplane, at a competition held by Georgetown Radio-Control Model Flying Club, Saturday. The planes had to take off, taxi into a circular target and land three times in the target within three minutes. Dr. Mead is president of the club, and Tom Roberts is secretary-treasurer.

Howard Weedmark Choral Director

Georgetown Choral Society will start the new season with a new choral director, Howard Weedmark, who teaches at Centennial School.

Mr. Weedmark a bachelor of music, led Centennial school choirs to victory in the North Halton Music Festival, this year.

Georgetown Choral Society began in 1970 and has held a concert every year, with the proceeds going to various charities.

Ralph Ursel, well known in local music circles, is accompanist for the society, which has Tom Darcie as president, Brenda McNeil, secretary, and Lyn Purdy, treasurer.

The group meets in the music room of the high school, every Tuesday night, starting September 11.

Four New Courses At Georgetown High

Georgetown District High School will be introducing 3 new courses and bringing back an old one this fall, vice-principal William Robinson said Wednesday.

The history department will add a Grade 12 course on comparative religions to its offerings. The staff teaching the course have had "a good deal of training" in the subject area and some of them took a refresher course during the winter, Mr. Robinson said.

Our cultural heritage from the Mediterranean is the Latin department's new Grade 9 course, he said. The course concentrates on the background of the Mediterranean countries, most notably Italy.

A new biology course surveying anatomy, physiology, and the evolution of living organisms is available to Grade 11 students, Mr. Robinson said. The school will reintroduce vocal music this fall, restricting the course to Grade 9 students this year, according to the vice principal. The course "sort of died out for a few years," he observed.

"It's kind of pleasing to see it come back," he said. About 80 more students will attend the school this year, boosting enrolment to 1,600 Mr. Robinson said.

Legion Notes Name Committee To Plan Additional Lounge Room

by WRIGHT SMITH The Imperial Section of Branch 120 held its annual barbecue on Saturday. The menu was baked potatoes, salad, rolls and "steaks a la Poirier." Mention must be made of the high quality of the cooking. Well done Joe.

A beautiful evening was enjoyed by 66 people including many guests from overseas. Meanwhile back at the branch, Bob Hillier gave his usual skilful exhibition on the old "git-box."

Members of the building committee for the conversion of the old bakeshop to a lounge room are, Bob Reynolds, Bob Waites, Frank Nicholson, Jim Randell, Leon Radcliffe and John Ferguson. Under the co-ordinating chairmanship of Jim Tyner, this will be a nucleus and may be added to if necessary.

And now that the fall and winter sports season is starting, here are some dates to keep in mind. Legion Mixed Bowling League starts Sept. 12, at the Georgetown Bowl. Anyone interested please contact Tony Zilio, Jean Reid or Marion Carney.

The Industrial Darts League season starts on Sept. 19. Finally, the annual corn roast date has been set for Sept. 8. More details next week.
