

BROWN-DENNY

Two Teachers Married In Limehouse Ceremony

Limehouse Presbyterian Church was the setting for the pretty August wedding of Mary Lou Brown of Limehouse and Raymond Clarence Denny of Acton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. (Ted) Brown, their youngest daughter of R. R. 1, Limehouse, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Denny, their youngest, of R. R. 2, Acton.

Both bride and groom are teachers she at M.Z. Bennett Public School in Acton and he at Stewarttown Senior Public School.

Presiding at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Peter Harrow, with organist Mrs. Jack Roughley and soloist Miss Kathie Swackhamer, cousin of the groom. Selections sung included Wedding Song, accompanied by the groom's brother, Ted Brown, on the guitar, Wedding Prayer, and I'll Walk Beside You accompanied by the organist.

Standards of pink gladiola and white chrysanthemums with white bows marking the pews decorated the church. The bride wore a pure white polyester organza gown with empire waist and A-line skirt with a deep double ruffle edged with a satin ribbon at the hem. Enclosed chapel train had a double ruffle encircling the edge. Long, sheer sleeves were ruffled and tipped with satin. A softly scooped neckline was outlined with appliques of Swiss quipere lace with appliques repeated on the skirt. A cluster of organza roses with delicate spray held a chapel veil edged with tiny Swiss appliques.

brimmed white hats were boned with filmy net.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Groomsman was Vern Denny, only brother of the groom, of Acton.

Ushers were Ted Brown, only brother of the bride, of Limehouse; Gordon McDonald, friend of the groom, of Caledon, and William Karn, brother-in-law of the bride, of Acton.

Groom, groomsman and ushers wore black, tux-tail suits with full vests.

Evening reception was held at the Acton Music Centre.

The bride's mother received in an organza gown, printed in soft tones of lilac and aqua on white, with ruffled neckline and empire waist with soft fullness in the skirt. She wore white accessories, mauve ribbon entwined in her hair and a corsage of mauve cymbidium orchids.

The groom's mother received wearing an ensemble of chiffon over taffeta in sunny yellow, with fitted empire bodice with long sleeves, sleeveless chiffon coat, white accessories, yellow chiffron roses in her hair and a corsage of deep yellow cymbidium orchids.

DECORATIONS

Pink, blue and white streamers decorated the hall. There were pink candles and rosabuds on the tables.

The couple honeymooned in Eastern Ontario, in the Ottawa area, and are now residing at Maria Apartments, Acton. For travelling, the bride wore a floor-length halter gown of ivory crepe, topped with a hooded jacket trimmed with rose and green braid. She wore a pink bridal rose corsage.

For the wedding, the bride wore her maternal grandmother's opal ring, an opal pendant, gift of the groom, and the cake was made by the mother of the bride and was decorated by the bride. The bride's attendants wore opal pendants, gifts of the bride.

The bride carried a cascade of pink roses, ivy and baby's breath. Bridesmaids carried nosegays of white daisies, pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ivy with wide pink streamers.

Showers for the bride were given by Mrs. F.C. Whitmee of Georgetown, aunt; staff of the M.Z. Bennett school in Acton; Mrs. W. Elliott of Milton, cousin of the bride; Mrs. G. McDonald and Miss D. Bonnette, friends of the bride; Mrs. B. Patterson of Guelph, aunt of the groom; and there was a presentation and shower by the Limehouse community and a presentation by the Church Hill community.

Specials guests were Mrs. S. Denny, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Fred McNally, great-great aunt of the bride.

GETTING SET FOR SHOW (Herald Photos)

THIRTY-FIRST annual exhibition of Arts and Crafts of Georgetown will be held Oct. 13, and membership is busy preparing for the show.

From the left are Audrey Deere, president Helen Agg and Bernice Fogal, with some of their handcrafted items that will be on display. The annual show, and sale, is being held at the Credit Valley Club in Norval.

Magic Is Popular Course

A semi-retired minister taking a daytime magic course at Sheridan wishes to remain anonymous.

He won't reveal his identity until he has had an opportunity to surprise his congregation in Burlington and the affiliated youth groups he's involved with at the church.

The anonymous minister was first attracted to the study of basic magic after seeing Houdini, the great escape artist, perform at McGill University, where he also witnessed the injury which led to Houdini's death.

Another part-time day student, Frank Monroe, who is a retired mathematics department head from a local high school, says he's always been interested in magic, has read several books on the subject, and is an avid follower of Blackstone.

Both gentlemen will receive a college credit upon completion of the elective, but plan to use their skills for personal pleasure.

Persons from ages 18 to 80 are finding a little knowledge in magic is useful for instructional purposes, for audience control either as a diversion or for maintaining attention, for emphasizing a message or for sheer entertainment.

Everyone from policemen and youth organizers to retired ministers and teachers can benefit from magic instruction.
