

GLEN WILLIAMS

Glen Williams area experienced numerous out-of-town visitors over the Thanksgiving weekend, motoring and viewing the beautiful fall colors on the various scenic routes. A detailed description, and route map, published last Saturday, in the Toronto Star, seemed to be the encouraging factor for the exceptionally large numbers of cars and hikers lining the picturesque river banks and roadsides, from Glen Williams through the Credit River Valley area. Those of us residing here, sometimes take for granted the beauty of the Credit River Valley. It is a worthwhile experience to travel on the quiet country roads, take a walk in the woods, or hike along the Bruce Trail, especially at this time of year.

Glen boy scouts recently took an overnight hike along the Bruce Trail in the Limehouse district. Accompanying the two leaders were 11 boys, and one venturer. The weather was ideal, and the boys had a very enjoyable time. The scout meetings are held in St. John's United Church, every Tuesday evening.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. Barth, for Thanksgiving, were Mr. and Mrs. C. Schultz of Morristan, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Spiegelberg, and Julia of Etobicoke, and Keith's mother, Mrs. Hilda Spiegelberg of Toronto. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Schneider, and their son Kevin of the 10th Line.

A world-wide communion service was celebrated last Sunday in St. John's United Church. There was a display of the fruits of harvest. The congregation was pleased to see Mrs. Shirley Inglis, the church organist, who has returned from her European holiday.

Garbage Coalition Steering Committee meeting was held at the home of Georgetown's Pollution Probe chairman, John Mitchell. The meeting was chaired by Pam Mitchell. The meeting was to decide the agenda for the future regional gathering of the Garbage Coalition, and to view the audio, visual film show, Probe 73, presented by Pollution Probe of Toronto. This mobile van film show travelled across the province during the summer months. Attending the meeting were Mrs. R. Gauthier, and Mrs. A. Cocks of Glen Williams, Bill Johnson, representative from GUARD—(Group United Against Rural Dumping) in Georgetown, Mrs. A.K. Sculthorpe of Port Hope, and representative for HOPE—(Help Organize Pollution Extermination), and Mr. and Mrs. Goughly from CCPC of Burlington. Citizens' Committee for Pollution Control; Pauline Jaffe representing CRAP—(Concerned Residents to Alleviate Pollution) from Willowdale, and two representatives from Toronto's Pollution Probe, Mr. Peter Love, and Mr. Gregory Bryce.

The next Georgetown Pollution Probe meeting is scheduled to be held on Wednesday evening, October 17th, in the Glen Hall.

Last Thursday evening's euchre session was attended by an extra large crowd, as 14 tables were put in, double the amount over the previous week. The winners on the white cards were, first, Mrs. Neil Pattulo, second, Mr. Jene Inglis, and the low score, Tony Zilo. The high for the pink cards, was Mrs. Gladys Inglis, second, Susan Brenner, and the low score, Mary Engle, and Miss Florie Alcott. During the luncheon, everyone helped to celebrate a recent birthday for Mrs. Dan Livingstone, singing Happy Birthday, and presenting her with a cake. An appreciation speech concluded the celebration.

Attributing to the success of their refreshment booth in the Georgetown Fall Fair, The Glen Williams Ladies Ball team were greatly patronized by our local people.

The UCW of St. John's United Church, reported about its monthly meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Betty Wagstaffe, a week ago Monday evening. Mrs. Wagstaffe served a luncheon. Dorothy Green took the devotional, followed by business discussions. On their agenda, the Glen UCW will help serve at a general thank-offering meeting, being held this week in St. John's United Church in Georgetown. The Padre to the Padre, Rev. Eric Nelson, will lead a discussion on Community Outreach Today. On Oct. 13, a large turnout is anticipated at a rummage sale which will take place in the Glen's basement church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Barth visited with Cecil's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Barth, a week ago Wednesday, on their farm at Blyth, where they viewed the construction of their new home, resulting from the misfortune of their loss of home by fire last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Schneider, and their son Kevin, returned home last week, having toured Northern Ontario, by way of Fenelon Falls, Bancroft, and Algonquin Park. They enjoyed a beautiful display of fall colors.
