CONTACT CENTRE OPENS

Rev. Walter Ridley of the North Halton Contact Centre takes a congratulatory telephone call from the Peel Contact Centre. The new contact centre, located in Georgetown, was officially opened last Thursday.

Donation Is Made To Contact Centre

November meeting of the Counties of Strathmore Chapter, IODE was held Monday, Nov. 12, with a good attendance. Mrs. Jas. Evans presided. The minutes and treasurer's report were given and correspondence read. A donation was made to the North Halton Contact Centre.

Peter Lauderdale was the recipient of the IODE award at the high school commencement. It was presented by Mrs. Keith Barber, educational secretary. Reports were received on the Christmas card sales and on the bridge tournament. A wreath was placed at the Cenotaph by the regent on Remembrance Day.

ASHGROVE NEWS

On Tuesday, Nov. 13, 20 women met at Hillcrest church, of the Friendship Unit, for a pot luck lunch. After the meal, delegates watched Mrs. Stan Price of Campbellville ice and decorate a large flat cake.

She explained the details as she went along. She wrote Happy Birthday in green and yellow icing and the winner of the cake was Mrs. Lillian Howden of Milton, who had a November birthday.

Because unit leader Mrs. Harvey Nurse was ill and could not attend the meeting, secretary Mrs. Ward Brownridge conducted a short business meeting.

She read a poem, Christmas Comes in Different Times, announced that the sale would be packed on Nov. 22, with articles to be left at the church by that date and that the general meeting will be held Nov. 28.

Mrs. John McNabb thanked

Mrs. Price for attending the meeting and for decorating the cake. She also thanked the lunch committee, Mrs. John Ruddle and Mrs. George Wilson.

We are all sorry to learn that Mrs. Frances Thompson fell one day recently and tore ligaments in her leg. All her friends hope that she can soon walk freely again.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sweet of Somerset, Eng., have been visiting their son and his family, Philip and Jean, and children, in Guelph, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Bird.

Remembrance Dinner Is Success

The Remembrance Dinner held on Saturday came up to and surpassed all expectations. A delicious meal was prepared and served by the women of Knox Presbyterian Church.

John T. Armstrong took up down the Memory Lanes of old Georgetown, and "Steamer" rolled them in the aisles with his colorful anecdotes about various poor unsuspecting souls in the audience.

I guess when you have a guest speaker and a master of ceremonies who know almost everyone in town a little good-natured kidding is expected, and even anticipated by the audience. The high-light of the evening was the presentation of a plaque to Miss Stone for 25 years service to Branch 120. This service takes the form of entering the names of deceased comrades in the Book of Remembrance, which Book, Miss Stone donated to Branch 120 in 1949. Music was supplied by the Peace-Setters and a good time was had by all.

Duplicate Bridge

If you make your money installing furnaces, you soon learn what it costs to run them.

Henry Mulder and Hank Oosterveld have worked up a successful little business in Guelph. They're contractors for heating equipment. Hank and Henry met when they both worked for a local heating contractor. Then 7 years ago they struck out on their own. Today these two men install all kinds of equipment, whatever a customer wants.

But when it comes to their own plant, Kenwood Mechanicals Ltd., it has to be natural gas heat. The reason is easy. In the contracting business, if you're going to make money, you've got to know what things cost. And Hank and Henry know that natural gas is the clean, efficient and economical fuel for heating and water-heating. Naturally the Mulders and the Oostervelds have natural gas furnaces at home. Plus gas water heaters, ranges and dryers. Henry and Hank know a good thing when they see it. Natural gas...it makes good dollars and sense.
