

High School Insight

by LARRY BROADFIELD AND LARRY BUSHEY

A weekend of theatre premieres tomorrow night at the high school.

The musical-comedy, "The Boyfriend", starts Thursday at 7:30 p.m., amid a flurry of costumes, colorful characters and flowing music.

The three performances will be on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Tickets, $1.50 for students and $1.75 for adults, are going fast, but will be available at the door. They are available in advance at many local stores, including the school store.

"The Boyfriend" is set in the 1920's as indicated by the costumes and plot. Included in the play will be three dances, popular in the '20's—the waltz, the Charleston and the tango.

The first act takes place at the Villa Caprice in Nice, France. The second act is on the beach in Nice and the final act is at a masquerade ball.

The plot concerns Polly Browne (played by Janet Burns) who falls in love with a messenger boy, Tony (Jack Langedyk).

Polly, a rich young lady, is forbidden to have boyfriends because her father believes they are only after her wealth. When her father, Percival Browne (Brian Gibson) comes to the Villa Caprice where she is schooling, he discovers his World War I sweetheart, Mme. Dubonnet (Daryl Harding), who is head mistress at the school.

The two fall back in love. At the same time, the other girls and boys are in the height of romance. They are: Maisie (Kim Pointz) and Bobby (Chris Burke), Fay (Helene Martineau) and Marcel (Larry Poyntz), and Dulcie (Marie Milne) and Alphonse (Marcel Fryters).

The play is largely held together by Hortense, Mme. Dubonnet's maid who is more than a maid to the girls. Enter Lord and Lady Brockhurst (David Barker and Angela Shenton) who are searching for their runaway son, Tony.

Lord Brockhurst manages to stumble into most of the romancing at the wrong times and his eye for the girls is tremendously keen.

Other performers include the dancers—Debbie Ventry, Susan Glover, Lisa Smith, Donna Jacobs, Laura Nugent and Cheryl Melton—and the garcon, Leo Postawaden.

The play promises to be a great success and Mr. P. Jones, producer-director of the play, said he expects large crowds. The band is conducted by Mr. H. Hamilton and the music coordinators are Mr. Ursei and Mrs. Prouse.

Mrs. Manning is in charge of make-up and technical director, along with the P.A. crew.

It will be a great musical. As Jack Langedyk said: "The kids try, the teachers strive, efforts over efforts. We're doing our best."

Grade 12 special physical education classes studied preschool children last Wednesday. Children from the Maple Nursery School in Cedarvale had fun in the high school gymnas as students played on the trampoline with them, ran games, had a puppet show and led a sing-song.

The program was supervised by Dan Patterson, gym teacher at the High School, and attended by many parents. Everyone had a good time.

SURPRISE PARTY
Friday was a very surprising day for many GDHS students. The most surprised of all must have been Laura Orpwood, a grade 12 student.

At the stroke of noon in the cafeteria, the lights went out, and "16 Candles" was played over the P.A. Then the flicker of flame became visible in one doorway and a huge birthday cake was carried in.

Cheryl Daw and Mary McLaughlin arranged the surprise 16th birthday celebration for Laura and it was, by all means a surprise. Laura's birthday was actually on Saturday but it wouldn't be as impressive with no one around to cheer and clap and wish Laura a Happy Birthday personally.

SACU
Wednesday, December 5 is the day on which the Service for Admission to College and University test is written this year. SACU, over the past few years has been required for entrance to many Ontario Universities. This year, however, students are not required by most Universities to take the test. Some Universities consider SACU results although they are not required and others state that SACU will neither help nor hinder chances of acceptance. From Georgetown High there are only 12 writing the test this year.
