LIMEHOUSE NEWS

The first Limehouse group committee held a meeting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stansbury. Special guests were Marge Thompson, Dawn Case and Bev Banish from the local association (Brownie and Guides). Main topic of discussion was the division of sale profits and the decision to hold a Christmas censure in the hall. The sale mentioned above was a Christmas multisaie held in the hall on Nov. 24. It was sponsored by the group committee and the local association to provide funds for the brownies, guides, cubs and the soon-to-be-resumed scouts. The day was very wet but it didn't seem to stop the people from coming to the sale. The result was a huge success. The winner of the food hamper was Michael Payne from Limehouse and the skin etching was won by John Schneider from Acton. Saturday the Cubs attended the performance of Jack and the Giant in Georgetown. Helping Akela Steve Thompson and assistant Rick Brown to supervise the 19 boys were parents Sandy Stansbury and Frank Hannah. I understand everyone had a ball. Last weekend cub leaders Elaine and Dave Hannah attended a craft course held for scouting leaders at the boy scout reserve, Blue Springs.

Leaders attending came from Sarnia to Kingston and up to Peterborough. It was a very busy weekend spent learning five new crafts and watching films on five other crafts. Elaine and Dave hope to pass on some of these crafts to the Cubs.

The W. I. held their Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Booth on Thursday evening with 18 persons attending including several husbands and other visitors.

In the short business meeting roll call was answered by naming a country other than Canada where women's institutes are organized, the motto "Each member has the opportunity to start the wheels of achievement to turn", well taken by Mrs. N. Anderson; the current events prepared by Mrs. A. W. Benton; and plans made to pack boxes for sick and shut-ins.

A number of quiz games brought prizes for Mrs. Rowley, Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Davies tied, Mrs. Banish and Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Davies tied. The rest of the evening was spent playing card games, until all joined for a big pot luck supper. Mrs. Frank Brown extended courtesies to the Booths for an enjoyable evening in their lovely home.

The Sunday school teachers entertained the children with games, lunch and gifts on Sunday. Rev. P. Barrow conducted communion services. Next Sunday, services will again commence at 9.45 a.m.
