Contact Centre Rerwording

In The Herald issue Jan. 3, appeared a story on Pg. 1 headed "Contact Centre Helping Those in Deep Distress." In the third paragraph of the sixth column, a statement read: "I imagine many of them sat home and brooded or bothered their doctors who don't have time for them." Mrs. Gail Williamson, who was quoted as such, says she would like to clarify her statement, as doctors are a great help to their operation. She said: "My statement should have said that the doctors don't have time to talk to one patient for any great length of time which is where our service comes in. The doctors are our best resource, and I hope we have not offended them."

FARM COURSE
Managing a farm business today isn't easy. New technology is constantly appearing and capital costs increasing on the fast-changing farm scene.

Limehouse W.I.

Mrs. Neil Anderson was hostess for the January W.I. meeting. Owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. Frank Brown, vice-president Mrs. Gordon Booth chaired the meeting which she opened with a prayer for peace and the hymn "Let there be peace on earth." Mrs. James Noble related a number of current events. Motto, "Human beings are tied together by feelings and ideas, not geography" introduced by Mrs. Roughley, brought discussion concerning race, etc.

Convener of Citizenship and World Affairs, Mrs. Booth, chose Australia as her topic. She mentioned that the A.C.W.W. conference was held there in 1962 and would again in October 1974. She went on to describe the geography and climate, etc. in relation to the products of the continent and the curious animals and birds found there.

Holl call was answered by naming a product of Australia and its uses, causing some of us to brush up on our geography. Mrs. W. Kirkwood volunteered to lead the Jit club in "The Cereal Shell" project. The meeting closed with the Ode and two verses of the National Anthem. The hostess served lunch to the eleven attending.

Know Your Car

Safe winter driving insurance involves many pre-season checks, but one vital system that's often overlooked is your car's power steering.

How can you tell when something's wrong? It's easy. You can feel trouble. You can hear trouble. And, you can see it.

Your hands on the wheel are a pretty sensitive indicator of steering problems. Does your car steer hard in one or both directions? After you make a turn, does your car "straighten out" readily? Does your car "wander" on the straightaway? Trouble is easy to hear, too. Any rattling, chattering, knocking, squealing or howling you hear when you make a turn indicates a problem.

Next time you park your car for awhile, check the pavement under your car. A spot of slippery-feeling fluid on your garage floor or driveway could very well be hydraulic fluid that's dripped from your power steering system.
