Zeta Alpha Sorority Holds January Meeting

The January 8 meeting of Zeta Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Carol Penney. The business meeting, after the program "About Style" was presented by Judy Lawday and Marlene Kelman. They gave a talk with illustrations on the proper makeup and clothing style for the individual person. After the program, refreshments were served by the hostess, and co-hostesses June Campbell and Ruby Garton. At the January 22 meeting held at the home of Susan Mooney, final plans were made for the "50's" party held on Saturday, Jan. 26. Everyone dressed up in the styles of the 1950's and danced to the records that were big hits back then. Plans were also finalized for the wine and cheese party to be held on February 5 with Brampton coordinating. After the meeting, Ann Devereux and Jeri Stoddart presented their program on "Our Own Home". They gave a very interesting talk about decor and how it is so important to everyone and that your home should reflect you and your family's taste. They showed ideal room settings which had been taken from design magazines and these were passed around. The girls at the meeting were divided into groups of three and were asked to describe their dream home if they were to win the million dollar olympic lottery. Ideas ranged from the lavish to living comfortably and investing their new-found wealth. After the program, refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses Linda Mullin and Helen Palmateer.

LIMEHOUSE NEWS

The local association group for Guides and Brownies met at the home of Mrs. John Case recently, with fourteen attending. They planned money raising events for the winter. After the meeting they held a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Case.

On the evening of Jan. 8, the guides met with the Norval group. District commissioner, Mrs. Melcombe, enrolled Mrs. Clifford McDonald as a guide captain.

The local association held a euche, convened by Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Garnet Case and Mrs. R. Banish in Limehouse memorial hall on Friday evening. About twenty-five attending were entertained by cards, and lunch at the end, winners being Mrs. C. Sinclair and Mr. Gord Day, with low score going to Mrs. Woodworth. Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Patterson spent several days with their sister, Mrs. S. Smith at Weston.

The Canadian magazine section of the Toronto Star on January 12 carried an article "Remember the Man" by Barry Conn Hughes. "The Man" is Robin Burner, who called Limehouse home some twenty years during his late teens and until 1969 when his mother sold the home here several months after his father, Lt. Col. K. M. Bourne, passed away.

Need Confidence After Blindness

Loss of sight should not stop anyone from being handy around the house. Most of the newly blinded adults who take instructions on home management through their CNIB office have operated homes before. "It's a matter of getting their confidence back," said CNIB district administrator, William K. Lawson, at a White Cane Week discussion about teaching blind people day-to-day skills required in the home.

Many who have just lost their sight easily recognize by touch-pipes, plumbing fixtures and wires. Locating circuit breakers, changing fuses, repairing kitchen utensils and doing general home maintenance are taught when requested. "Women as well as men should know how to repair a kettle or tighten loose screws," Mr. Lawson said.

At CNIB centres, newly blind persons learn how to manage a kitchen, use a stove and oven and cook meals. They are taught methods to make things simpler. For example, an easy way for a blind person to poach an egg is to crack the egg into a saucer and slide it into a metal ring, which has been placed in a pan of water. That way the egg stays in one spot and is easily removed.

Apartment living, which involves making beds, cleaning and doing the laundry as well, is for men too. Home management is only one part of a program in the skills of daily living. Braille, typing and white cane mobility are also taught. Last year 7,200 newly blind people in Canada took training to adjust to their families, homes and community.

Rev. Peter Barrow Guest Speaker At Mission Circle

The Mission Circle of the Christian Fellowship Baptist Church of Georgetown met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Carey for its January meeting.

The president, Mrs. Donald Livingstone, opened the evening with a hymn and prayer. Following the business meeting which included several pieces of correspondence read by the secretary Mrs. Tom Johnson, group three were in charge of the rest of the evening.

Mrs. Philip Smith presented a devotional service on our hopes for 1974. Rev. Peter Barrows was the guest speaker who spoke on the Contact Centre here in Georgetown.

Lunch was served during the social hour.

LARGE USERS
Canadians are the world's second largest users of electrical energy. In response to increasing demand, the amount of electricity produced in Canada doubles every 10 years. One quarter of a million people are directly employed by the electrical industry in Canada.

BILL McVEAN 1:05 to 3:00 p.m. weekdays

BETTY KENNEDY 3:05 to 4:00 p.m. weekdays

BILL DEEGAN 4:05 to 8:00 p.m. weekdays

First, Bill McVean He enjoys stimulating people in between appropriate music. Bill adds deft touches of humour as he voices opinions on the current scene.

Next, Betty Kennedy interviews with all kinds of interesting people whose accomplishments or ideas are noteworthy. She doesn't try to lead listeners or guests to her way of thinking. Betty Kennedy interviews have a depth and perception rarely equalled in broadcasting today.

Then, Bill Deegan He soothes nerves shattered by home-bound traffic and family menu problems, with an easy mixture of music, jokes, poems and his own philosophical notes.

Other ingredients of THE BILL DEEGAN SHOW are news commentaries with Bob Hesketh, Gordon Sinclair and Jack Donnell, weather forecasts and Bill Stephenson's "Sportviews". The Hesketh-McVean "Dialogue" feature is repeated for those who missed it earlier.

BOB HESKETH 7:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Thinking of Selling Consult a Realtor

In 1970 approximately $15,000,000 worth of real estate was sold through the Multiple Listing Services of the Brampton Real Estate Board. The board is constantly striving to establish and standardize the profession in a manner that will create and retain public confidence and respect. So if you are considering selling, look for your guide to professional services which only a Realtor can display.

Short Story IODE Contest

Mrs. E. F. MacKay, President of the Provincial Chapter of Ontario, IODE, announced today that the 28th Short Story Competition will be offered in 1974. The awards are $200 and $100.

The competition is open to writers, citizens of Canada, residing in Ontario. Closing date of contest is April 30, 1974. Chairman of the 1974 competition is Mrs. Donald Murray, Burlington. The 1974 judge, Dr. Wilfrid Eggleston, has spent most of his working life as writer, reporter, editor and instructor in writing. He began with essays, sketches, short stories and longer fiction, then became political reporter and editor. In 1974 he became the first director of the school of Journalism at Carleton University, a post which he held for 19 years. During the period 1958-1970 he gave a course in Creative Writing at the Banff School of Fine Arts every summer. He has published 10 books including a novel "The High Plains", "The Frontier" and "Canadian Letters", and an autobiography "While I Still Remember".

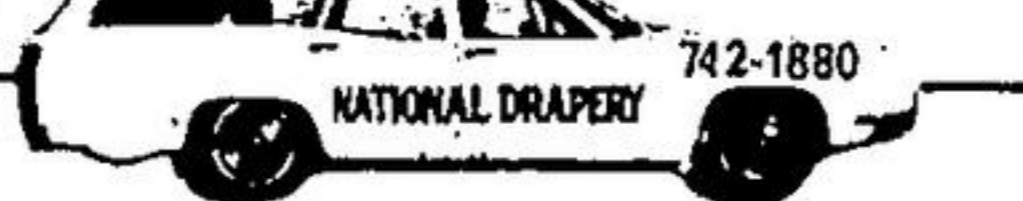

Dr. Eggleston was awarded an M.B.E. in 1943 and has received two honorary degrees: Doctor of Letters from Western University and Doctor of Laws from Carleton University. He is a graduate of Queen's University and lives in Ottawa. Conditions governing the competition should be obtained before submitting manuscripts, by contacting Provincial Chapter of Ontario, IODE, 168 Jackson St. W., Hamilton, Ontario, L8P 1L3.

Start using the Government's own rules to save a bundle on income tax. Deadline March 1st.

Here's a perfectly legal way to use the Government's own rules to save on your income tax.

The Government has a law that says, in effect: "If you save now for your retirement, you can deposit as much as $4,000 into a registered retirement savings plan every year, and we'll let you knock it off your income."

Once again this year, you can deposit up to 20% of your earned income into a Canada Trust Registered Retirement Savings Plan, and then deduct that amount from your taxable income. If you already participate in a pension plan where you work, the maximum amount deductible using both plans is $2,500. Registered Retirement Savings Plans can be especially advantageous for families where husband and wife are both wage earners.

Check how you can tee off on taxes, while saving retirement dollars.

Annual Earned Income	Maximum Allowable Contribution	Your Tax Saving	Tax Savings as a % of Contribution
$ 5,000	$1,000	$ 196	20%
7,500	1,500	403	27
10,000	2,000	585	30
15,000	3,000	1,032	34
20,000	4,000	1,677	42
30,000	6,000	1,877	47

These figures are based on 1973 income tax rates for a self-employed taxpayer (including the full marital exemption with two children, eligible for family allowances) at the average provincial tax rate of 30%. Tax savings could vary slightly depending on your province of residence.

To top it all off, the money you save can make more money. Essentially there are four ways. You can have us invest it in stocks, in bonds and mortgages, or at a guaranteed rate of interest. Or divide your money up using any combination of these three alternatives.

The beauty of it is... you can actually control the combination as your needs change over the years. And you're under no obligation to make future deposits of any size. You decide how much and how often you want to make your deposits. Some other plans require you to sign a contract that specifies a minimum annual contribution.

You can even get your money out without paying a penalty.

When you eventually choose to withdraw it, you have to pay taxes on it at that time, of course. But this is what's most important. You pay tax on your money when you decide to pay it. This means later, when you're likely in a lower tax bracket.

Moreover, we don't have a lot of salesmen out making calls, so you don't pay sales commissions.

This means, however, that you have to call us. Don't put it off. You can't deduct any deposits from your 1973 income after Friday, March 1st, 1974.

No Red Tape
There's no red tape to start a Canada Trust Registered Retirement Savings Plan... just a simple application.

A Little Short of Cash?
Even if you're short of cash, you can still take advantage of this tax saving.

Talk to us about a low-cost loan. The interest is tax deductible.

Win a 'Swinging' Holiday for Two in Sunny Acapulco
Teeing off on taxes is reason enough to start a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, but this year Canada Trust is offering an extra bonus... an opportunity to win a swinging 10-day holiday for two in beautiful Acapulco.

You get one opportunity to win this fabulous prize for every $400 you deposit to a new or existing Canada Trust Registered Retirement Savings Plan by March 1st.*

$1,000 Cash Bonus
Even better, if you make your deposit by February 15th, and you win the Acapulco holiday, you get $1,000 cash as well.

Saving for retirement can be a very rewarding experience. Make the tax rules work for you. Call or come in today. Remember the deadline.

*No entrants are entitled to more than one opportunity. The selected entrants, in order to win, will be required to correctly answer a view-oriented, 10-question quiz. Complete contest rules are on the entry coupon. This contest is available only at participating branches in the Provinces of Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario (including the City of Kingston).
