Population To Double In 30 Years

"Whatever we do, the world's population will double in 30 years. There are 3.9 births per second," reported Jane Lommel administrative coordinator for the Family Planning Federation of Canada, speaking to the members of the University Women's Club at their April meeting.

Using a series of charts, Miss Lommel examined the various aspects of the population problem. People of today are living longer as well as continuing to have large families. "However," emphasized Miss Lommel, "it is not just a number game." Growth of our numbers population versus agricultural production is another factor she said. For a while, the development of the pannaeca was hailed as the implication that no matter how many people were born, we could feed them. Forgotten, she added were such extenuating factors as the weather and amount of arable land available.

Although Canada appears to have enough land available in relation to our population size, Miss Lommel said people are unwilling to move away from the urban centres, with the result that small numbers of people put a tremendous demand on our natural resources. As a nation of consumers, she added, we consume 40 times that of a person in India.

Developing countries, like India have overstepped their limits in terms of numbers of people. This is due, she said, to advances in medicine, anti-malarial and pest measures, better child care, better obstetrical care - all excellent measures, but limited in perspective.

Miss Lommel mentioned that 1974 has been designated by the United Nations as world population year, with governmental conference being held in Bucharest this summer. In preparation for this, regional hearings are presently being held across the country.

Prior to the speaker, the president, Mrs. Beth Steele, chaired the business portion of the meeting. The proposed slate of officers presented by the nominating committee included: past president - Beth Steele, president - Mary McEwen, 1st vice president - Nan Farwell, 2nd vice president - Eleanor Scarth, recording secretary - Wendy Saxe, corresponding secretary - Lea Sieveling, treasurer - Mary Lou Young, program - Carol McMurray, membership - Wendy Reid, publicity - Lorene Morurck, social - Vivian Kruger.

Members are concentrating on the club's annual book sale to be held Saturday, May 11, at the Georgetown Market Centre.

Plans are now complete for the spring luncheon on April 27 with Laura Sakia as the guest speaker.

The annual meeting will be held May 7, at 8 p.m. at the Canada Trust Building. The club will resume activities in September on the first Tuesday of every month.

Halton Hills Topic For Local Council

The local chapter of the Council of Women met last Friday at St. George's Anglican Church. The topic was "Halton Hills—Where it's at" and the discussion ranged from the new recreational centre to increasing membership.

Mrs. Mary Simpson, acting chairman, is seeking to unify the organization with the women of Halton Hills region.

"With the advent of regional government", she said, "the local council is in the unique position to provide a channel of communication and to promote a feeling of unity among the women of Halton Hills."

She emphasized that the council, a composite of representative from different community organizations, can be a strong voice in the community.

"It is time for us to examine our aims and possibilities for the future", she said. "We represent a broad concept of local opinion", she added, saying they could be very influential in many situations.

"In the meantime" she said, "we should seek the membership of individuals and organizations in Esquimaux and Acton, wards 1 and 2 of Halton Hills."

The local council is currently made up of representatives of the Canadian Red Cross Society, the Arts and Crafts of Georgetown, the Mission Circle of Mountainview Baptist Church, the Countess of Strathmore Chapter of the I.O.D.E., the Catholic Women's League, the University Women's Club, and individual members.

The Georgetown council, founded in 1921, is part of the International Council of Women. The organization is broken down into four levels - internationally, nationally, provincially and locally.

It's aims are "to take up causes for which need is evident."
