

Halton Hills Cancer Drive Exceeded Quota By $15,500

Halton Hills cancer drive exceeded its 1974 quota of $15,500 by more than $2,000, reported campaign chairman June Magnuson. "This excellent result was due to the effort of 600 volunteer canvassers, the co-operation received from the people of Halton Hills and the news media," she said. Fifty-eight per cent of cancer funds are used for research, 15 per cent for service to patients, 13 per cent for education, three per cent to operate the lodges, five per cent for campaign expenses and six per cent for administration. In addition to the financial support, there are thousands of volunteers who give their time and talent during the year to the Cancer Society because they believe.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Local Delegates Attend Boston Meeting

Christian Scientists from Georgetown attending the annual meeting of the denomination's international headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts heard that today's need for moral integrity is one of the most obvious urgencies in our society. DeWitt John a former editor of The Christian Science Monitor and new Chairman of

The Christian Science five member board of directors, told the gathering that there is an answer to the widespread confusion in the world. "At the heart of all today's needs," he said, "is the need for spiritualization of thought. Undestroyed materialism is what would prevent healing, and reduce society to confusion."

"Honesty is spiritual power. Dishonesty is human weakness, which forfeits divine help," said Mr. John, quoting from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Mr. John added, "We all know that the practice of honesty begins with ourselves - with the thinking and actions of every individual, in our business and professional life, in guiding and instructing our children, in all our human relationships."

SPIRITUAL POWER
"Spiritualization of thought reveals a new heaven and new earth, present here and now in which man is armed with spiritual power, dominion, and intelligence." So important is this spiritualization of thought that it is the theme of this year's annual meeting and it is also a basic theme of a series of healing goal meetings being held in many areas of North America.

INTEGRITY
"Divine Principle (God) is the real source of integrity and justice for every nation. And our individual adherence to Principle is a powerful help in demonstrating God's government among men."

Eric Bole of London, England a trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society noted that periodicals in Spanish and Portuguese are now being published monthly for the first time, and that more than 20 new translations were issued in the past year.

"The Christian Science Monitor continues to report the problems facing mankind, and as with The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel and Herald, shows us how to confront these problems - how to be these problem solvers, not problem dodgers,"

FLOATING TOYS
Floating toys can be blown away by the wind or spurt from tiny damp hands. In an attempt to recover his toy, a child can be lured into deep water. Keep beach balls on the beach and rubber ducks in the bathtub. Protect your child and keep in the swim with Red Cross Water Safety all summer long.

CEMETERY SERVICE (Herald Photo)
The 20th annual remembrance service at Glen Williams cemetery was interrupted Sunday by a sudden rain shower but not before the choir and 40 participants sang the hymns Tell Me The Old, Old Story and On A Hill Far Away Steed A Rough Wooden Cross. The program included a solo sung by Mrs. Jean Hancock, scripture readings and a service conducted by Jack Armstrong.

Halton Evangelistic Team Concludes Canada Crusade

While federal politicians swing into the last three weeks of the election campaign, another trans-Canada crusade has just concluded in the nation's capital. Canadian evangelist Ken Campbell of Halton and his team climaxed a coast-to-coast inter-church preaching mission which has included visits to every provincial capital over the past six months, with a Saturday night rally and Sunday services in Ottawa. Designated Operation Reconciliation, this national evangelistic thrust was proposed, in Campbell's words, "to rouse the church, to lead the nation, to find its soul."

The itinerary, which began in Winnipeg last November, took the team, composed of Campbell's long-time friend and colleague, Gospel musician Jim Reese, and the St. Catharines based "Messengers Quartet," through to Victoria, B.C. As well as the provincial capitals, other communities, large and small, in which the Campbell-Reese Team has conducted many of their nearly 400 crusades during the past 13 years of ministry throughout Canada, were also on their schedule. Following the western swing, the same team toured through many parts of Ontario late in 1973 and early in 1974. The brilliant young piano virtuoso Larry Campbell of Johnson City, Tennessee, accompanied the Campbell-Reese Team through the third stage of "Operation Reconciliation" in Quebec and the Maritimes, concluding in Ottawa today. It is estimated that close to 40,000 persons attended the rallies and related services in more than 75 centres visited by the Team in "Operation Reconciliation."

CRUSADE RALLY
It has been nearly 15 years since the late British evangelist, Tom Rees, attempted the last such across-Canada crusade-rally tour. The Team is scheduled to cap off "Operation Reconciliation" with a week of ministry in each of the north and the south of Ireland in mid-summer. Ironically, in the midst of Operation Reconciliation, Mr. Campbell found himself thrust into the centre of a swirl of controversy in his own home area, the Halton Region of Ontario, in late February, when he protested the visit of Gay Lib to a Grade 12 health class studying human sexual compatibility in the high school his daughters attend.

In what might be termed Operation Confrontation, Mr. Campbell refused to pay the educational portion of his property taxes to protest what he termed the "totalitarian secularism" which he claims dominates the public educational system of Ontario. The Halton Renaissance Committee, a grass-roots movement of concerned parents and rate-payers seeking to restore the responsibility of the public educational system to those who pay for it and entrust their children to it, was initiated through Mr. Campbell's protest and now numbers close to 600 members. This non-sectarian, non-partisan committee is preparing a brief for the trustees of the Halton Board of Education, proposing educational reform in areas ranging from curriculum content and teaching methods to the philosophical pluralism needed to serve the present pluralistic society.

Late in March, one night after the Renaissance regional rally, midnight visitors threw a fist-sized rock through a bedroom window at the Campbell residence scattering glass throughout the room where 10-year-old Kathy and 6-year-old Shelly were sleeping. NO DANGERS Mr. Campbell laughs about
