

Living Standard Blocking Action

For what shall it profit a nation if it doubles its gross national product in 15 years and allows its physical environment to deteriorate at the same rate at the same time?

To what extent can we have effective pollution control without seriously slowing down economic growth and increasing unemployment?

Suppose that in your community there is a plant manufacturing pollutants, but that its processes put polluting gases into the atmosphere and poisons into the local river.

And suppose that the cost of controlling such pollution is economically prohibitive, that it would price those pollutants right out of the market.

And suppose that the plant employs 200 persons—your friends and neighbors, perhaps you. And suppose you own a few shares in the company. What would you think should be done?

Effective pollution control may require some quite radical changes in our economic structures and operations. It is obvious that it will require some public controls which many industries will not like. And large sums of public money will be needed for cleanup programs—and that will touch the purses of all of us. It has been said that smog is a deadly mixture of smoke, fog, and legislative inaction. But we ordinary voters can have quite a bit to do with the action, and the inaction, of the legislators we elect.

But politicians are a wily breed, and they know how easy it is for citizens to make idealistic and compassionate noises without seriously considering the sacrifices they may have to make if those noises are to be acted on.

How much pollution are you willing to tolerate rather than accept a drop in your standard of living? (Unchurched Editorials).

New Incentives Announced In Milk Incentive Program

Ontario's minister of agriculture and food, William A. Stewart, has announced the introduction of a new Industrial Milk Production Incentive Program for 1974.

In effect from July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975, the new program will continue to encourage the expansion of industrial milk production and the modernization of production facilities in a manner similar to the original 1973 Industrial Milk Incentive Program.

"Our success with the 1973-74 program has convinced us of the need to continue the incentive program for another year to help ensure the retention of Ontario's portion of the Canadian Dairy Commission's Market-Sharing Quota. Consumer demand for industrial milk products—namely butter, cheese and powdered milk—has further strengthened our desire to provide a system of expanding Ontario's industrial milk output," said Mr. Stewart.

Under last year's program, an estimated 1,863 loans were recommended totalling over $26 million for an average of $12,419 per loan. The anticipated increase in industrial milk, as a result of the program, has surpassed original expectations by 22 per cent to a total of close to 304 million pounds.

The main features of the 1974 program are essentially unchanged from the previous program:

- five-year guaranteed bank loans
- no repayment of principal in the first year
- grants of up to 20 per cent of the principal payable to farmers if all commitments are met
- can shippers of industrial milk to convert to bulk milk tanks in order to obtain loans.
- "We must encourage and assist Ontario's 4,800 industrial milk producers shipping in cans to convert to modern bulk handling. Once the switch is made, milk productivity will hopefully increase for the individual producer," commented Mr. Stewart.

Eligible farmers must be holders of a milk production license and suppliers of milk in the Group 1 or Group 11 Pool or sell their cream to an Ontario creamery.

Interested applicants will be assisted by the local staff of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the field staff of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board in determining how great an increase in milk production is attainable, and how much money should be borrowed in relation to the repayment capabilities of each case. Grants under the program are over and above the grants available under the Capital Grants Program of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Initial inquiries should be directed to the local office of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, and not to the local bank.

Gains Up And Running Cheques Distributed

At the end of this week, 254,339 qualifying elderly residents of Ontario will have received a total of $5,877,504 in Gains cheques. The blind and disabled over 65 who qualify for family benefits will receive their cheques at the end of July.

"On April 9, when the guaranteed annual income system was announced in the budget, the ministry of revenue was assigned the task of administering gains for residents over 65. We started from scratch with absolutely no staff or facilities budget morning and, in less than three months, with the excellent cooperation of the federal national health and welfare department, we've set up the operation and issued the cheques for the month of July," Arthur Meen, minister of revenue, announced.

To date, the ministry's information centre has received more than 15,000 telephone calls from residents asking for information about gains, the new government of Ontario program which guarantees a total annual income of $2,600 to all qualifying residents over 65 and the blind and disabled in the province who qualify under the family benefits act administered by the ministry of community and social services.

"There are still a number of residents who may qualify for gains and we urge them to give our information centre a call. Generally speaking, these

James Snow Lends Name To 3G

TORONTO BUREAU OF The Herald

Township 3 G in the Algoma District will appear on future maps as Snow Township.

The township, first surveyed in 1909, was named after James

Snow (PC-Halton East) by the provincial committee to name numbered and lettered townships in Northern Ontario.

The names of the 358 unnamed townships were chosen from among provincial members, mayors and reeves of Northern Ontario communities, Indian chiefs, historic persons, and World War II dead from Northern Ontario.

Mr. Snow was among 55 of the 117 provincial members who allowed their names to be used. The remaining members had names identical or similar to existing townships. Six members didn't want their names used.

The townships maintained their numbers following the early 1900 surveys. Last year the ministry of natural resources formed a committee of five provincial members from Northern Ontario to name the townships.

New maps designating name changes are expected within the next two or three months.

Treatment Centre For Handicapped

The Credit Valley Association for Handicapped Children has planned a $1,000,000 treatment centre for crippled children in part of the Erin Mills Development at the southwest corner of Erin Mills Parkway and Burhamthorpe Road.

Detailed planning is underway. The ministry of health is budgeting for two-thirds of the approved cost in 1975-76. The opening is expected to be in the school year 1976-77. Approximately 750 Halton and Peel children will be served on an in-patient and out-patient basis.

A summer recreation program is being held by the Credit Valley Association for Handicapped Children at ABC Nursery, Mississauga. The program accommodates approximately 18 children, ages up to about six years, for each week.

Transportation is provided by special bus in the Mississauga area.

This is a joint project of the South Peel Association for the Mentally Retarded and the
