

Wartime Personnel Wanted For Reunion

Sir: RCAF veterans who trained during the last war at the Flying Training School in Dunnville will be observing their 25th annual reunion.

During the years, the news media has greatly assisted in publicizing this rather unique celebration, and such assistance has added tremendously to the success of these reunions. Through your kind co-operation and effort in the past we have "found" veterans who otherwise would never have heard of this annual event. We are hoping you can help us again this year by announcing our forthcoming reunion.

cakes and sausages, prepared by Mayor Lundy of Dunnville.

For further information please contact Frank Schofield, Secretary, Box 187, Dunnville, Ontario, who will be only too pleased to send all the details and place your name of the permanent mailing list.

Again we respectfully solicit your assistance and co-operation and assure you the same will be most appreciated.

Frank Schofield, General Secretary.

years. I wonder if Mrs. Hutchison has noticed even one ad? Or would she care if we had gone broke.

Like a lot of other stores in this town which tried to cater to decent and moral people who did their shopping out of town.

Again, I say thank-you for the free publicity, because she could have picked a store that has four times the number of T-shirts that we carry.

By the way, if she needs help with young people, we are also concerned.

Cleaner Environment Is Student Interest

Summer jobs come in all sizes and shapes. Some college students are spending this summer working to create plans for a cleaner environment.

Some college students are receiving support from a science foundation to express in concrete terms their concern for society and the environment. The science foundation program supports student-planned and student-directed projects to improve the quality of our lives.

A faculty advisor is associated with each student research group, which consists of 5 to 12 students; the foundation insists that the real initiative and responsibility rest with the students.

Eight students are studying how the college can become energy self-sufficient by investigating whether such energy sources as organic waste, wood, wind, flowing water, and the sun are capable of meeting the college's energy demands.

Traffic noise and the human stress that it causes is the subject of a project by one group of students who are comparing the performances and levels of annoyance of a group of persons exposed to varying levels of highway noise.

Another group of students are investigating the possibility of making coal a cleaner fuel by testing the use of acids and coal particles to remove sulfur dioxide, heavy metals, and other pollutants from coal-burning systems.

Young people can help make a more livable world, and can volunteer to work for cleaner air.

Couple Are Delegates To Annual Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mills of Halton Hills last week joined 730 delegates from seven states, six provinces and three other countries at the 25th annual convention of the National Association of Animal Breeders. The meeting of the artificial insemination industry this year was held in Toronto the first time in 17 years that it has been held outside the United States.

The purpose of the artificial breeding is cattle improvement, and the keynote speaker recognized this fact. Charles Munro, president of the International Federation of Livestock Producers chose as his subject A View On Livestock Production Potential.

"Food demand is expected to increase at the rate of about three per cent per year," he said. "I believe that the breeder organizations which you head and work for must play a leading role in assisting with the improvements necessary."

In his annual report, executive secretary William Durfee traced the progress of artificial insemination during the past three years. Sales of dairy bull semen last year in the U.S. totalled more than 12 million units, up six per cent since 1971. Beef bull semen sales were over three million units, an increase of 37 per cent over 1971. His advice to the delegates for continued success sounded promising for the AI customer-breeder.

"We must provide continuing management training and assistance as a significant part of our sales program, and as new breeds shake down we must develop sire evaluation programs in beef."

On the Canadian scene, the number of cows bred artificially in 1973 was the highest on record, with licensed inseminators breeding 1,325,333 cows, an increase of eight point two per cent over 1972.

Senior Citizens Receive Grant

OTTAWA—Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde has announced a $2,265 federal grant to a Halton Region organization, Milton Senior Citizens' Club, for its senior citizens' orchestra.

The funding was contained in the 19th series of grants under the New Horizons program which was designed in 1972 to assist the retired in developing activities beneficial to themselves and their communities.

Since its inception, grants totalling $14,645,874 have financed 2,675 projects involving 563,435 people, the minister said.

OPP REPORT $14,000 Loss In Collisions

During the week of Aug. 4 to 11, members of the Ontario Provincial Police detachment at Milton investigated a total of 120 occurrences, including 102 general occurrences and 18 traffic occurrences.

Of the 102 general occurrences, there were: eight inaccurate buildings, four disturbances, four domestic complaints, three thefts, six trespassing complaints and six violations under the liquor control act.

Of the 18 motor vehicle collisions, there were seven personal injury collisions and 11 property damage collisions, totaling $14,000 in damages. On Monday, Aug. 5, at 6:50 a.m. on Halton Road 13, a vehicle driven by Violet Fendley, 551 Main St., Glen Williams, was in collision with a post on the east side of the roadway. There were minor injuries to the driver and $2,000 damage to the vehicle. The driver was treated at Georgetown District Memorial Hospital and was released.

On Wednesday, Aug. 7, at 7 p.m., on Halton Road Three, a vehicle driven by Chris Richardson, R.R. 2, Milton, came into collision with a vehicle driven by Howson Ruddle, Georgetown. Both Richardson and Ruddle received minor injuries and there was approximately $300 total damage to the vehicles.

In provincial court, criminal division, on Wednesday, Aug. 7, Howard Gibbon 45, no fixed address was found guilty of driving while disqualified and was fined $300 and prohibited from driving for one year.

As a result of a mishap on 25 highway, March 1, Gary Mayes of Milton was convicted of dangerous driving and fined $200. He was prohibited from driving for nine months.

GUIDE TO PARENTS

Rules Help Ease Fears From Child Molestation

Ontario Provincial Police are endeavoring to set out some basic instructions about a difficult subject, child molestation.

"It is not our intention to emphasize this problem in such a way as to create a constant state of fear among children, nor do we suggest that sex crimes to adolescents be described in gruesome detail. Instead, it is our hope that we can obtain your assistance in teaching these rules to the children under your care," reads a police report released by Constable L. Scott, community services officer, Milton detachment.

One of the outstanding characteristics of children is their natural friendliness. "Our major problem is teaching the child to respect adults and yet avoid other adults who may harm him."

"We trust this guide will serve a useful purpose in preventing child molestation tragedies," said Constable Scott.

RULE NO. 1—KNOW HOW TO USE THE TELEPHONE.
Children love to use the telephone. Give them a toy telephone. Let them practise dialling the number of their own home, the home of a close friend and their father's place of employment. Finally, teach them telephone manners and encourage them to use the real thing as much as possible.

RULE NO. 2—KNOW HOME ADDRESS AND PARENT'S FULL NAME.
If lost or in trouble, it is natural for any child to panic. Knowing his name, address and telephone number will be of great assistance in locating his home. All policemen and most adults will be co-operative in such cases.

RULE NO. 3—THE POLICEMAN IS A FRIEND
Instead of threatening the child that the policeman will get him, teach him to turn to the police when help is needed. Remind the youngster that most policemen are in uniform and in official cars. Also, report any suspicious behaviour to the police department. If, after careful observation, you become convinced that someone is loitering around the school, or other places where children gather, ask the police department to check. It is better to be safe than sorry. Your action could save a child's life.

RULE NO. 4—COURTEOUS CONDUCT WITH STRANGERS Teach the child not to accept candy, money or gifts from anyone outside his own family. Prepare him to answer—"No, thank you, I am not allowed to accept anything from a stranger." Encourage it, and prevent the child's forgetting some other time. Tell the child not to sit on strangers' laps or let them touch him.

RULE NO. 5—NEVER ACCEPT CAR RIDES FROM A STRANGER
Warn the child NEVER to accept a car ride from a stranger. Teach him not to approach the car of a stranger and never allow him to hitchhike. Advise him that it is not all right to ride with a stranger, even if his playmate is anxious to accept such a ride. Such an experience could be disastrous, even for a trip around the block.

RULE NO. 6—GET THE LICENCE NUMBER
Teach the child that if a stranger tries to get him into a car, he should refuse and "GET THE LICENCE NUMBER" of the car. Write it down, or scratch the number in the dirt with a stick. Report the incident to parents or a policeman right away.

RULE NO. 7—PLAY WITH A FRIEND, NEVER ALONE
The child should always be encouraged to play with a friend, never alone. Playing alone in an isolated area invites trouble. Instruct him never to play in empty buildings or alleyways, and never accept an invitation from a stranger to go to a movie, or accompany him to a room, house, garage or shed.

RULE NO. 8—KEEP A PET
If at all possible, keep a dog. A good watchdog is the best burglar alarm there is. Children who play in the yard, on the playground, or run errands, with a faithful dog at their heels are seldom, if ever molested.

RULE NO. 9—WHAT ABOUT THE BABYSITTER?
Are you positive of your babysitter? Be sure you hire someone you know and can trust.
Check the qualifications of every babysitter before hiring them. A complete course of instruction for babysitters is available from the Ontario safety league to schools or community groups, at no charge.

RULE NO. 10—KNOW WHERE THEY ARE
On school days, make sure the child starts in plenty of time to walk to school with classmates and friends of his own age. Advise him to go directly home the best and shortest route, unless there are other plans or errands known to you. Be sure you know where your child is playing and with whom. If he goes to a playmate's home, be sure he telephones home to say where he is.
