

IN A PRESENTATION made last Wednesday members of the Red Cross Youth Branch donated a new child's wheelchair to the Red Cross Loan Cupboard to be used free by those requiring a chair. At the presentation were: Richard Ferrot of the Red Cross; Crystal Thorogood, Youth Chairman; and Judge Ken Langdon. One member of the organization decided to try the chair for comfort before it was officially presented.

Local Status of Women committee now formed

At the December business meeting of the Local Council of Women a standing Committee on the Status of Women was formed and will be co-chaired by Peggy Balkind and Sylvia Oprica. This committee will be involved in planning projects for International Women's Year in 1975.

A letter will be sent out to women's organizations in early January to arrange a meeting to co-ordinate events for IWY. Barbara Cocks and Jean Gauthier reported on the semi-annual provincial conference of the Council of Women which they attended in Ottawa last month. At the two-day conference over 50 delegates from all Ontario heard action reports from the locals and from the chairpeople of provincial study committees. Topics for discussion ranged from education and day-care to regionalism and family law.

Town mourns E. Malison

Edward E. Malison, a well known twenty-five-year resident of Georgetown died last Wednesday at the age of 61. Born and raised in Guelph, Mr. Malison moved to Georgetown after marriage and opened an office as public accountant.

During his residence in Georgetown Mr. Malison served on the parking authority and the separate school board. He is survived by his wife Gladys and three children, Colleen, Stewart and Philip. Brothers and sisters, Ado Newt, Neva (Mrs. A. Ferraro) and Mary (Mrs. Nick DiCarlo) are presently living in Guelph.

Long-time resident dies

An area resident since the age of four, Mrs. Cora Adeline Snyder, died at St. Joseph's Extended Care Hospital at Guelph, November 22 of this year.

Daughter of William David Johnston and Mary Adeline Thompson, Mrs. Snyder lived in Stewarttown from the age of four, moving with her parents to Charles Street in Georgetown. With the exception of a few months following her marriage she lived at 16 Albert Street.

She attended Stewarttown Public School and later became a seamstress, until she married.

Indecent exposure

A 20-year-old Georgetown man was charged by Acton OPP with committing an indecent act Saturday, at the entrance to an Acton town park.

Michael Guyes of 210 Mountview Road, Georgetown, is scheduled to appear in court February 12, 1975.

Rec. people want Levy

Councillor Harry Levy has been nominated to represent Halton Hills council on the special fund-raising committee for the new Georgetown recreation centre on Guelph Street.

The committee had requested one member of council to be their liaison, and recreation director Doug Collison suggested Mr. Levy during the general administration committee meeting last Monday.

"Mr. Levy has been involved in the project since it began," he said. "He comes to the meetings, and is a member of the finance committee too."

Councillor Ric Morrow volunteered to be the alternative member, if Councillor Levy was not able to attend the meetings.

Santa's a busy man in Norval

Santa Claus was a very busy fellow in Norval on Sunday, December 15. First he arrived at Norval Presbyterian Church to visit the children (and adults) at their Christmas concert, then he went down to St. Paul's Anglican Church Sunday School Christmas party and was a big hit with the children and adults there. Perhaps Randy Fendley could tell you how he arrived in the village and what other appointments he had for the day as he was in touch with the North Pole to make all the arrangements.

Christmas poem, after which all classes of the Sunday School presented a Nativity pageant with Carol Little and Susan Smith reading the various scripture verses. Karen Cunningham and Marliou Davis sang a duet "O Little Town of Bethlehem" accompanied by Penny Davis. During the pageant all joined in singing several Christmas carols with Mrs. G. Sharpe at the piano. Santa Claus arrived to distribute the gifts from the tree much to the enjoyment of old and young alike.

United Church enjoyed a euchar party at the home of Paul and Betty Johnson on Wednesday evening, December 11 with 39 present. Winners of the euchar were: Mrs. Jean Dunlop, women's high, and Mrs. Mary Crawford, women's low. For the men, Gordon Laidlaw won the high prize and Gordon Reid the low.

During the business meeting plans were made for the New Year's Eve party to be held again this year in the Stewarttown Hall.

John and Jean Dunlop's group were in charge of the enjoyable evening which ended with lunch and a social time.

Mrs. Ralf Karlsson (the former Connie Carter) and her three and a-half-month-old baby boy, Damian, of Vancouver, B.C. are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ormle Carter, for the Christmas holidays.

Sympathy is extended to Al and Barbara Ferri, RR 2 Norval, and their family, on the death of Barbara's aunt, Mrs. Vera Taylor, in Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital. The funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, December 15 at the McClure-Jones Funeral Home, Georgetown.

Mrs. Taylor will be missed by her many friends in the village and district as she had made her home with her late sister and the late Harold and Mazie Gollop, following the death of her husband in Guelph. She attended St. Paul's Anglican Church and was a member of the Norval Women's Institute. She was quite active until her death and enjoyed assisting the Ferri family with their "pick your own" strawberries in the spring and their apple business in the fall.

She is survived by a son, William A. Taylor of Guelph, and a daughter, Mary Elizabeth (Mrs. William Stanton) of Hamilton.

A private interment was held on Monday in Guelph.

Norval Presbyterian Church held a White Gift service on Sunday morning, December 14. The gifts were presented during the morning service for use at the Scott Mission, Toronto.

Following the service a lunch of sandwiches and cookies was enjoyed in the basement and then the Sunday School pupils presented their Christmas concert with Rev. Howard Smith presiding.

All classes of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Sunday School Norval, presented a Nativity play in the church on Sunday afternoon, December 15 with Andrew Dewhurst playing the organ for the Christmas carols, after which a party for the baby Jesus was held in the Parish Hall with children and parents enjoying lunch. A highlight of the afternoon was the arrival of Santa Claus to hand out the gifts from the tree.

Mrs. R. Ruggie, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. C. Coomber were the teachers who planned the enjoyable afternoon.

Unit One of Norval United Church Women met at the home of the president, Mrs. Guy Wilson, for their Christmas polka luncheon on Friday afternoon, December 13 with 15 present.

Following the delicious buffet luncheon Mrs. Wilson presided for the meeting. Mrs. Dan Wey gave a Christmas theme devotional. The nominating committee reported that the executive for the new year would be: President, Mrs. Gordon Miller; First vice-president, Mrs. Ed McLean; Secretary, Mrs. Percy Laidlaw; Treasurer, Mrs. Dan Wey; Social Committee, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Murray Laird, and Mrs. Lorne Cleave; Pianist, Mrs. Sam Shaw; Flowers, Mrs. Bill Graham and Mrs. Norman Laidlaw.

The roll call was answered with a Christmas thought or poem and a present for our friend for the year. Finding out was our unknown friend for the past year was surprising and a lot of fun. Names were drawn for the following year and the meeting was closed with prayer by the president.

Halton Hills council decided to support a request for funds from the Georgetown and District good neighbor service's 1974 Christmas fund. The finance and personnel committee recommended town officials donate the same amount paid last year by councils in the former towns of Acton and Georgetown and township of Esqueping. Only the Georgetown figure of $150 was known at Monday's council meeting.

Good receive donation

Christmas partying pilferers are apparently planning a festive bash this season, judging from the articles taken. Eight floodlights and a set of colored Christmas lights were removed from the front lawns of five Georgetown residences over the weekend. To provide music, thieves stole an eight-track tape deck from a parked car belonging to Mr. Harry Allen, Maple Ave, Georgetown, and to complete the festivities two cases of beer were removed from a truck parked on Mill Street.

are you burning too much fuel

You probably are if your furnace is 15 years old.

That's worth knowing when fuel prices are up!

You can add a humidifier, central air conditioning and an electronic air cleaner whenever you want.

For oil, gas or electric furnaces call the best furnacemen in town.
