

Books make an interesting story

By Mrs. Winifred Smith Ballinafad Women's Institute.
Mrs. F. Smith was hostess for the February meeting of the Mrs. Wm McLean, president, opened the meeting with a reading from the Federated News followed by all repeating the WI Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

Mrs. R. B. Kirkwood, as convener of education and cultural activities, was asked to proceed with the program as the guest speaker had another engagement later in the afternoon. When the motto had been given by Mrs. Jamieson and two-minute reports given by the convenors it was time to introduce Mrs. Longstreet, the librarian at Erin Public School. Her talk was most interesting and enlightening. She named many books which she recommended reading and said that too often the best sellers are not always the best to read. Mrs. Longstreet named the variety of books available ranging from books on gardening, crafts, and medicine to true stories of pioneer Canadians. She finished the story of books by noting that the Bible was still the most popular book of all. It contains stories of lawyers, judges, prophets, love, tragedy and many others from beginning to end. Mrs. McLean, on behalf of members and visitors, thanked the speaker for taking time from her busy schedule, particularly at such short notice. A cup of tea was then served and Mrs. Longstreet left. The president then took the chair again and continued on with the business part of the meeting. It was reported that the new club got underway for the 4-11 Homemaking Club. There are two clubs for this project with one group representing the north and the other the south of Ballinafad. The FWIO president's letter was read, also a thank you letter from the chairman of the Erland Lee Home Fund thanking the branch for its recent donation.

Mrs. Jamieson, district president, noted that, as this is International Women's Year, there was to be a special meeting with a speaker sometime in March. The meeting then adjourned. Sympathy is extended to the Brownridge family and to Robert and Stewart Miller on the loss of Mrs. Tom Brownridge whose death occurred over the weekend in a Toronto hospital. Mrs. Brownridge was the former Laura Miller and lived in the Ballinafad area before her marriage.

Mrs. Yvonne Garton of Pembroke spent some time recently with her mother, Mrs. Archie McEnery. Yvonne accompanied her sister Jean King on a flight to Mexico where they spent a few days holidaying. Mrs. R. B. Kirkwood was a delegate to attend the Liberal convention in Windsor. She left on Friday and returned home Sunday afternoon. Dan O'Connor competed with other finalists in the O'Keefe Bowling Tournament on Sunday. He placed ninth among the 85 competing.
