Spring

By Richard Ruggle, Incumbent of

with St. Paul's Church, Norval

Thousands of years before Lord Tennyson wrote of "a young man's fancy" turning to thoughts of love in spring-time, the Bible had described the same thing. By the time this piece is printed, we may be in the midst of a last, blustery storm before winter capitulates. But already we have felt the warming sun, and seen the rain washing away winter's grime, and breathed the fresh air, and thought about the crocuses and the new leaves that will soon be budding out. It's a happy circumstance that the church celebrates the new life that God gives us in Christ, at a time when his world itself seems to be by some young people to whom he had explained that our or "lenthen". The kids hadn't noticed the days getting longer. When it gets dark, you flick a switch and the lights come on; so we've dulled the difference between night and day. We eat frozen foods the year round, and so we erase some of the difference between winter and summer. For some of us, we might just as well live in a capsule in the dark ocean depths, where there is no night or day; no

Yet we, of all people, should appreciate the seasons.

Fifty years ago A. Y. Jackson wondered why our artists should go to Europe to paint smelly canals, when they had such a wealth in the Canadian landscape: "In summer it was green, raw greens all in a tangle; in autumn it flamed with red and gold; in winter it was wrapped in a blanket of dazzling snow, and in the springtime it roared with run-
