Seniors enjoy the sun

The Blue Triangle Club, the Georgetown YM-YWCA's senior citizens group, enjoyed the fantastic spring weather last Tuesday afternoon, with a picnic in Cedarvale Park.

Everyone got into the spirit of things with games and relay races after which the group's regular bi-monthly meeting was held. Several merchants and firms, including the Boar's Head Butcher Shop, Caruso's Fruit Market, William Neilson Ltd., Towne Sewing Centre, by Bettianne, and Pro Hardware, contributed prizes and food for the event for which the seniors pass along their thanks.

Welcome spring

Spring was ushered in with a song and dance at Howard Wrigglesworth Public School last Thursday as the staff and students displayed their talents to 200 interested parents.

The intermediate choir of Rick McKeown sang several numbers after opening the evening with "O Canada," "Down by the Riverside" and "Alleluia" closed that section of the program.

"Carpenter, Carpenter," "Over in the Meadow" and "The Little Doves" were the selections presented by the primary choir.

The girls' gymnastic event featured Sherri Marshall, Carrie-Lee Bastedo, Darlene Bastedo, June Hatcher, and Kathy Smeaton.

A triple chorale of Ian McClaren, Kathleen Turwick, Kim Stewart, Bonnie Hatcher, Beth Jameson and Sherri Marshall, presented "Daisy and the Handsome Butcher."

The junior choir presented five songs with Beth Jameson assisting on the guitar. Sue Dunning led the choir through "Michael Row Your Boat," "Skip to My Lou," "My Padle," "Frere Jacques" and "This Land."

A second display of gymnastics showed the talents of the Wrigglesworth Gymnasts with Brent Hayes, Shaun Zuber and Rick Poot and Steve Hurren assisting.

The Ukrainian Folk Dancers, led by teacher Sue Dunning, closed the hour-long presentation.

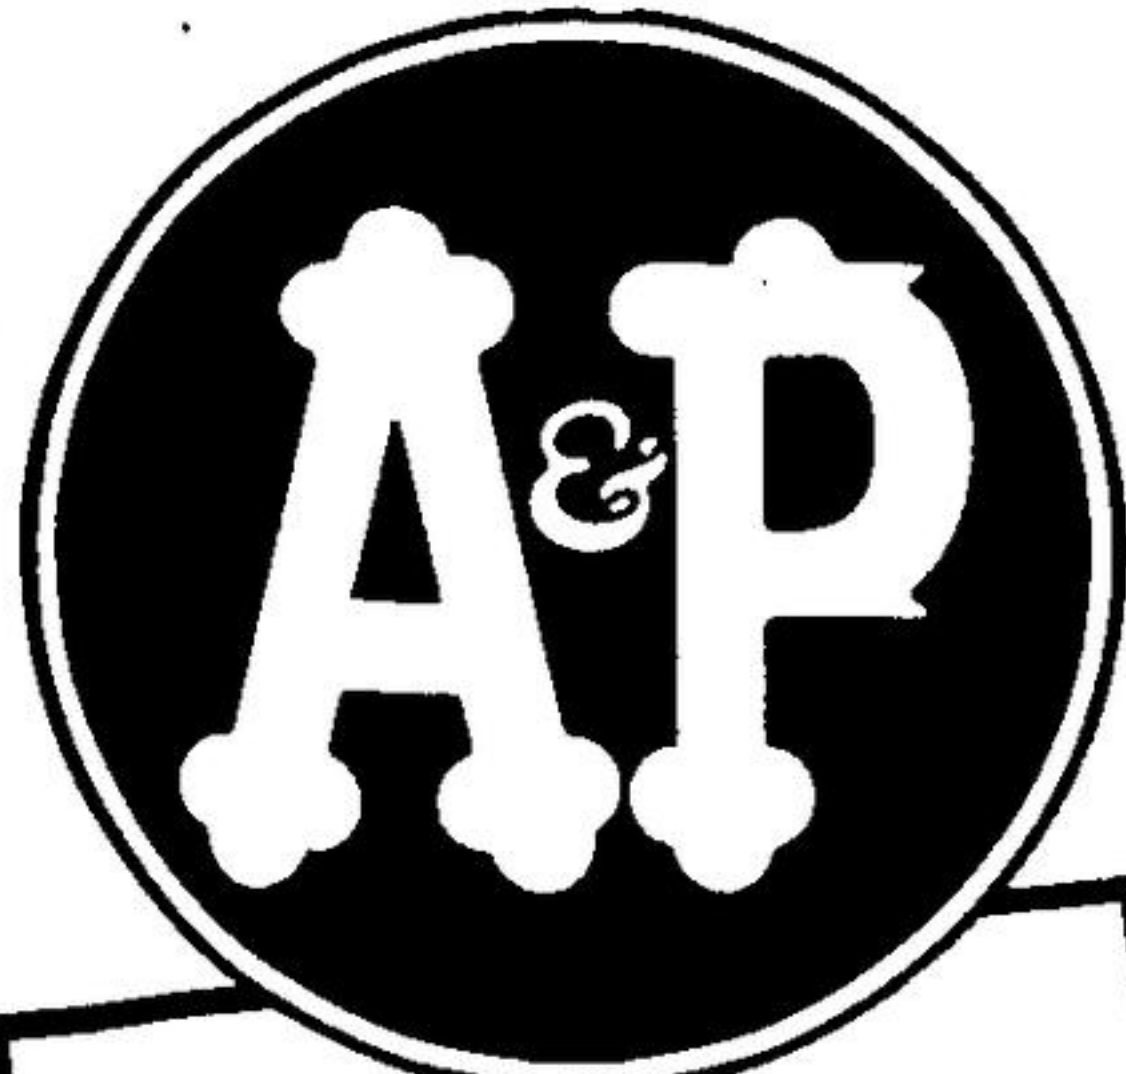

The dancers were outfitted with authentic costumes borrowed from the Ukrainian communities surrounding Georgetown. Joanne Ballantine, Christine Hale, Sophie Jones, Brenda Hyde, Christine Hay, Stephen Smith and Paul Chaplin were the dancers.

The group also included Heather McDonald, Laurie Kentner, Coleen Rundle, Diane Tost, Ross MacFarlane and Mary-Anne McMurdo.
