

Sportsmanship sparkles

Girls drop Dixie visitors

Two Junior girls' teams from the Georgetown Minor Soccer Association played host to two girls teams from Dixie this past weekend at Cedarvale Park. Georgetown's Tomboys downed the Dixie Demons 3-1, while the Supergirls scored an impressive 5-0 victory over the visiting Dixie Celts.

It was not so much the local victories that made these two games so enjoyable, rather the sportsmanship and spirit of friendliness exhibited by players on all the teams which drew rounds of applause from those spectators attending the matches. The Georgetown teams had a noticeable edge in play in the matches mainly because of age difference. The minimum age for girls in Georgetown's soccer is ten years old and not older than 13 for the Juniors, while Dixie had some seven-year-old girls in the line-up. Dixie's maximum age is also 13.

In the first contest for Dixie, Robin Woolsey and Christine Berry displayed good defensive work while goalkeeper Amy Andrews on loan from the Forest Glen Team stood her ground very well in the nets. For the Tomboys, Rosemary Wilcox scored twice, with the single marker being scored by Nancy Diamond. Cindy Mavrou scored the lone Demon goal.

The lineup for the Dixie Demons was as follows; Patti Sugimura, Larua Sack, Carol Styson, Debbie Burke, Tracy Stevenson, Kim Vellianov, Cindy Mavrou, Kim Haley, Christine Berry, Robyn Woolsey and Amy Andrews (Forest Glen).

Filling out the Tomboys' roster were Lenore Newman (Supergirls), Rosemary Wilcox, Shelley Coleman, Kim Stewart, Jennifer Milne, Carole Johnston, Kim Newcombe, Carolyn McCauley, Lynn Cunningham, Cheryl Thompson, Nancy Thompson and Nancy Diamond.

In the second match, little Debbie Wilson of Dixie showed great speed and seemed to be always threatening to break free. Good games from Georgetown's opposition were also put in by Yvette and Yvonne Welser at the halfline and Mary Glancoucas who played a strong game for Dixie. Two seven year-olds from Dixie who showed great courage and marked tenacity were Elizabeth DeYoung and Mary Anne Morley.

Although it was a great day for sportsmanship, talent also came to the fore and for Georgetown's Supergirls, Jenine Tetrault potted two goals, Pat Turner, Valerie Long and Dawn Adams had singles. Lorie Thorpe played excellent on defence and Lenore Newman, played well in net to record the shutout. Playing for the Dixie Celts were; Carolyn Ritchie, Lizzy DeYoung, Debbie Wilson, Kelly Yutu, Paula Gyokery, Lisa Gyokery, Tracy Eilla, Mary Glancoucas, Lynn Conner, Jean Vasilakos, Marjory Merkely, Mary Anne Merkely, Yvette Welser, Yvonne Welser and Kelly Stoyka.

In the line-up for the Supergirls were, Lenore Newman, Pat Turner, Alexis Dender, Geraldine Keen, Dawn Adams, Valerie Longo, Pamela Kent, Lori Thorpe, Janine Tetrault, Gail Shanks and Lynn Fromm.

A DASH to the outside in last Sunday's Ontario Cup game between Georgetown Atoms and York Mills Atoms. Georgetown walked off the pitch with a handy 5-1 win and now awaits the results of the draw to discover who their next opponents will be in the Ontario Cup's second round of competition.

Edward Petrusma, Scott McLaughlin, Gary Richardson and Andy Parent. Wolves' goal was scored by Michel Leblanc.

JR. GIRLS Olympians 1 Red Barons 0

In a real close, even game Sherri Crossman came through with the only goal of the game. Joan Gerrits and Laura Tunney played good soccer for the Red Barons as did Tara Hughes and Kathleen Coe for Olympians.

JR. Nationals 1 Supergirls 1

Karon Willow of Jr. Nationals and Lynn Fromm of Supergirls scored in this close contest. Joanne Searer played well for Jr. Nationals.

SR. GIRLS Red Rockets 0 Blue Bombers 0

A good, tough defensive game. Sylvia Martin for Blue Bombers and Mary Kranjenponc were the goalkeepers.

Ontario Outdoors Coho poor fish for Credit

By Bob Ollivier
Member, Outdoor Writers of Canada

More on the Salmon workshop at Port Credit recently. Joan Rollings communications officer for the Credit Valley Conservation Authority, was on hand to give out information on their work at the Credit River. They gave out some 400 brochures, so my estimate of 300 persons at the meeting was, apparently, short. It was a beautiful, sunny day and Father's Day at that, so that was an exceptionally good turnout.

The MONR was represented by Al Wainio, who stated that there are inherent problems with the Coho program, even saying that some of the fish that were planted in the Humber River died at the mouth, shortly after stocking in that river.

Coho salmon, identified by a black tongue among other things, lives only three years then at the instant they get the urge to 'run to spawn, a physiological transformation takes place and the fish begins to die. This is evidenced by the colour and shape of the fish—with the flesh sometimes coming off the body in chunks—before spawning actually takes place. A general consensus of opinion was that the only way to go after the Coho was in the lake itself.

I went last Saturday with the charter boat out of St. Catharines operated by Ron Penfound and Malte Anrep out of Port Dalhousie on the Twelve Mills Creek. We ran out of the harbour, to where the water dropped off from 60 feet to 120 feet, and started a trolling pattern in a line from the C.N. Tower, which was visible in Toronto to the Niagara River and found fish right off. This style of fishing is still brand new to Ontario and the person who finds the correct formula for taking these fish will make a name for themselves.

Ron and Malte have more than $14,000 invested in their boat and other gear, including rods for the clients they take out, and I feel they are the ones that could do it. I want to be on board when they hit the jackpot. We passed literally thousands of fish that showed up on the sonar chart graph paper. Over 300 feet of water, the fish were still on structure which was a steep drop off, but they were at 25 to 35 feet from the surface. Downriggers get you down quickly and keep your lure in front of the fish.

Why not book in with these fellows and get in on the action? At the worst you get a fantastic boat ride. Next week I hope to have something on the DAMS OF THE CREDIT RIVER.

In the rest of Ontario big muskies are being taken, and the final Bass season opens on Saturday. The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters has compiled a truly great proposal on the Moose management program for Ontario. This book is extremely well written and a well presented brief that went to the ministry for their consideration. As mentioned last week I have a few copies available. The ministry has a book titled "The Moose in Ontario" that is interesting.

Grab Shoes Ltd. of Kitchener, has a series of good little booklets on the outdoors and these are available for the asking at the above address. Well worth getting.

For those of you who are mobile in your camping, you can now get a tabloid-style paper called The Mobile Traveler. This is published for and by Canadians, and is brand new this June issue. I found it very good and met the editor, Jack Davis recently, and recommend it to you. Write P.O. Box 1309, Peterborough, Ontario, K9J 7H7. Tell them I sent you if you wish. It won't do you any good or me either, but they will know where you found out about their paper.

Next week I will also have a review of a book I am reading on one of my favourite subjects; eating. See you next week if not before in Ontario outdoors.

Chinguacousy batters Atoms

Descending into arch rival Georgetown's lair seemed to have little effect on the Chinguacousy Major Atoms soccer squad this past week as they trotted off the pitch with a handy, 3-0 win.

This was the first meeting of the season between these two clubs and Georgetown had expected to do much better.

The first half was played with an air of caution as both teams were testing for flaws in their opponent's defence. Although the score was 0-0 at the half, Chinguacousy was pressing and appeared to have found a weakness in the centre of Georgetown's defence.

It was a combination of heads-up play by Chinguacousy and errors by Georgetown that allowed the visitors the win.

Four Georgettes make county all-star team

The 1975 edition of the Halton County Ladies Softball League All-Star team, as chosen by the league's coaches and managers, was announced this past Monday and the Georgetown Georgettes placed four players on the first team, while the Glen Williams ladies placed three players on the second team.

In view of their team's league standings, as of last Thursday, Mrs. Betty Stafford and Mr. Peter Norton were awarded the positions of coach and manager of the "Dream" team.

The All-Star game will be held Wednesday July 2 at 8.15 in Hillsburgh with defending league champions Hillsburgh taking on the star-studded crew.

Centre fielder Gail Young and pitcher Ev Metler, along with left fielder Nancy Reynolds of Hillsburgh were unanimous choices at these positions. Other first team all-stars chosen included Cathie Keeler, first base, Hillsburgh; Helen Ridell of Hornby and Georgia Lewis of Georgetown tied for second base; Elaine Lewis, third base, Georgetown; Leslie Freeman, third base, Streetsville; Randi Leithwood, right field, Streetsville and Terry Morgan, catcher, Streetsville.

Second team all-stars included, Shelley Dobenham, first base, Streetsville; (second base was tied on first team); Heather Hamilton, third base, Glen Williams, Mary Bullock, shortstop, Hillsburgh; Sue Dixon, left field, Streetsville; Janice Gagne, centre field, Hillsburgh, Debbie Fries, right field, Streetsville; Marion Hancock catcher, Glen Williams and Cindy Stafford, pitcher, Glen Williams.
