

Who's on first? Morty?

TORONTO—Whatever else may be the outcome of the election (and please brother Davis, please, please, please let us have it and get it over with) it certainly appears as though it will be the zaniest on record.

As it shapes up now it seems it may make that old burlesque gag of who's on first look like an elementary lesson in logic.

SAND MAN
First of all the Tories, it seems, will be fielding some candidates who just recently joined the fold and still aren't sure just how blue they are and where, though it seems they may be more blue lips than blue machiners.

Leading the list of new stakes starters is Mayor Mel Lastman of North York, best known across Ontario as owner of the Bad Boy stores - where it has been suggested sand could be sold to Arabs. Mr. Lastman is enthusiastic. But his biggest enthusiasm seems to be his conviction that he will be able to make Premier Davis change his mind about a lot of things. Mr. Lastman, it would seem, is entering politics riding an elephant. Though as to win he may beat former Toronto mayor Phil Givens he may be riding it backwards.

Then out in Scarborough West wearing the blue silks will be Syd Brown. Mr. Brown is used to blue, for he has been a policeman and head of the police association for years. But he has hardly been used to blue as a political elite silk and he too one suspects could be a political buckaroo. He ran once in 1971, as an independent. This time, he says, he likes the Davis anti-violence policies. But along with this one has to wonder what policies he doesn't like, and on consideration there is the suspicion that probably there are a good many. AND SHULMAN

Mr. Brown will be trying to defeat NDP leader Stephen Lewis. Against this the NDP could have a counter-threat in that NDP'er Dr. Morton Shulman wants to run against Mr. Davis in Brampton. But there are several inponderables in this. The chief one being whether the NDP really wants the exotic doctor to run anywhere - for it. To complete the sameness if he did run in Brampton there would be a number of his party colleagues who would give him well-wishes - for defeat.

KIN COURT. The Kinsmen Club of Georgetown donated a hand-made wooden sign to the residents of Kin Court. The huge wooden structure was made by a Kinsmen member, George Riddall. Last Wednesday evening, Mr. Riddall, Rick Earle, Fred Curtis and Paul Milne erected the sign much to the pleasure of the residents. Standing proudly by their new sign are, left to right: Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Sanderson, Mrs. Chapman and Mr. Ross, all residents of Kin Court.

Jane McDowell weds David Bittorf

Jane Christine McDowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Telford McDowell, 30 Raylawn Crescent, Georgetown married David Henry Bittorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bittorf of Acton, on May 24 at Trinity United Church in Acton.

Reverend W. Eric Nelson conducted the double ring ceremony. Mr. George Elliott accompanied soloist, Mrs. Jan Hancock, on the organ. Mrs. Hancock sang the Wedding Prayer and "Walk Hand in Hand with Me."

The bride wore a long Spanish-styled gown made of silk with a bodice of lace and sequins. She wore a floor-length matching train under a long, white veil which was trimmed with lace and a matching headpiece of silk and sequins. She carried a cascade of red roses and Baby's Breath.

Mrs. Bonnie Winfield, sister of the bride, was the matron of honour wearing a long gown of white, eyelet lace over yellow taffeta. White accessories and a yellow picture hat complemented the gown.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon McDowell, sister of the bride, and Miss Pat Bittorf, sister of the groom, with Michelle Timmerman, a cousin of the bride, as flowergirl.

The bridesmaids wore long gowns of white eyelet lace over pink taffeta with white accessories and pink picture hats. The flowergirl wore a long gown of white eyelet lace over yellow taffeta with white accessories and small yellow flowers in her hair.

All the girls carried cascades of pink, white and yellow Carnations with accents of Baby's Breath.

Mr. Robert Bittorf was the best man. Mr. David Pink and Mr. John Last were ushers.

Mrs. Telford McDowell, mother of the bride, wore a gown of pale blue, knitted sheer with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Henry Bittorf, mother of the groom, wore a rose coloured gown with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The reception was held at the St. George's Anglican Church hall in Georgetown with Ted McDowell, brother of the bride, as master of ceremonies. Music was supplied by Harry Arbie.

For the start of their honeymoon trip to Ottawa the bride wore a peach coloured pant suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow orchids.

Previous to the wedding the bride was honoured with numerous bridal showers. Gail McDowell and Bonnie Winfield held a combined personal and linen shower.

Pat Bittorf, miscellaneous shower; fellow employees of the bride from Anthes Business Forms in Brampton held a pantry shower and on May 17, Mrs. Telford McDowell held a trousseau tea for the bride-to-be.

The newlywed couple will be living on 24 Ransom Street in Acton.
