

Council chooses members

Council has selected the members who will act as mediators between the Ontario Housing Corporation and residents adjacent to the proposed five-storey senior citizens complex in the Guelph-Durham Streets area.

Councillor Mike Armstrong, Ern Hyde, Ern Sykes and Mayor Tom Hill will join town planner Mario Venditti in making up the committee which will attempt to solve any site plan problems that might crop up.

They are also going to ask two representatives of the ratepayers in that area to sit on the committee.

Sign for dotted lines

It was a case of town council signing for the dotted lines, instead of on the dotted lines, last Tuesday evening. Council approved payment to Provincial Pavement Marking Services of $5,227.80 for their work over the past three weeks painting white and yellow lines on streets throughout Georgetown and Acton.

Rexway, Normandy sewers approved

A $19,671 tender for storm sewer work on Rexway Drive and Normandy Blvd. has been accepted by town council. Work is expected to begin shortly.

Films in the park

Film "afficionados" should be in their glory this evening as the Halton Hills Public Libraries present the first program in their summer cinema series in Cedarvale Park (weather permitting).

The film tonight deals with the Ealing Studios, a group of artists headed by Alec Guinness, who produced such memorable shows as The Ladykillers, The Lavender Hill Mob, The Mob in the White Suit and Whiskey Galore.

Admission to the show is free. The local library has scheduled a number of these programs throughout the entire summer and they all are films suitable for the title "family entertainment."

Rainy days can be fun

Rainy days, the villains of summer holidays for children and mothers alike, don't have to be any more.

The Halton Hills Public Libraries have set up a special rainy day program of films for children in Georgetown. Any day that brings with it some heavy rain showers the library will present an hour of films from 2 to 3 p.m.

That goes for any rainy day from now till August 30.
