3 p.m. uniting in marriage Marjorie Ellen Johnson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnson, 14 Churchill Crescent, Georgetown and Larry A. G. Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Norton, 60 Sargent Road, Georgetown.

Standards of white pompom Chrysanthemums and orange Gladioli were on the altar of the church as Rev. Robert Gallagher officiated at a double ring ceremony. The organist was Mr. Fred Edwards, Bramblea, who played the Fanfare from Handel's "Trumpet Voluntaries" as the bridal party moved down the aisle and the recessional for the bride, groom and wedding party as they left the church.

The soloist was Mrs. Ann Shorrocks, soloist at St. George's choir. She presented a solo before the ceremony and the "Wedding Benedict" during the signing of the registry.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a tiered, white chantilly-lace gown over white satin, with long, lilly point sleeves, a white satin ribbon at the waistline with a full skirt extending to the back. Five lace tiers formed a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil, fell from a "french poodle" design headpiece of cascading white flower petals. She carried a bridal bouquet of orange ice roses, entwined with white lace and white satin ribbon. Her sister, Miss Beverley Johnson, was maid of honor. Her two cousins, Misses Susan and Shelly White, were the bridesmaids. All were gowned in orange ice crepe, floor-length gowns, with empire waistlines and round necklines. The wing sleeves were of white eyelet over orange ice crepe. A small band of the same material surrounded the waistlines.

All attendants wore large, white, light straw picture hats, trimmed with orange ice bands and a large orange ice flower on the front.

Each girl carried a nosegay bouquet of white pompom Mums tinted with a large white satin ribbon. The only jewellery worn was a sterling silver charm on a sterling silver chain; gifts from the bride. They also wore sterling silver earrings.

Mr. Brian Van Wyck, a long-time friend of the groom, was the best man, coming from Brantford for the occasion. The ushers were the bride's uncle, Mr. Ted Stigger, and Donald and Dennis Norton uncles of the groom. All were in white jackets and black pants, wearing sterling silver cufflinks, gifts of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left to visit the bride's great uncle, Mr. Wes Brennan, of Haylawn Crescent, who was unable to attend the wedding.

The bride's mother received the wedding guests at the reception wearing a turquoise and gold brocade, floor-length gown, with long sleeves, high matching corsages to accent the colors of their gowns, gifts from the bride and groom.

Centering the bride's table was a lovely wedding cake made by a long-time friend of the bride's family, Mrs. Earl Lince, Georgetown. The cake was topped by the bride and groom decorations used by the groom's only sister on her wedding day.

The wedding cake was all white, with the base surrounded by orange rulle. It was cut with a silver knife used by the bride's mother and father exactly 34 years to the wedding day. A pair of silver candlesticks also adorned the table. They belonged to the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Don White of Georgetown.

The favors at each place were made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ted Stigger, and a family friend, Mrs. Wilf Mino.

The dinner was served by the Anglican Church Ladies of St. George's. Mr. Don White, uncle of the bride, acted as master of ceremonies for the dinner and dance following. At the dinner he called upon Mr. Stan Allen from Milton, long-time friend of the bride's family (who is also holding the honor of being chosen Milton's Citizen of the Year). Mr. Allen gave a short speech appropriate to the occasion.

Following the wedding dinner a dance was held in St. George's hall with the music provided by Dave Smallwood. He also had an anniversary dance for the bride's parents, married 34 years that day, and also for Mr. and Mrs. Omer Wilson of Orangeville, married 35 years.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Kingston and points in that area the bride wore a floor-length gown with a navy bodice top, trimmed with white, with a white bottom falling from the waistline.

She wore a red and white Carnation corsage, white shoes and carried a white purse. The groom wore a navy suit with a white Carnation boutonniere.

Presentations were made to the bride and groom by the employees of Andrew Murray Motors, and by friends at three miscellaneous showers held by friends of the bride; Mrs. George Poulson and Mrs. Gary Stamp at Mrs. Stamp's home, Mrs. Don Norton at her home, and the bride's aunts, Mrs. Ted Stigger and Mrs. Don White, at Mrs. White's home on Heather Court.

The bride is employed in the office of Andrew Murray Motors, the groom at North Halton Ford. The couple reside at 49 Park Street.

Many out-of-town guests attended including visitors from Niagara Falls, Brantford, Woodstock, Callander, Orangeville, Stroud, Burlington, Milton, Brantford, Oakville and Vancouver, B.C.

Honored guests at the ceremony included: the groom's great grandmother, Mrs. Jake Mino, Glen Williams; his grandmother, Mrs. Ted Courtney, Limehouse, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norton, Glen Williams;

Also the bride's adopted grandparents of many years, Mr. and Mrs. John Stigger, King Street, Georgetown; the bride's great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin King from Stroud.

Good to know

"Isn't it Good to Know", a new film which abandons traditional story lines to involve the viewer in the life experiences of real people, will be presented Sunday, September 14 at the Georgetown Alliance Church, located on 14 Main Street South. The film will begin at 8 p.m.

New arena protection

Despite most of the attention being directed to the new Gordon Alcott Memorial Arena, the old Georgetown Memorial Arena is not being neglected.

The old facility is presently undergoing a general "spruce-up". A request was made by Pat Sheehan, facilities superintendent for the recreation department to the general administration committee for a protective see-through, plastic shield to be installed around the sideboards. The see-through plastic would replace the wire mesh.

Mr. Sheehan also pointed out that the cost of installing the plastic would not exceed $3,000 and that in fact the expense is covered by this year's budget.

The general administration committee agreed that the older facility cannot be neglected but must be maintained and kept in usable condition and gave Mr. Sheehan the go-ahead for the installation.

WILLIAM A. JOHNSON

Your Community Candidate

HALTON - BURLINGTON N.D.P.

Bill Johnson has dedicated his life to protecting those things that are worthwhile and enduring about his and your community. He deeply believes in retaining a quality of life that is sensible for us and future generations. Bill was born in Hull, England in 1922. He served his country as a parachutist in the Commandos during World War 2. In 1952, Bill, his wife Mary and their two children, Malcolm and Lynn, emigrated to Canada and selected Nassagaweya as home in 1955.

Since that time he has worked tirelessly to protect the environment of Ontario from senseless erosion and pollution. He helped found G.U.A.R.D. (Group United Against Rural Dumping). As Director of the Ontario Garbage Coalition, he has been a major voice, instrumental in preventing garbage dumping in many sections of Ontario. William A. Johnson, through his research, briefs and subsequent accomplishments is recognized as an expert in areas of environmental concern.

During the election campaign his concern for the environment will be shown by not adding to the intolerable cluttering of our countryside with election signs on public property. He has promised to remove all signs placed on the property of supporters immediately after Sept. 18. Bill is eager to meet and listen to concerned citizens of Halton-Burlington. With your help he pledges to preserve and build on what is good in your community.

As your voice in Queen's Park William A. Johnson will take your concerns and his acknowledged expertise as an environmentalist and community activist to work for Halton-Burlington.

William A. Johnson believes:
— Housing at reasonable cost is a social right not a vested interest.

— QUALITY EDUCATION is essential to a well-balanced community. The decision making process must be returned to the local level with input from all persons affected.

— SENSIBLE LAND USE that preserves agricultural land and recreational space must go hand and hand with urban expansion.

— REGIONAL GOVERNMENT can only work if local voices are heard in decisions that affect their lives. No new regional governments should be established until the weaknesses of the present areas have been eliminated.

William A. Johnson needs your support. With your help he will be your voice in Queen's Park.
