

LIP funds may sponsor town-wide clean-up campaign

In the nick of time the town has applied to the federal government for a grant, under the LIP (Local Initiative Program) program, for money to carry out a general clean-up campaign of town-owned property throughout Halton Hills.

With the deadline (Feb. 12) just three days away town council during its subsidiary planning board meeting approved a recommendation by Councillor Harry Levy that the town make a preliminary request to the federal government for funds for a clean-up program.

Areas which Councillor Levy mentioned could be included in the overall program would include the Silver Creek park on Highway 7, and the creek valley running through Georgetown.

Because of the need to get the request in by the deadline complete details about the manpower or the money that would be required for the program were not outlined.

"If they accept our original application then the details can come later," said Mayor Hill. "At least this way we get inside the door."

Councillor Joe Hurst pointed out that by leaving out the specific details for the time being the program can be geared specifically to the town's requirements by the town's staff.

"It can be as large or as small as we want it to be," he said. "It will certainly enhance our community either way."

Adopt South American children

Very special commitments have been made by members of the Georgetown community to some of the millions of needy children throughout the world. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reynolds and Mrs. M. Hester Blaney have each adopted a child in South America through the Foster Parents Plan.

Francisco Carrera

For Mrs. Blaney her adoption of 10-year-old Maria Adela Pulido, who lives in far-away Bogota, Columbia, is the second child she has wished to aid with financial and material assistance. Mrs. Blaney has been supporting Nguyen Thi Hue of Viet Nam for a number of months.

The Reynolds have adopted little Francisco Carrera, aged seven years of Chimboite, Peru.

These local foster parents' monthly contributions of $17 brings materials and financial assistance to both child and family and is aimed at strengthening the family unit by helping each member.

$17 a month provides the family with a monthly cash grant, distribution of goods such as vitamins, blankets, towels, soap, and other useful items, medical and dental care, the sustained guidance and counselling of social workers and the benefit of special programs. A strong emphasis is placed on education. All foster children (and their brothers and sisters, if possible) must attend school.

Foster Parents Plan is currently working in 11 countries in South America, Asia and Africa. Over 60,000 children are currently being aided. For more information contact Foster Parents Plan of Canada, 153 St. Clair Avenue West, Toronto, M4V 1P8.

New minister at Baptist Christian Fellowship

Reverend Das Sydney

The congregation of the Baptist Christian Fellowship Church welcomed their first full-time pastor at their service Sunday September 7.

The Reverend Das Sydney has taken over the church that meets in George Kennedy Public School on Weber Drive.

Rev. Sydney was born in India gaining his education in Ethiopia, East Africa and at the University of Ghana, West Africa. Completing his undergraduate work before coming to Toronto he then received his B.Sc. from the University of Toronto and later his B.D. from McMaster University.

While attending McMaster University he was a student pastor at the Acton Baptist Church and was ordained on August 8 with many members, friends and associates sharing in the ordination services.

Rev. Sydney has now accepted a call from the Baptist Christian Fellowship Church, making his work a two-point charge.

Rev. Sydney participated, along with many of the members of his new church, in an experimental camping session at Terra Cotta Conservation Area.

One member of the church explained, "We have kept the camping close to home, so that those young and old who do not have the proper equipment could come anytime."

The weekend was very rewarding according to the participants.

Ranch operator wants addition to facilities

The days are gone when the old run-down bunkhouse was an important part of any ranch. Today they're called "additional residences for agricultural purposes."

They're far from run-down and they just might house not your rough and tough cowboys, but young women.

Farms Ltd., a 200-acre horse ranch on the west halves of Lots 9 and 10, Concession 2 in the former township of Esquising.

General manager of the farm, Andy Thompson, told the planning board that the new building would have four bedrooms, a kitchen, washrooms and a living room. It would be used by four girls who would be full-time members of the staff.

At present there are six employees involved in the raising and training of the farm's horses but it's expected that a total of 12 will eventually be involved.

There are approximately 80 horses on the Barcrest holdings including thoroughbred race horses and high class show horses.

Because of past problems about the definition of a "bunkhouse", arising from a request for a similar type of building at Meadowglen Mushroom Growers' Glen Williams plan, the planning board delayed granting approval to Barcrest until a full report is received from the town's building inspector and planning department.

WHAT A TURNOUT! Well over 600 people turned out for the Georgetown and District YWCA-YMCA registration night held Wednesday evening. Registrations for the various programs will continue for at least another two weeks.

600 register for 'Y' fall programs

With close to 600 people from Halton Hills registering for courses and classes offered by the Georgetown and District YWCA-YMCA it looks as if the 'Y' will have another active and productive year.

Registrations for the over 30 programs offered began last week and will continue for at least another two weeks. Up to last Friday 586 people registered, which is an increase of about 60 from last year's total registration. And with another two weeks left the increase is predicted to be a great deal higher.

Jo Lister, executive director for the YM-YWCA was enthused with the number of registrars. "It was a really good registration. We are all so pleased with the turnout," stated Jo.

Jo feels that there are a number of reasons which contributed to the increase of participants, one being that the 'Y' offers a variety of programs which cover almost every popular hobby, interest, as well as a number of physical recreation programs.

"Home-making courses, such as quilting, macrame, etc. have become very popular and are in great demand. Other very demanding classes are those offered in connection with physical fitness. More people are becoming aware of the need to become physically fit," explained Jo.

She also attributed the excellent instructors chosen for the courses, reasonable fees and the babysitting offered at the 'Y' as reasons for their success.

Five programs have already been filled to capacity. However, the 'Y' still has openings in a number of other classes.

So, with registration continuing for at least another two weeks there is still time, to take time, and do something for yourself.

Hospital administrator praises planners' foresight

The September meeting of the IODE was held last Monday at the home of Mrs. A. Dean, 6 Irwin Crescent. Miss Ruth Evans welcomed everyone and Mrs. E. Wilson, assistant secretary, recorded the minutes.

Minutes of the June meeting were read and approved. An executive meeting was held in August and the bridge committee held a meeting. The chapter will again be selling Christmas cards and supplies.

Mrs. J. Ross was welcomed as a new member by the regent, Miss Evans. A layette is being assembled. Members are requested to bring articles to the October 6 meeting.

Mrs. E. Forgrave read the winning essay, submitted by Mary Lynn Morrow. Her subject was "A Great Canadian-Timothy Eaton."

Mrs. A. Dean introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Fred Morris, administrator of the Georgetown District Memorial Hospital. He gave a brief history of the hospital, praising the foresight of planners in acquiring 17 acres of land which eventually provided ample room for the hospital's expansion.

That new addition to the hospital facilities will eventually provide a total of 250 to 300 active treatment beds. At the moment the new lab, X-ray area, and part of the new hospital wing are air conditioned and it's hoped that the rest of the hospital will be air conditioned later.

The new medical building opened last week, staffed by local doctors. A great deal of new equipment has been installed in the new hospital addition Mr. Morris noted, and it's hoped that an internist will be added to the staff at a later date.

The IODE chapter is presently co-ordinating plans for a donation to the hospital. The guest speaker was thanked by Miss M. Mackenzie. Mrs. J. Turnbull, Mrs. G. Furness and Mrs. G. McGillvray assisted Mrs. Dean with the lunch.

Mrs. E. Forgrave expressed the thanks of the chapter to their hostess.
