

Mr. Dressup is returning

Mr. Dressup is coming back to Georgetown! On Saturday, September 27, there will be two performances at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

As Mr. Dressup Ernie Coombs, star of the popular CBC children's television show, now in its tenth year will perform a live stage show designed specially for young children, on stage, as on TV, Mr. Dressup invokes the child's rich imagination to enhance his enjoyment of the show.

On stage with Mr. Dressup will be his famous "Tickle Trunk" an almost magic repository for all sorts of props and costumes. From the contents of this fantastic trunk, Mr. Dressup builds his repertoire of characters, songs, and make-believe situations, which so delight his young viewers.

Music and audience-participation are featured in the show as well, with the children frequently joining Mr. Dressup in songs, and offering enthusiastic suggestions and commentary throughout the performance.

Tickets are available from members of the University Women's Club.

All submissions will become the property of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority and must be in to the authority's Meadowdale offices by October 31.
