

A $10,236 DONATION. Edward and Hazel Schroeder of Terra Cotta held an auction sale of their surplus antiques on Thanksgiving Day and raised over $10,000. The Brampton chiropractor and his wife then donated the total raised to Kennedy Road Tabernacle in Brampton.

Donates to church

Two avid antique collectors from Terra Cotta, Edward and Hazel Schroeder held an auction sale of their surplus antiques on Thanksgiving Day and raised over $10,000. The Brampton ward a chiropractor at Schroeder Chiropractor Clinic in Brampton, donated the $10,236 raised at the sale, to Reverend Ron Stevens of the Kennedy Road Tabernacle in Brampton.

Edward and Hazel, their four-year-old son and their three-year-old daughter are members of the Kennedy Road Tabernacle and Edward explained why he donated the large sum to the church.

"Well, the purpose of the auction was to raise money for the church's new senior citizens' apartment building and the new sanctuary. They were badly needed funds and with the opening to be on October 20 these funds are needed immediately," stated Mr. Schroeder.

Hazel explained that her and her husband have been collecting antiques for a number of years now and over the years they have duplicated on many of their articles.

"Before we knew it we had a pile of antiques sitting in our garage. Over the years your tastes change towards antiques, you collect more than they just keep piling up collecting dust. Anyway we had all these antiques so we thought there couldn't be a better way to try and raise some money," stated Mrs. Schroeder.

Approximately 300 people from various parts of the province, turned out to the auction which was held at the Schroeders' home located on 65 acres of woodland, along the Credit River just on the outskirts of Terra Cotta.

Edward explained that there was one couple at the auction who were from Wisconsin and who were touring the province and apparently somewhere along the way had heard about the auction.

Auctioning off such items as brass beds, roll top desks, brass bells, silver and gold pocket watches etc. was auctioneer Don Reinhart of the Brampton-Snelgrove area.

Come To Church

GEORGETOWN ALLIANCE CHURCH
Evangelical
14 Main St. S.
Pastor Peter Ralph
10 a.m. Sunday School
11 a.m. Morning Worship
7 p.m. Evening Worship
Everyone Welcome
"Come make our church your church"

Immanuel Lutheran Church
Windsor Road at Carole St.
Rev. Harold R. Patzer
9:45 a.m. Sunday School
11 a.m. Worship Service
Church of the Lutheran Hour

MOUNTAINVIEW BAPTIST CHURCH
Holding forth
"THE WORD OF LIFE"
Minister: Rev. Tom Breitford
Organist: Mrs. W. Townend
9:45 a.m. Church School
11 a.m. Morning Worship
Wed. 7:30 p.m. Service
EVERYONE WELCOME
Conservative & Evangelical

CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH 7th Line
Rev. J. W. Postman
Services
10:00 a.m. & 4:30 p.m.
Listen to CHIN FM (Dial 103)
BACK TO GOD HOUR
Sundays 8:00 a.m.
Also CKFH (1430)
11:30 a.m.

136th ANNIVERSARY ST. JOHN'S UNITED CHURCH OF GEORGETOWN
Minister: Rev. Harold T. Martin, B.A., M. Div.
Mr. Dale Wood, ARCT Organists Mrs. Shirley Inglis
11 a.m.
Guest Speaker: The Rev. Ian M. Fleming, B.A.
Reception following service.
11 a.m. church school for all ages, nursery care,
9:30 a.m. Glen Williams Morning Worship

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH ANGLICAN
Rector: The Rev'd R. Gallagher, B.A., S.T.D.
SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26 TRINITY XXII
8 a.m. The Eucharist
9:15 a.m. Family Eucharist
11 a.m. Morning Prayer
Church school - 9:15 and 11 a.m.
Nursery service 9:15 and 11 a.m.

Halton Hills Pentecostal Assembly
Sunday, October 26th
10 a.m. - FAMILY SCHOOL - "On the Move in '75"
11 a.m. - MORNING WORSHIP - Topic - "Does it hurt?"
7 p.m. - EVENING FELLOWSHIP
Topic - "Blessed Assurance"
WED. 7:30 - MISSIONARY NITE
QUEENSWAY CATHEDRAL TORONTO
NOV. 2 - YOUTH DAY - Rev. John Tinlin

Maple Avenue Baptist Church
177 MAPLE AVE., GEORGETOWN
PASTOR: REV. R.C. LOHNES
ASSOC. PASTOR: REV. D.R. GORRIE
9:45 a.m. Bible School with a class for everyone
11 a.m. Morning Worship Service
4:30 GOSPEL SING featuring "THE GALILEANS" plus own own talent
IN AFFILIATION WITH
Your are welcome to attend these services.

Georgetown administrator attends OHA conference

Fred Morris, administrator of the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital will be one of the several representatives of the Georgetown Hospital to attend the 1975 Ontario Hospital Association convention.

Mr. Morris will be joined by Mrs. A. Pace, director of nursing; Dr. Bruce Duff, chief of the medical staff; Mrs. Diane Wolder, dietitian; Mrs. Jean Davis, physiotherapist, plus other heads of the various departments and board members will attend the conference.

"The Human Hospital" is the theme for this year's convention which will be held at Toronto's Four Seasons-Sheraton Hotel from October 27 to the 29.

In addition to the general sessions which are open to all the delegates, meetings for specialized health personnel belonging to the over 20 sections of the OHA will be held during the three days.

Mrs. Pace, Dr. Duff, Mrs. Wolder and Mrs. Davis plus other delegates from Georgetown will participate in these meetings which are primarily aimed at getting these professionals together for an exchange of ideas as well as listening to various guest speakers.

The Georgetown and District Hospital is a member of the Ontario Hospital Association, a non-profit organization of hospitals in Ontario, along with many private institutions and other health care organizations.

The annual convention is one of the many education programs organized for hospital staff and trustees by the OHA, with the aim of developing and maintaining the highest standards of health care for the people of Ontario.

Over 8,000 delegates from the 250 public hospitals in Ontario and from hospitals and health care associations in other parts of Canada and the United States will attend the convention which will include lectures, panel discussions, group meetings and an exhibition of modern hospital equipment.

Among the many distinguished speakers at the convention will be the minister of health for Ontario, Frank Miller, Arthur Maloney, Q.C., the recently appointed ombudsman for the province and Mrs. Justice Emmett Hall, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

During the convention, Mr. A. Stouffer Jones, a trustee of Greater Niagara Falls General Hospital, Niagara Falls, will complete his one-year term of office as president and Mr. Donald A. Robertson, administrator of South Waterloo Memorial Hospital, Cambridge, will be installed as president for the 1975-76 term.

Among the many distinguished speakers at the convention will be the minister of health for Ontario, Frank Miller, Arthur Maloney, Q.C., the recently appointed ombudsman for the province and Mrs. Justice Emmett Hall, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

During the convention, Mr. A. Stouffer Jones, a trustee of Greater Niagara Falls General Hospital, Niagara Falls, will complete his one-year term of office as president and Mr. Donald A. Robertson, administrator of South Waterloo Memorial Hospital, Cambridge, will be installed as president for the 1975-76 term.

Plans ready for Remembrance Pk.

Remembrance Park will be in perfect shape for November 11 Remembrance Day Services.

The pond at the park had become overgrown with weeds. With the lower water tables in the area the water level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

Construction of new homes drops

Starts on new houses in Halton Hills came to a grinding halt during the month of September according to the monthly building report from the town's building department.

Permits for new homes being built under plans of subdivision amounted to only two for a total of $60,000. Five other single family homes were granted permits, for a total of $190,000.

Total value of construction that has taken place during the first nine months of this year amounted to $12,400,812.95. That consisted of 658 different construction projects the largest number of which have been single family dwellings.

Fifty-three building permits were issued during September with a total value of $1,1045,000.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

Dredging would have to be done to remove the accumulation of silt and quick sand that has fouled the lower pond and a gravel base installed to discourage further weed growth.

The works department will be budgeting for funds to rejuvenate the park for future use by the people of Georgetown.

level was barely high enough to support the insect life that used the park.

The works department agreed that something must be done with the park to restore it to the beauty it once had.

After an inspection by the works committee and works personnel last week it was decided to fill the ponds with water to close out the season at the park for the Remembrance services.

"Next year we can plan how to handle the problem," explained works committee member Mike Armstrong when asked if artificial cement ponds were a viable solution to beautifying the downtown park.

"It is too late in the season to begin work now," added town engineer Robert Austin.

MAURICE SOLWAY, violinist, teacher, composer, music educator and actor, played to the delight of the music enthusiasts present at Sunday evening's performance held at the Knox Presbyterian Church.

Delight A love of music

Maurice Solway—violinist, teacher, composer, music educator, actor—who has been characterized by one critic as "one of the finest pupils of Ysaye", came to Georgetown last Sunday evening, much to the delight of local music enthusiasts.

Presented by the Halton Hills Libraries and the Halton Hills Music Association and held at the Knox Presbyterian Church hall Mr. Solway presented the film "The Violin" in which he starred, discussed the movie, and then played his violin, much to the admiration of the spectators.

Maurice Solway was born in Toronto of Russian parents. From the age of six he began to study music. At the age of 15, Maurice entered the Bachelor of Music course at the University of Toronto and at the same time became one of the youngest members of the violin section of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

Following this, Mr. Solway went to Brussels where he was accepted as a pupil by the renowned Belgian Master, Eugene Ysaye. There he studied in the company of such famous artists as Nathan Milstein, William Primrose and Josef Gingold.

Mr. Solway has composed over 60 compositions for violin and piano. At present Mr. Solway devotes his time to travelling, teaching, composing and performing in public. He recently completed a book, which describes his new method of violin playing.

Eugene Ysaye once described Maurice as "There is heart and life in Maurice Solway's playing. He knows how to charm the emotions of his audience and above all, he must be appreciated for his taste and sincerity."

SONY
Complete Line Sales & Service Authorized Dealers
WIGO
TELEVISION AND APPLIANCES
40 Main St. 877-3376

GEMINI
vs.
STREETSVILLE
SAT. OCT. 25th
7:30 P.M.
Game Ticket No. 7
Gordon Alcott Arena

SHOP AND SAVE AT SILVER'S
IN DOWNTOWN GEORGETOWN

MEN'S HEAVY KNIT
TURTLE-NECK PULLOVERS
Extra special $5.00

MEN'S STURDY PLAID
FLANNEL SHIRTS
Extra special $1.99

MEN'S HEAVY THERMAL
SPORT SOX
With striped tops
Extra special 66¢

BOYS' 100% ACRYLIC
CREW NECK PULLOVERS
Sizes 4 to 6x
Reg. 2.98 and 3.98 NOW $1.99

AN EXCELLENT SELECTION OF
GIRLS' PULLOVERS & CARDIGANS $2.38 to $4.78
Sizes 4 to 14
Reg. 2.98 to 5.98 NOW

HALF-PRICE SALE!
A GROUP OF
LADIES' LEATHER COATS
Reg. 45.00 to 150.00
NOW $32.50 to $75.00

HALF-PRICE SALE!
A GROUP OF
LADIES' SLIMS $7.50 to $9.98
Reg. 15.00 to 19.95 NOW

MEN'S ZIP-LINED
ALL-WEATHER COATS
Reg. 39.95 to 55.00
NOW $31.96 to $44.00

MEN'S WINTER-WEIGHT
SUBURBAN COATS
in checks and solid camel
Reg. 39.95 NOW $29.95

BOYS' NYLON
SKI JACKETS $7.20 to $9.60
Sizes 8 to 16
Reg. 9.98 to 12.00 NOW

BOYS' PILE-LINED
STORM COATS $15.98 to $23.20
Sizes 8 to 18
Reg. 19.98 to 29.00 NOW

Clergy Comments

The great teachers

By Rev. D. R. Gorrie, Associate Pastor, Maple Avenue Baptist Church

The teaching ministry of Jesus was exercised on three levels. Sometimes we see Him involved in great campaigns, speaking to as many as 10,000 people at once. At other times we see Him in the midst of an interested group of disciples. But He is seen at His best person-to-person encounter. As an example, let us go back to that spring evening long ago when a member of the Jewish ruling party sought out Jesus at the home where He was staying in Jerusalem.

This man, Nicodemus, had everything going for him—yet there was a restlessness within Him. He felt himself drawn to Jesus in a way that he could not deny. He had come to certain conclusions about Jesus, but other questions remained unanswered. Somehow he had come to feel that if he could only talk with Jesus, He would give him the answers!

Notice how he began the conversation, by simply sharing with Jesus the conclusions at which he had arrived. First, he spoke of Jesus' teaching ability. As an experienced teacher himself he recognized in Jesus something that other teachers lacked—a note of personal authority. Jesus spoke as no other man spoke.

Then he expressed confidence in Jesus' ability to work miracles—something sadly lacking in our world today! This was as far as Nicodemus had come in his thinking. Secretly, in his heart of hearts, there was a hope stirring that Jesus was the promised Messiah, the Savior of men, but he hesitated to speak it.

Then Jesus came to his rescue. At first glance it would seem as if He changed the subject, but in reality He answered Nicodemus' unasked question, "Where do I go from here, what do I do now?"

What Jesus said, in effect, was this, "You are convinced that I am the Messiah. What now remains is for you to personally accept me as such. To do this is to enter into an entirely new realm. Do not be perplexed by what I say. Just take my word for it. Just as the physical birth brought you into the physical realm, so another, a spiritual birth, will bring you into the spiritual realm. There is no way into God's kingdom (family) but by that experience described as 'another' birth."

Jesus went on to reveal how this experience was to be made possible. He, Jesus, was to be lifted up—that is nailed to the cross on Calvary. This was the provision of God's love, so that Nicodemus (and others) might have thereby the gift of eternal life through trusting in this divine plan. Let there be any misunderstanding Jesus repeated this offer over and over again.

Jesus could communicate this same message to us in our day. There is still the same need—and, thank God, the same divine provision! We need to see Jesus not only as the great Teacher, the great Physician, but most of all as the divine Substitute—dying that we might live.

Bill Ward
Manager
Georgetown
877-5181

With the good feeling that goes with being a good money manager. Our Royal Certified Service can help you towards that good feeling. It combines 12 useful services in one package. You pay one single monthly fee, instead of separate charges for each banking service. So you can plan your money management. And if you use the service for all it's worth, it can save you money, too.

ROYAL BANK
serving Ontario

Jm BOOKS LIMITED
41 GEORGE STREET S. BRAMPTON 457-9922
Christian Books
Sunday School Supplies
Gifts
Records

Georgetown Denture Clinic
108 Guelph Street
Next to Postoffice on No. 7 Highway
GEORGETOWN ONTARIO
Members Denturist Society of Ontario
J. KOHARI D.T. - J. NOVAK D.T.
"COMPLETE DENTURE SERVICE"
Phone 877-8974 457-6725