Councillors pay cut delayed

That 10 percent pay cut Halton's regional councillors were supposed to have taken in 1976 still hasn't been applied, but regional chairman Allan Masson claims that reports that councillors have been delaying the cut just aren't true.

"Anyways, when it does come through it will be retroactive," he told regional council last week.

There had been published reports that staff had been told to take their time in drawing up the proper legislation permitting the pay cut, but Masson explained that the reason for the long wait, was because a special bylaw which had to be first drawn up by the region's legal department and then passed along to the clerk's department, where it presently is.

It will be coming before council shortly, Masson concluded.

Acton centre broken into Halton Regional Police report the following occurrences for the period 8 a.m. Feb. 8 to 8 a.m. Feb. 23. The Acton Community Centre was entered between the hours of 12:30 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. on Feb. 17. Thieves jimmied the top drawer of a filing cabinet and removed $8 in bills from an unlocked cash box.

Acton Delicatessen reported on Feb. 17th that unknown person(s) kicked in the front door of the shop. No entry was gained.

A Glen Williams man was charged Feb. 16 under the Narcotics Control Act after police discovered in his possession a plastic bag containing a seedy substance.

A McDonald Blvd. resident in Acton reported to police that unknown person removed his license plate and front plate bracket from his car. The license number is HOU 255.

A RR1 Georgetown man was charged by police with theft under $200 after he was caught shoplifting at Zellers County Fair in the Georgetown Market Place, Feb. 19.

A Guelph St. merchant reported to police that approximately 20 gallons of gasoline was stolen from his truck which was parked at the rear of his shop on Feb. 20.

Police charged a Hornby man under the Narcotics Control Act after he was found in possession of a suspected marijuana cigarette following his arrest for impaired driving. The man was charged Feb. 20.

The theft of three front license plates from L&L Ford in Acton is under investigation by police. The plates, which were stolen Feb. 20, are HOU-348, HOU-168 and HOU-425.

A Georgetown woman reported to police Feb. 21 that she had observed a man looking through the bathroom window of her residence.

The theft of a 21-inch B&W television set from a residence was reported to police Feb. 21 by a Hornby resident.

The principal's office of the Georgetown Christian School was the scene of vandalism Feb. 21. Although nothing was taken, the desk was overturned, the bottom broken out of the centre drawer and the desk's contents scattered around the room. Blood discovered on the desk and in various locations in the room led the police, who are investigating the incident, to believe the suspect cut his or her hand.

Lan Lee who plays Captain Bluntschli, John Roe who plays Major Sergius Sarnoff, Steezy Arcuri who plays Lonka, Suzanne DeGroat who plays Raina and Ed Acari who plays a manservant. Bob Lee (not pictured) is directing. Over 50 people are involved in the production.

No A&W sign

Halton Hills work committee Monday night advised the chief building inspector not to issue a permit to A&W Drive-In on Guelph St. in Georgetown to add a sign to their existing sign.

Councillor Hyde felt that the sign as shown on the company's drawing might confuse drivers approaching the traffic lights at the intersection of Guelph St. and Mountainview Road. He also felt that the sign should be on the inside of the existing pole rather than on the outside as shown in the drawing.

Chairman Mike Armstrong felt that the sign, seven feet, two inches high, was not high enough and that it could easily be reached by vandals.
