

Norval Scouts hike home with honours

Miss Beth Laidlaw, Halton Dairy Princess, was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Norval Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Mrs. Grace Crawford on Thursday evening, May 6, with Mrs. Ina Terry presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Amy Burk. Beth gave an informal talk on her duties as Dairy Princess. She is mainly involved in public relations for the Milk Marketing Board.

Mrs. Gladys Chester gave a report of the District Director's meeting and plans were made for attending the District annual meeting to be held at Campbellville on May 18. Mrs. Ina Terry was appointed to present a trophy to the winning Senior choir at Acton on May 12.

Citizenship and World Affairs convenors, Mrs. Marie Murray and Mrs. Gieselle Malchin, were in charge of the program. The rollcall was "Name a troubled spot in the world and why it concerns me". Most members were concerned about the corruption in government affairs in Canada and concern for our education system which led into several interesting discussions.

Mrs. Gieselle Malchin gave the motto "True Internationalism means knowledge of other people, their way of life, traditions and cultures." A committee was appointed to decide on where the W.I. will have their 70th year dinner for the next meeting. Programs for the year are to be handed in at that meeting.

Mrs. Marie Murray acted as auctioneer for the sale plants, cookies, and various items donated after which a lunch of cookies and a social time was enjoyed.

A large crowd of people attended the auction sale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carney, Draper St., Norval, on Saturday, May 8. The sale was for the estate of Mrs. Carney's uncle, the late Mr. Alex McBride of Brampton. It was a good day for those interested in antiques as the sale included many antique items in furniture, dishes, jewellery, etc. The ladies of Norval Presbyterian Church did well at their booth where they sold hot dogs, sandwiches, pie, doughnuts, pop and coffee.

Scouts Bruce Youmans and David Baile brought honours to Norval and to their troop by winning three awards including first place at the Halton District Scout Explorer Hike held on the weekend from May 7 to 9.

There were 40 teams consisting of two scouts from a troop entered in the competitions. They left Limehouse Ball Park at 5 o'clock Friday evening and hiked along the Bruce Trail to a point just outside of Belfountain and returned home on Sunday afternoon. They camped out Friday and Saturdays nights, pitching their own tents and cooking their own meals.

The three trophies won by the Norval team were for first place in the whole hike, winning the big plaque on which their names will be engraved and their troop will be able to keep for a year, and the Explorer Award for getting the highest average of all points. This award is a Scout staff which the Norval Scout troop can keep until the next Scout competition when the winner of the next event will take it home to his troop. This is the first time that the Norval troop has brought home the staff. Each team had to carry their tents, camp stove, cooking equipment, their own food, clothing, etc. in pack sacks on their backs for the hike. They were judged for appearance, camping ability, and stamina on the hike. Extra points could be won for cooking Bannic, for keeping a log book which is like a diary of all events that happened on the hike, and for a map and compass contest where each team was given a map and questionnaire. A compass had to be used to find the answers to the questions.

Bruce and David were among the highest points winners for their log book and for the map and compass contest, and they won highest points for cooking Bannic. David explained that Bannic is something like bread. He said they used Tea Bisk as a short cut to which they added two teaspoons of sugar, some cinnamon and raisins, mixed it all together with some water and cooked it in a pan then the Scouters sampled it. By the time the Scouters sampled Bannic from 40 teams they wouldn't need to carry much food for themselves on the hike.

Norval Scouters Brian Evans and Rob Aarons were among the 20 Scouters from the Halton District who were on the hike with the Scouts. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baile, and Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wray Youmans. They were in high spirits on arriving home on Sunday afternoon with all their trophies, having enjoyed the whole hike immensely. For the first time in several years Norval United Church was full with chairs in the aisle to accommodate the large number of people present for the special Christian Family Day service put on by the Sunday School pupils on Sunday, May 9, with Rev. R. Waller Ridley conducting the service.

The Junior choir sang three selections "Daddy Sang Basa", "Clap Your Hands" and "His a Small World". During the first hymn the children of Marilyn Smith's Primary class gave carnations to all the women and girls in the congregation.

The Kindergarten class with teachers Deborah Dahmert and Cindy Reid, sang two hymns, "God Sees the Little Sparrow Fall" and "Praise Him, Praise Him, All Ye Little Children".

Rosie Laidlaw's Intermediate class presented an excellent skit "Hey God, Listen". The Junior class with teachers Gieve Laidlaw and Ruth Anne Wilson presented slides of Korea, Japan, and Hong Kong, with the pupils taking turns in reading the explanation of the pictures.

Special music was provided by "The Happy Wanderers" choir under the direction of David Esplin. They sang two selections "It'll Be a Friend of His" and "The Battle Hymn of The Republic". There was a good turnout for the service which was followed with lunch and a fellowship time.

"The Happy Wanderers" choir are holding an "open house" in honour of their leader, David Esplin, in recognition of his service to his choir, church, and community for the past 20 years. The reception will be held in the Centennial Building, Mary St., Brampton, during the afternoon and evening of Sunday, May 30. Anyone wishing to donate towards a gift may do so by sending a contribution to Sadie Robison or Mary Mara at 28 Georget St. N. Brampton.

Special speakers have preached the sermon at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Norval, for the past two weeks. Last week John Mair, who teaches history at the University of Toronto, and is the author of the Centennial anniversary book of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, was the speaker.

On Sunday May 9, William Wadley, a lay preacher, and treasurer of the Niagara Diocese, was the guest speaker. Get well wishes are extended to Harold Smellie who is a patient in Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton.

Clayton Kistner, welcomed the babies into the congregation on behalf of the Elders. Following the service the Sunday School teachers and pupils served a lunch of sandwiches and cookies, chocolate milk and coffee, and a fellowship hour was enjoyed.

Rev. Jack Archibald, who has just received his license to be a minister, conducted the Christian Family Day service at Norval Presbyterian Church on Sunday May 9. He will be ordained on May 27 at Bridlewood Presbyterian Church, Agincourt.

Betty Daniels president of Rug Hooking Guild

The members of the Georgetown Rug Hooking Guild have elected their new executive for the coming year. Betty Daniels will head the group as president while Pat Ellis takes on the vice-president's duties.

Hornby grant

The 18-bed residence in Hornby received $59,785.

At an evening candlelight service on March 20, Father Olger Devent joined Janice Mary Carlson and Michael Steven Clendening in marriage at the Holy Cross Church, which was decorated with yellow mums and white daisies.

At the beginning of the double ring ceremony, two candles, representing the bride and groom, were lit. To symbolize their union, the newlyweds lit a third candle together after the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her brother Brian Carlson, was elegant in her flowing, floor-length white gown with chiffon sleeves, and ruffles on the cuffs, hem and V-neckline. Matching ruffles adorned her fingertip-length veil.

The bride's bouquet consisted of five red roses and one white carnation. Single yellow roses were carried by Maid of Honour Louise Boisvenue and Bridesmaid Lizette Clendening, who both wore green eyelet lace halter dresses with matching jackets.

The flower girl, Carol Ann Mitchell, dressed in a yellow and green floral print gown, carried a basket of six yellow sweetheart roses.

Dave Hewer was groomsmen and Victor Godin did the ushering. Guests at the reception, held in Holy Cross auditorium, were greeted by the bride's mother, Mrs. Marion Breen, wearing a brown evening dress with matching jacket, and Mrs. Dina Clendening, mother of the groom, dressed in a blue gown. Both ladies had corsages of white miniature flowers.

En route to Niagara Falls for their honeymoon, the bride wore black dress slacks and a blue silk shirt which set off her corsage of five red sweetheart roses and one white carnation. The newlyweds have chosen Glen Williams as their home.
