Brownies wind up year

On Wednesday, May 12, the First Glen Williams Brownies had their final meeting of the year and their annual Mother and Daughter dinner at St. Alban's Hall.

The mothers had a chance to see some of the work the Brownies had done. On display were unique crafts, work done for badges, and an interesting collection of pictures and stories done by the girls describing Brownie events. The dinner was served by candlelight. The colourful tables were decorated with flowers and placemats and place cards made by the Brownies.

A delicious buffet was brought by the mothers, in addition to hamburgers for the girls. Ex-Brownies from last year returned to help serve the meal and clean up afterwards. They were: Julie Collier, Elizabeth Ramsay, Christine Steinfatt, Claire Shepard, and a friend Robin Dodokin. They were organized by Mrs. Shepherd.

Brown Owl, Mrs. Gwyn Ramsay, welcomed everyone, especially Lori Hunter and her mother who returned from Bramalea and Sheri-Lynn Patterson, who is going to join Brownies next year. Anne Ramsay, thanked the mothers for coming and bringing all the goodies. On behalf of the mothers, Mrs. Ruth Steinfatt replied.

Sandy Gimbel thanked Miss Helen Parker for faithfully preparing everything for craft nights for the Glen Williams Brownies, once a month for three years, and presented her with a gift because she is now retiring.

Janet Ramsay and Kathryn House presented gifts to Tawny Owl, Jenn Roe, who has helped with Brownies for two years and will become Brown Owl and take over the Pack next year.

Diane Lawson made a gracious speech and presented a gift to Brown Owl, Gwyn Ramsay, who is retiring after three years service.

Mrs. Gible led the girls in the annual game to measure their mother's waists after dinner, and $10.07 was raised for the World Friendship Fund.

The Brownies played some games and Tawny Owl led them in a dance demonstration to entertain their mothers.

After the regular opening ceremony, the Golden Bar was presented to Tina Moore, Kelly Wilcox, Angela Moody, Tracy Hancock, Lori Kolaska earned the Golden Ladder and Golden Hands were presented to Anne Ramsay, Diane Lawson and Janet Ramsay.

Badges were earned by a number of girls. Anne Ramsay, Sandy Gimbel, Lori Koloski and Janet Ramsay received Friend to the Birds badges. In addition, Lori Cook and Janet earned Booklover, Collector and Jester badges. Leanne Murray earned Athletes, Cook, Housekeeper,

Gardener and Toymaker; Kelly Roe earned Friends to Birds and Singers; Nancy Service, and Karen Reynolds earned Artist; Tina Moore earned Cook, Housekeeper, Cyclist, Friend to Birds, and Baton Twirling; Lorie Collier earned Toymaker, Booklover, Writer, Cook Weaver and Jester; Kathryn House earned Crafts, Singer, Slater and Artist; Lisa Green earned Artist and Jester;

Julie Anne Hawlings earned Thrift, Beadworker, Needlework, Singer, Cyclist and Athlete; Susan Kerby earned Cook, Writer, Collector and Toymaker; Linda Norton earned Craft; Tracy Moore earned Artist and Skater; Teri Hancock earned Booklover.

Brown Owl conducted the Flying Up ceremony for the Brownies who had completed all their work. Anne Ramsay, Diane Lawson and Janet Ramsay received their wings. The Grand Owl was given for the Brownies to fly out of Brownies and leave the pack, all the mothers who had helped out at the regular Brownies meetings, the guest and Brown Owl. The evening ended with the Brownie closing song and Taps.

Percy Merry School at Hillcrest

by Mrs. John Bellbuddy
At time of writing weather is not being very co-operative. We are getting too much rain and cold winds. The farmers and gardeners can't plant seeds nor get ahead much; only the grass keeps growing. But warm weather is sure to come and then things will flourish.

One Sunday afternoon recently everyone present enjoyed the wonderful music by the Percy Merry School Choir who sang in Hillcrest Church. Their two numbers, "The Wedding Banquet" and "Welcome to Spring" were well done by the youngsters and much credit goes to the ones who take the time and patience to train them.

Mrs. Dennis Zoppa and her six-month-old son, Christopher flew from Kamloops BC for a ten-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blackett, who were thrilled to entertain their first grandchild.

Congratulations and good wishes go to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson who were 51 years married on May 20. Also congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham on their 42nd on June 16. To these fine couples we wish many more anniversaries.
