Crackdown urged Monday on roadside business

Coun. Ern Hyde wants the town to crack down on persons operating transport businesses from the sides of roads in Georgetown.

"Roads and shoulders should not be allowed to be used as terminal warehouses," Hyde told the works committee Monday evening.

"It's a serious situation on Arletta Street," he said. "It's causing a lot of miserable situations for the neighbourhood and the roads and ditches are deteriorating rapidly."

He added that the parking lot of the Georgetown Market Place, "is being abused by tractor trailers."

Hyde called upon the chief building inspector, Doug Sargent, to report on what people are permitted to do and if there exists a bylaw to prohibit the operation of transport business on public roads, to determine who should enforce it.

Mike Armstrong, chairman of the works committee, suggested that if a bylaw exists, the town clerk ought to be the one to interpret who is to enforce it.

Deputy-engineer Ted Ballinger told the works committee he would be meeting with the town clerk to discuss the matter Tuesday morning.

Hyde opposes sixplex

Coun. Ern Hyde was the only member of council to voice opposition to allowing the conversion of a Church Street fourplex to a sixplex last week as council prepared to send the matter on to the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB).

"I am very much opposed," Coun. Ern Hyde told council. "The official plan amendment was to encourage redevelopment of the downtown core with the purpose in mind that someone would assemble land and make it high density making room for open space required."

He said someone is taking "advantage" of the official plan and "asking for a density never intended."

Coun. Roy Booth added that he could not see any reason for opposition when lands in the core area could be in greater demand in 25 years.

Council learned the the project was the owning of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority which offered no objection.

A letter from the regional planning office has been sent to the Ontario Municipal Board and council agreed that the proposal conforms with the official plan.

You know when someone tells you to take a walk? Maybe they've got the right idea.

Child dies after accident

A sixteen-month-old boy died Sunday after being struck by the front wheel of a car driven by his aunt in the driveway of his parents' home.

Joel Michael David Cameron was rushed to Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital by his father, Robert Cameron, at 12:45 p.m. Sunday, from their home on the Fifth line, then transferred to Sick Childrens Hospital in Toronto where he died about two hours later.

Police say the mishap occurred when the child, un-noticed, approached the car of his aunt, Mrs. Lynda Dawn Gillett, R.R.2, Stewarttown, as it was reversing and was struck by the front wheel.

A private funeral service was held yesterday (Tuesday).
